

I am from the rich smell of dirt, the running stream, and corn cobs.

I am from mass of Sunday morning to hillbilly porch sitting in the afternoon.

I am from the modest and down to earth white class.

The ones who see hope in a better future for America.