

I am from Cheese and Skylines

I am from cheese and beer,
where skis skinned across the waving water
but then it changed,
to skylines and musicals in the windy air.

I am from a white loving family,
Where catholic values matter.
We pray for health and peace,
To create a better community.

I am from white privilege,
Where we only care about ourselves.
Money is the key to happiness,
So go get some for yourself.

I am from a land of freedom,
Where violence is all around.
Children laugh and play while,
Places are burning down.
