

I Am From Earth

I am from where each season brings a new way to live and where going outside makes you inhale deeply due to the soothing smells of the air and where you can roam freely looking upon the creatures around and where you can feel like the earth is making you feel like you belong.

I am from where my skin burns when I sit outside for 3 minutes, where cooking is a favorite pastime, and family love.

I am from a world where I'm told I get to live free with "no issues" and "nothing to fear or worry about."

I am in a place where we don't all get along and it should be the opposite.
