Attendance: The lecture will be given only once. You are responsible for the information given in class. It is the opinion of your instructor that it is a serious mistake to miss class, and he knows what he is talking about. It is also a mistake to show up late and it is rude.

Calculators: You will need a financial calculator.

Assignments: At the end of each chapter there is an extensive list of problems of varying difficulty. At a minimum you should always think through the question at the end of each chapter, and work the problems after the chapter for which answers are provided on book’s website: www.wohlpublishing.com/emery/students.html. Additionally, by way of advice, you should work problems until you know you have it. If there are problems you would like to see worked in class, ask and it shall be given.

Academic Honesty: It is expected that any work you hand in will be work that you did. It is also understood that people often work with others on homework. Whatever help you may receive from others, the work handed in needs to be your work and not copied or simply modified from others or the internet. If you have significant conversations with anyone regarding any work handed in, (including your instructor), those conversations should be footnoted or referenced appropriately. Plagiarism, including quoting without using quotation marks, is a form of cheating. It is very important that you read, understand, and do your work consistent with Xavier’s policy on plagiarism.

If it can be shown that you turned in answers that were not your own work, I will do what I can to have you removed from the class.

All information is subject to change and probably will!

We shall not grow wiser before we learn that much that we have done was very foolish.
