Course description and objectives

This Chinese course is, as the title indicates, an advanced course designed for students who already have knowledge of basic Chinese learned either through taking Intermediate Chinese or through some other relevant experience. The purpose of this course is to facilitate oral practice, allow students to communicate in real-life situations, and have the basic translation skills. The course will cover a wide range of materials, in terms of vocabulary, grammar, listening and writing skills. Students will learn to read and write Chinese texts with minimal help and will learn to translate texts (English to Chinese and Chinese to English) without the aid of pinyin. This advanced course will enable students to be proficient in Chinese for travel and business.

Additionally, the course will integrate Chinese culture into language learning to enhance the understanding of cultural influence on the language.

-Each student is required to attend 2 sessions of long-distance/on-line teaching programs (via www.joinnet / in cooperation with Catholic Fu-Jen University of Taiwan). Each session is 60-minutes in length, and will be recorded. Part of your term grade (10%) is based upon your performances.

The dates for on-line classes will be declared in class.

Academic Honesty - From the Student Handbook 2.3.9.1

The pursuit of truth demands high standards of personal honesty. Academic and professional life require a trust based upon integrity of the written and spoken word. Accordingly, violations of standards of ethical behavior will not be tolerated at Xavier University. These include, but are not limited to cheating, plagiarism, unauthorized assistance in assignments and tests, and the falsification of research results and material.

All work submitted for academic evaluation must be the student’s own. Certainly, the activities of other scholars will influence all students. However, the direct and unattributed use of another’s efforts is prohibited as is the use of any work untruthfully submitted as one’s own.

Penalties for violations of this policy may include, but are not limited to, one or more of the following: a zero for that assignment or test, an “F” in the course, and expulsion from Xavier. The Academic Dean of the college in which the student is enrolled is to be informed in writing of all acts of academic dishonesty, although the faculty member has authority to assign the grade for the assignment, test, or course. If disputes regarding the applicability or enforcement of this policy arise, the student, faculty member and department chair should attempt to resolve the issue. If this is unsatisfactory, the Academic Dean of the college will rule on the matter. As a final appeal, the Provost will call a committee of tenured faculty for the purpose of making a final determination.
