Course Description

This course is an application-oriented introduction to the principles of marketing. Marketing involves exchanges. The activities involved in marketing products, services, and ideas are examined within a framework of customer management. Topics include global marketing environment, market analysis and segmentation, consumer behavior, product development and management, pricing, promotion, and distribution. Marketing is examined from its role as a central function of business and non-profit organizations, and from its dominant role in a market economy.

Student Learning Objectives

- To understand basic marketing concepts and the role of marketing within organizations and in the marketplace.
- To understand the factors which determine markets and market segments, and what makes a market segment a good target market.
- To become familiar with the primary tools used by marketing managers to create and implement customer-oriented marketing strategies, and how these are used to reach targeted markets.
- To understand the necessary relationships between a firm’s targeted market segment and its product, price, distribution and promotion.
- To recognize the importance of defining and implementing ethical standards and policies of social responsibility that will create enduring relationships between firms and their customers and work to the general benefit of society as a whole.
- To learn skills and competencies needed to develop and prepare a marketing profile of a company.

Required Textbook

Criteria for Grading and Grading Standards

There will be three exams, equally weighted and non-cumulative. Examinations will be comprised of a mixture of multiple-choice and short-answer/essay questions. Exams will cover lectures and assigned textbook readings. Each exam will be worth 25% of your final grade. Students absent for exams must provide written third party documentation of unforeseen and unavoidable circumstances in order to be eligible to take a make-up exam. There will be a class project where individual students or teams of two students are responsible for conducting a written marketing profile of a specific company.
Total points for the course are 400, divided as follows:

Exam 1 100
Exam 2 100
Exam 3 100
Marketing Profile Paper 60
Class participation 40

Further, the grading scale is:

- >372 points (>93%) A 292-307 points (73%-76.9%) C
- 360-371 points (90%-92.9%) A- 280-291 points (70%-72.9%) C-
- 348-359 points (87%-89.9%) B+ 268-279 points (67%-69.9%) D+
- 332-347 points (83%-86.9%) B 240-267 points (60%-66.9%) D
- 320-331 points (80%-82.9%) B- <240 points (<60%) F
- 308-319 points (77%-79.9%) C+

Blackboard Communication

Course documents and student grades will be available on Blackboard. Please check Blackboard on a regular basis. Also be sure to download any documents or upcoming PowerPoint slide materials to help facilitate your note taking prior to each class. Further, important course announcements will be posted on Blackboard.

In-Class Participation and Classroom Conduct

Class participation is worth 40 points. Students who are late, absent, or leave early will be penalized through their participation grade. Participation will be graded based on students’ attendance and positive participation/contribution in the classroom. Students are expected to attend class and be in attendance prior to the beginning of class. Please notify me in advance if you must miss any portions of a class. Obviously if you are not here, you cannot contribute. If you miss 7 or more classes, you will automatically receive zero points for class participation.

The class will be taught using a lecturing format with a heavy emphasis on class discussion and participation. You are expected to read the assigned chapter prior to the class meeting for which it is assigned. The value of discussion will be heavily influenced by the participation and performance of each of us. Everyone is expected to contribute on a regular basis. Marketing is best learned by its application. Your knowledge and understanding will be much enhanced through a stimulating exchange of ideas and vocal examination of concepts.

To minimize disturbance to the class, all electronic devices including, but not limited to, smart phones, tablets, and other communication devices are to be turned off both during class and exams. To ensure class continuity and to minimize disturbance, students are expected not to sleep in class. Students risk losing participation grades if found sleeping in the classroom.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is fundamental to the process of learning and evaluating academic performance. Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the following: cheating, plagiarism, tampering with academic records and examinations, falsifying identity, and being an accessory to acts of academic dishonesty. Refer to the University’s Academic Honesty policy, beginning on page 17 of the Student Handbook.

Marketing Profile Paper

You must provide written notice of the organization that you have selected to conduct a marketing profile by September 6th for my approval. Marketing profiles can be done on an individual basis or working with another student. Students are given the freedom to form their own teams, although again this is subject to my approval. Students have the option of turning in their papers anytime after our second exam but they are due on December 6th, the last regular class session of the semester.

When working on the marketing profile, students are encouraged to take the perspective of an independent marketing analyst seeking to identify the strengths and weaknesses of the selected company and determine its market position. Elements in your marketing analysis should include a brief overview of the company, its primary products and services, promotional methods, and distribution strategies. The complete paper should be comprised of 10-15 pages of content (double spaced, 10- to 12-point font).

The outline of the paper is completely up to you. However, if you desire, you may want to adapt/modify the following outline:

I. Executive Summary
II. External and Internal Environment
   1. Brief corporate overview, including brief highlights of the company’s history
   2. Overall marketing philosophy
   3. Description of the company’s markets, products and services, and customers
   4. SWOT analysis
      Company’s strengths and weaknesses
      Opportunities and threats that emerge from analysis of the external environment
III. Target Markets and Marketing Channel Relations
   1. Identification of targeted customers
      Classifications of customer segmentation/target markets
   2. Marketing channel relationships
      Channel strategies used to build relations with customers and their referral sources or suppliers
      Customer relationship management strategies, if applicable
IV. Promotional Strategies
   1. Company’s overall marketing communications strategy
   2. Description of advertising, sales promotions, personal selling, public relations, and other related aspects, such as event marketing, sponsorships, and use of social media
V. Conclusions
   1. Summary assessment of the company’s marketing performance
   2. Important factors contributing to the company’s marketing success (or lack thereof)

Sources for this work should not be overly dependent on one or two sources of information such as the company’s website. Please note that Wikipedia is not an acceptable source for references for this assignment.
