HELLO, BILL--- WILL BE BEST "X" COLLEGE SHOW IN YEARS

SCREAMING COMEDY TO BE PRESENTED AT EMERY ON APRIL 10

Cast Includes All Departments
Of St. Xavier, Five Committees Hard At Work

Primary among Xaverian activities for the coming months stands out the College Show, "Hello, Bill," which is to be staged at Emery Auditorium on Tuesday, April 10, at 8:15 P. M. Five Committees are hard at work to put over what they claim is to be the "best and funniest show in recent years."

The time of the action is during the Spanish American war and the place, a private seaside resort. In order to account for an enforced absence of two months (which is spent in a lock-up) "Bill Fuller" explains to his wife and friends that he has been ordered to Cuba as commander of volunteers. By an unusual coincidence, there is a "real" General William Fuller in the war zone who distinguished himself by his bravery, and the credit for whose exploits goes to "Bill" without question as far as his family and friends are concerned. At the expiration of his sentence, "Bill" returns home in a rented uniform and

ARE SUBJECTS OF DEBATE

Forensics In Tilt Over The Advisability Of Women In Men Colleges

"Resolved, that a system of co-education is conducive to the welfare of both sexes," was the topic debated at the February 28, meeting of the Philopaidian Society. Ray A. Howe, speaking on the affirmative told the benefits that have come to the big universities with the entrance of "co-eds" and of their refining influence upon the male student. Clement J. Schuck, on the negative, argued that the co-ed has not the indefinable charm of the private-school girl and that striving for "mannishness" is the result of co-education.

Different phases of the topic as treated by the debaters, and the introduction of an ecclesiastical authority by the affirmative, provoked quite a discussion in the house, which was almost wholly adverse to the affirmative. The debaters withstood the onslaughts upon their different arguments with credit. The house voted in the negative by a two vote margin.

XAVIER WINDS UP SEASON BY DEFEATING KENYON, 45-22

UP-STATE LADS FAIL TO SOLVE XAVIER'S BASKETEER MACHINE

Several Collegians Played Their Final Court Game For Alma Mater

A record-breaking crowd witnessed Kenyon's defeat when, in their last conference game, the Xaverian basketeurs snatched the long end of a 45 to 22 score, at the local Sycamore St. gym, March 8. The game as the results indicate, proved to be the most overwhelming defeat that the Kenyon engers suffered all season and serves as an ideal finale for the locals.

Realizing that they were participating in the last basket ball tilt for their Alma Mater several of the Avondale collegians went into the game for all they were worth, leaving the visiting opponents utterly at a loss to stage an even battle. Cushing was the outstanding star of the contest for he alone outpointed the opposing team. Small, of Kenyon, succeeded in scoring 18 points.

The season just finished by the St. X. basket ball squad may be characterized as one of stiff practice, pleasant trips, and thrills, as victory was

KATZ TO PLAY AT SENIOR PROM

The first Senior Prom that will be given by St. Xavier College promises to be a most gala affair. The committee composed of Luke Leonard, chairman, James Cushing, Louis Eberts and Irving Hart are endeavoring to make this inaugural dance a representative St. X. event. Xavier has the reputation of giving high class social functions and the latest undertaking from all indications will certainly conform to the standard.

The committee has slightly altered their plans owing to the demand for orchestras on Easter Monday. Instead of the original three only one, Katz's Sinton Hotel Orchestra will furnish the music. Favors also will be given to the ladies. A silver pencil with the "X" engraved will be the token that the Seniors will present to all the fair ones as a remembrance of their first Senior Prom.

The Sinton Hotel French Ballroom in its natural beauty and regal splendor will be the scene of the event. No decorations are needed for this majestic ball room and the boys of 1923 feel as though the decoration money should go toward building those dorms.

A larger attendance is being provided for. The committee and the class are leaving no stones unturned in matters

ARTS

ADDRESSED BY C. PURDY

Show Director Injects Pep Into Avondalers. Freshman Rules To Be Drawn

The monthly meeting of the Liberal Arts Students Assembly was called on March 8.

The feature of the meeting was an interesting address by Mr. Chas. H. Purdy, '15, director of the College play, "Hello Bill." Mr. Purdy told the students of the arrangements being made for the presentation of the play, outlined his plan of action, and asked for the appointment of four committees. These were the Publicity Committee, the Matinee Committee, the House Committee, and the Program Committee. The chair accordingly appointed them.

In a brief but stirring address Eddie Keefe urged the students to co-operate in every way with Mr. Purdy and give their full support to the play.

In behalf of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, Earl Winter thanked the students for their generosity in the past and asked them to keep up

PICTORIAL!

The Xaverian News, conforming to the policy of other years, will include among its fifteen issues, a pictorial number. The product of June, 1922, was, for the price, very much of a bargain. In fact, a financial loss was the result. A result which prompted the faculty to forbid the long sought St. Xavier Annual which most likely would have made its initial appearance under the guiding hand of the present staff.

This year the pictorial will not be as large nor will it cost the students as much. If the student body will show its willingness to co-operate, the pictorial could be published without any extra cost to the student. If it does not the extra charge will be ten cents and twenty-five cents for extra copies.

The members of the Senior Arts and the Senior Law classes are urged to immediately have their noble personages in cap and gown reproduced by the photographer.

SPIRIT OF ENTHUSIASM!

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm," said Emerson. Enthusiasm connotes the vision to see the goal, confidence in our powers to achieve, the buoyant heart to meet and overcome obstacles.

No task is mean to the man who performs the labor his hands find to do with all his might. Enthusiasts may err from an excess of zeal but better so than never to experience the glow and rapture of high consecration to an undertaking we attack joyfully with determination to put it thru.

Believe in something! Do something! Be somebody!

Every St. X man should be identified with some cause that looks to a more perfect realization of St. Xavier. Our Alma Mater's best interests are not furthered by vociferous shouting, but by an intelligent, enthusiastic loyalty that translates itself into terms of understanding and service.

Boost; don't knock! Help; don't hinder!

When a student says to himself, "I hold an inalienable partnership in this college; its prosperity and happiness rest with me," then he has caught the true St. X spirit. Then, indeed, he is a worthy son of Alma Mater and a contributor to the forces that make for her perpetuity.

COLLEGE WEBSTER

Etiquette—A system designed to torture aspiring young society "buds." For example this riddle is proposed. In case you drop your fork on the floor should you throw your knife after it and glare at the head-waiter or should you smile benignly, blush furiously and curse inwardly.

Telephone—An instrument invented by Alexander G. Bell, so that two persons may converse at a distance. The original idea of its creator has been destroyed, it is now an instrument for tapping your pocket-book, trying your patience, and splitting your ear-drum.

Rules of Order—These rules are as baffling as a cross-word puzzle. They contain such enigmas as "An amendment to a motion maybe amended, but an amendment to an amendment may not be amended." The secretary then grins and the "de-liberative body" looks grave.

Stop—A constant source of distress to young collegians. Questions relating to travel to different cities are met with the prompt advice to "call up" the depots or steamship companies.

Street-car—A yellow vehicle in which you are jostled during your entire trip. The cars are designated by numbers, the highest of these represents the Traction Company's hopes in the way of fare.

Doctor's Office—A place where you read the latest periodicals—of Lincoln's time.

Tennis Court—A place where racket is made. The object in the game is to see which player is sunstruck first. His opponent wins.

X-CHANGES

In an exchange received from a college situated in the city of Manila, P. I., we note an account of a thrilling basket ball game with a team composed of Chinese, whose names were Chua Chin Hua, Lim Chu Koon, Sam H. King, Sin K. Koon and C. H. Pian. Pedro Go substituted for Sin K. Koon.

The account of the game says, "It can be said without exaggeration that the clean playing of our boys was a direct contrast to the rough tactics of their opponents. But in the last three minutes of play just to show the Gas boys what we could do if we wanted to, Orespe plightsed several of them to the floor." Hot Dog!

Raleigh, North Carolina. — Henry Garrity, star halfback on the Princeton football team of 1920-21, and coach at the University of Missouri, was elected head coach and director of athletics of Wake Forest College at a meeting recently of the Executive Committee of the board.

New Haven, Connecticut.—Yale has chosen practically the same rowing

Advisory Committee for next year. Fred. W. Allen, 1900, of New York City, is Chairman. He has headed Yale alumni rowing matters since their re-organization ten years ago.

Field training for six weeks, beginning about June 14, is to be given to 500 students from schools in New York, New Jersey and Delaware maintaining Reserve Officers' Training Corps units in the Second Corps area, according to an announcement yesterday by Major Gen. Robert L. Bullard, at Governors Island.

Princeton, New Jersey.—William W. Roper, head coach of Princeton football team for the past several years, will be at Princeton for two years more at least. It became known recently. In the face of persistent rumors that Roper would resign because of the pressure of private affairs, it was announced here by George H. Murray, graduate Treasurer of the Princeton Athletic Association, that the popular coach has signed a contract for the next two years.

IN THE CHIEF'S MAIL BOX

Editor-in-Chief:

In the March 1, issue of the Xaverian News there appeared an editorial referring to the tennis courts. I am heartily in back of the sentiments expressed in that article and would suggest that the students approach the athletic director relative to this matter.

With the erection of dormitories, the boarders will use those courts whenever they get an opportunity, morning noon and evening. I know this from experience, because I went to a Jesuit boarding college and tennis was a favorite outdoor intermural sport.

From the standpoint of those who will not board, but who have the privilege of partaking of Xaverian activities it is an injustice to let those courts stand unconditioned for play.

The real solution of the problem would be made by the students approaching and remaining with the proper authorities until the courts are ready for action. Incessant appeal will bring fine courts for Xavier and eventually a first class tennis team.

Yours,

Old Student.

HELLO BILL

is received as a hero, his admirers arranging a great public reception in his honor. The General returns from Cuba at the same time, hears of the reception and supposing that it is for him, attends. The subsequent attempts of Bill and his pal, "Cutting," to ex-tricate the "hero" from his delicate position lead from one ludicrous, side-splitting situation to another. Plots and counterplots, containing some dark mystery and some light love, run rapidly thru the theme, adding continuously to poor Bill's troubles and leading up to a smashing denouement when he and the General fight a duel with swords to settle the question of their respective hurt and the play ends happily.

The production this year is unique in that it is the first time that all Departments have joined hands in a common effort at dramatics. The cast has three representatives from the Alumni, one from the College of Law, two from the College of Arts, one from the School of Sociology and four co-eds from the School of Sociology. The "preps" furnish a substantial portion of the program with their excellent orchestra and a violin and piano specialty. The major part of the executive work is in the hands of the College of Arts Committees, lists of which appear elsewhere.

The House Committee is preparing to handle the largest crowd that ever attended a St. Xavier show. Reserved seats sell at $1.50 and $1.00; general admission will be 50c. Tickets may be obtained now at the College, Seventh and Sycamore, or at Avondale. Mail orders will receive prompt attention.

of energy, in an effort to realize a respectable donation toward the dorms. Patrons and patronesses have responded with generosity and all details have been efficiently attended to to make the April 2 event one to be remembered and one which will be a fitting inauguration of the St. Xavier Senior Prom.

The Seniors are now looking forward to the honor of having the presence of their patrons and patronesses on the evening of their final collegiate affair, and desire them to act as chaperons for the occasion.

interspersed by an occasional defeat. It is only fair to state that St. Xavier College has firmly established herself in the Ohio Conference and ranks very favorably with other schools in this state. Ranking well toward the top of the conference column the Xaverians succeeded in obtaining a standing of 700, winning seven out of ten games. With regard to the exhibitions with local outlets the collegians may boast of emerging on top except in one instance. A box score for the entire season follows indicating every point made by each player up to and including the Kenyon game. It is not at all surprising that the major part of the scoring was done by the forwards and centers through the guards, by their defense and team work contributed equally to the success of the season. ROMER RETURNS

Charles A. Romer, erstwhile Junior, Liberal Arts, returned to Avondale, sporting an additional ten pounds under the belt and a slight coat of sun burn as a result of a ten day pleasure and convention trip to balmy New Orleans. Charley was the youngest agent to merit a free good time of this nature, of all insurance agents in the U. S., having qualified by writing over $100,000 in business insurance alone.

Being a special agent of the Union Central Life Insurance Co. is no lark for that particular organization harbors the best insurance salesmen of this locality, and being in the upper ten, to be sent to a convention, is an achievement. Besides, being a representative student, Charley is lecturer of the Norwood Council, Knights of Columbus.

He is a son of Edward F. Romer, Vice-President of the Union Savings Bank and Trust Co., of this city.

FOR HI SCHOOL

Ten Dollars To Room And Five Dollars To Individual
For Tickets Sold

A chance to get "Picnic money" for some room in the High School is offered by the management of "Hello, Bill," the College show which is to be given at Emery Auditorium on the evening of April 10. To the class room credited with the greatest amount of money turned in for tickets sold will go a prize of $10.00, to be used as the students see fit. $5.00 will be given to the individual student credited with the greatest amount of money turned in.

It is probably that the individual winner will be in the winning class room, and since most of the students and their families will attend, all purchases should be credited to a room and an individual.

The High School will furnish a part of the musical program of the evening, with the orchestra and an instrument specialty.

Tickets may be obtained from Mr. Zell on any class day. Come on, Preps! Show the College men some real St. X spirit. And win some money for yourself and for your class.

Every afternoon after class the Way of the Cross is held in the Student Chapel under the guidance of Rev. George Leahy, S. J., Spiritual Director of the Sodality. This pious practice of making the stations is not something new in the high school, but just a return of the old custom. Altho many of the boys make the Way of the Cross privately during recreation time, still, evening finds the Chapel crowded not only with Sodalities but with other students as well.

4-D WINS

The once mighty 4C basketeers have fallen in their last game. The second last game 4C won, 3-0, against 3U, chiefly through the consistent and often brilliant work of "Bill" Chenal and "Eddie" Trever. The principal Junior light was Haberman. The entire school witnessed the last game. The score was 4D, 5--4C, 4. The "C" outfit held the lead at the end of the first half, 2-1; but in the second, 4D managed to break through the "C" defenses and shoot a pair of baskets. "C" replied with one. Frank McCarthy and "Schmidie" Schmidt did most of the work for the victors while "Jimmy" Champ and "Bill" Chenal did the same for the conquered.

THAT'S IT

It was about five o'clock of a cold wintry morning in France when a troop train pulled into the station on the wind-swept, dreary flats not a million miles from Gievres. A disconsolate doughboy leaned out the window and accosted an M. P.

"What in heck is the name of this dirty, low-down, blinkety-blanked hole in ladies?" he demanded.

"That's near enough, buddy, replied the dejected red armband. "That's near enough. Let her go at that."
