ALMA MATER XAVIER
led by Harriet Beebe

Dear Alma Mater Xavier!
Undying troth we pledge to you
That we the living shall hold true
The faith of those of years now gone
Inviolate kept and thus passed on.

So may the truth within us dwell
And may this song our voices swell
Until resounds o'er hill and dell
Dear Alma Mater Xavier.

BENEDICTION

THE PAUL L. O'CONNOR LEADERSHIP AWARD

BACKGROUND — The early Jesuits, following Ignatius, called themselves and others to generosity and idealism as noble knights of Christ, but at the same time to a hard-headed practicality that would find, test and use the best means available to achieve the work that needed to be done. Thus the Ignatian spiritual style was a blend of generous humanism and pragmatism. It saw the opportunity of working with God, who is to be found working in all things. It was a spirituality of service to others, a service accomplished in the first place by the example of one's life.

In this service, Ignatius insisted on the necessity of adapting procedures to the varying circumstances of times, places, and persons. The most effective means to achieve the desired ends was always sought. In adapting means to the interests and needs of his own era, then, Ignatius was careful to preserve from the past the truly perennial, while he discarded what was obsolete, and added what the new needs of the day demanded.

O'CONNOR'S XAVIER — Building upon the vision and leadership of Ignatius, Paul L. O'Connor, Xavier's President from 1955 to 1972, realized in the 1960s that for Xavier University to continue to accomplish its mission it would have to adapt to the changing circumstances of the times, places, and people. The increasing complexity of leading a major Jesuit university would demand talents that Jesuits, already beginning to decline in numbers, could not be expected to have.

In response to these challenges Fr. O'Connor began to invite the involvement and guidance of lay people from the Cincinnati community and beyond.

THE PAUL L. O'CONNOR LEADERSHIP AWARD — Through the 1960s and into the early 1970s, Paul O'Connor continued to cultivate volunteer lay leadership at Xavier. In the fall of 1972, resulting from the leadership and momentum already generated by Fr. O'Connor, the university moved to extend membership on its Board of Trustees to lay persons for the first time in the university’s history. Since that time extraordinary volunteer lay leadership has been evidenced by lay trustees and other lay volunteers who have generously chosen to lead and serve Xavier in some extremely important role.

We seek to honor volunteer lay leadership at Xavier University by establishing a medal to be awarded from time-to-time to one whose outstanding service and leadership exemplifies the spirituality of Ignatius as lived by Paul L. O'Connor, a spiritual style which embodies a blend of humanism, pragmatism, and generous service to the university.
HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

The Very Reverend Pedro Arrupe, S.J.

America magazine has referred to Pedro Arrupe as "unquestionably the best known and best loved Jesuit of this century." Born in Bilbao, Spain in 1907, he entered the Society of Jesus in 1927. Exiled from Spain with all his fellow Jesuits in 1932, Arrupe became a world citizen living in Belgium, Holland, the United States, Japan and, finally, Rome. On August 6, 1945 he witnessed the explosion of the atomic bomb over Hiroshima and helped organize medical care for the surviving victims of the devastation. Arrupe held the offices of novice director and provincial in Japan before his election as Superior General of the entire Society of Jesus on May 22, 1965. Throughout the next sixteen years, Arrupe met the task of leading his fellow Jesuits through the renewal of the order in the wake of the Second Vatican Council, animating not only his own Society of Jesus but many other religious communities. He was elected to five consecutive terms as president of the Union of Superior Generals, representing some 300,000 religious men throughout the world. In 1973, Fr. Arrupe presided over the 32nd general congregation of the Society of Jesus. Reflecting on both the tradition of the Jesuit order and the needs of our own times, the congregation formulated the twofold criterion of the service of faith and the promotion of justice as the norm for evaluating all Jesuit ministries. The task of leading the implementation of the congregation's decrees fell to Arrupe who carried out his task over the next eight years, despite inevitable misunderstandings and opposition. On August 7, 1981, Arrupe suffered a stroke which was to leave him seriously impaired for the next ten years until his death three months ago. His patient endurance of these years of illness showed that, with Ignatius of Loyola, he was able to find God in all things.

Because of his inspired leadership of the Society of Jesus through such a critical period in its history, because of his effective love for all those whom the Jesuits serve, because of his lasting example of a life for the greater glory of God, Xavier University is proud to present Pedro Arrupe of the Society of Jesus for the degree, posthumously awarded, of Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.

Edward B. Brueggeman, S.J.

Scholar, gentleman, ecumenist; learned, pious, gracious; these nouns and adjectives barely do justice to Father Edward Brueggeman. Greek and Latin, literature and theology are the disciplines he has studied. But scholarship is only a small part of the persona of this gracious priest. He epitomizes the ideal Jesuit: well educated, versatile, complex, fashioning his life so as to serve others, conscious always that he lives and works to that maxim of Ignatius, for the greater glory of God. He has spent a lifetime making a difference in Cincinnati—to students he has counseled and married and to their children whom he has baptized; to the community whether Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, Muslim or any faith or no faith at all to whom he has preached and practiced brotherly love and understanding; to the sick of every race and religion whom he has visited with word of God's love and care. Fr. Brueggeman has almost singlehandedly raised the funds for Xavier's Ecumenical Chair—a fund used to promote understanding and appreciation among the religious groups, most particularly Christians and Jews. His longtime radio program which explored the religious issues both separating and uniting these two religions has been on the air since 1967. A colleague who entered the Society of Jesus with him tells us that Ed entered the Jesuits immediately after finishing high school at St. Xavier, was a vigorous athlete, was and is a lover of baseball and the Cincinnati Reds, and lives by the familiar maxim of "early to bed and early to rise." A man with little interest in personal advancement or in recreation, he has made people and their needs his chief interest.

Because he exemplifies faith and learning, devotion and practical charity, dedication to service and to the promotion of understanding among all religions, Xavier confers upon Edward Brueggeman, S.J., the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.
Anne Dammarell

One of the nominators commented about Anne Dammarell that she was a valiant woman. In Anne Dammarell we find the practical actions of the truly valiant—courage, tenacity, bravery. Her particular interest has been the improvement of the living conditions of women in the Third World. From efforts to provide the basic necessities of life such as food, water, and shelter for families in war-torn Beirut to teaching English in Egypt, her service has been to the people, despite and without regard for political or military differences. A brave woman, Anne volunteered for service in the war zone and was injured in the terrorist attack on the American Embassy in Lebanon. Anne's sister says of her, "She is spunky and outgoing, devoted to her job and most of all to helping other people. She has very strong religious convictions and . . . acts out of them. She is a very spiritual person, a seeker after truth and enlightenment; she asks, explores, searches to keep her spiritual strength alive and vital." Anne has spent her life demonstrating that notwithstanding political and religious differences, all people are alike and can be reached by simple human service. A graduate of Edgecliff College, she has also studied at Xavier, Georgetown, and the Sorbonne. Employed for most of her life by the United States Agency for International Development, she has received honors from both the American government and the Haddad Medal from the National Committee for the Reconstruction of Beirut. But all of this honor has not changed the basic homegrown genuineness of Anne Dammarell. Her 18 nieces and nephews to whom she has been an "Auntie Marne" tease her about her spelling which is shaky. She gives tremendous parties with great food and wonderful combinations of guests. In the midst of the war in Lebanon she was able to write that she spent the Greek Orthodox Easter Sunday, "greeting friends and relatives who came by to wish everyone a happy Easter. I cracked eggs, ate lavishly, and had a good time."

Anne Dammarell demonstrates the qualities of service and understanding, of generosity of spirit and love for people as children of God that are the values Xavier prizes most highly. It is with great pleasure that Xavier confers upon her the degree of Doctor of Humanitarian Service, honoris causa.

Carl H. Lindner

A distinguished citizen of Cincinnati, Carl Lindner's name is well known and his activities well respected in both the business and the service arenas. Chairman of the Board and CEO of American Financial Corporation and of Chiquita Brands International, president of Kings Island, member of the Board of Circle K Corporation, largest shareholder of Provident Bank—these are just a few of the many corporate hats Carl Lindner has worn. The Cincinnati Fine Arts Institute, the Cincinnati Symphony, Citizens for a Better Cincinnati have all been the recipients of his expert business skills. He has been honored by the American Academy of Achievement; has received the Van Rensselaer Medal from the Masons; named Man of the Year by the United Jewish Appeal; and given the Jewish Institute of Religion Interfaith Award. He has been awarded an honorary degree from the University of Cincinnati whose College of Business Administration bears his name. Carl Lindner is a real person as well as a great man. He collects pithy quotes and puts them on index cards to hand out at appropriate moments . . . "if it is to be, it is up to me," or "only in America, gee am I lucky." He is a collector of more than words and has a large assortment of cufflinks—geared to his many corporations—bananas for Chiquita, ice cream cones for United Dairy Farmer. An enthusiastic family man, Carl has moved meetings to the scene of a wrestling or tennis match so that he could work and share in the family fun at the same time. He is a philanthropist of far reaching magnitude . . . the largest Christian contributor to the Jewish community in the United States and a major benefactor to Christ, Bethesda and Children's Hospitals, and to the ATP tennis tournament which benefits Childrens' Hospital. All his efforts at bringing commerce to the city by moving four major companies here exemplify his great love for Cincinnati. Carl's actions with respect to religious and moral teaching speak louder than his words. Together with his son, Carl III, he has founded and provided the necessary financial support to launch a full services Christian school in Cincinnati, the Cincinnati Hills Christian Academy. A fervent member of the Baptist Church, Carl Lindner demonstrates in all his activities—business, philanthropic, and personal, the standards of integrity and responsibility that are like beacons of light in an often darkened world. His generosity to Xavier has been significant and his words of counsel delivered at the cornerstone laying of the new physics building gave meaning and substance to his interest in the mission of this university.

An example of the incorporation of ethics into the world of business and commerce, because he gives the greatest support and devotion to the well-being of the city and because he is a role model for the entire nation, Xavier is proud to honor Carl H. Lindner with the degree of Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.
Xavier's Heritage

Xavier was founded in 1831 by Bishop Edward Dominic Fenwick, O.P., pioneer Catholic bishop of Ohio, as the first Catholic institution of higher learning in the Northwest Territory.

Known as the Athenaeum, the college's first building, in downtown Cincinnati, was largely financed by European Catholics and particularly by Catholic citizens of Vienna. The first class numbered 60 students. From its beginning, the school was dedicated to the patronage of St. Francis Xavier. The Athenaeum attracted students from as far away as New Orleans, Mexico and Central America, and its educational quality drew many local Protestant students.

At the invitation of Bishop John Purcell of Cincinnati, the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) assumed control of the institution in 1840, ensuring a steady source of faculty. Under John A. Elet, S.J., the first Jesuit president, the institution was renamed St. Xavier College.

Xavier offered its first evening classes in 1841, and summer courses were introduced in 1914, thus beginning a tradition of serving the unique needs and schedules of professionals and aspiring professionals in the Cincinnati community.

In 1920, the college moved to its present site in Avondale, and in 1930 was renamed Xavier University, reflecting its growth and complexity. While women had been attending Xavier's evening college since its early years, Xavier's undergraduate “day” college became coeducational in 1969. In 1980 Xavier acquired the Edgecliff College programs and integrated them with those at Xavier, and by 1987, Edgecliff faculty, staff and students were moved onto the Xavier campus.

Xavier's growth in over a century and a half since its founding reflects its origins as a teaching institution which soundly prepares students for careers or graduate study or both. A Xavier education, particularly at the undergraduate level, is marked by the emphasis on liberal arts learning contained in Xavier's core curriculum. Equally important in the Xavier tradition is the synthesis of human, cultural and ethical values, concern and respect for people, and an appreciation of the worth and dignity of the self and others.

The College of Arts and Sciences, Xavier's largest and oldest college, enrolls approximately 1,400 undergraduate and 100 graduate students, and accepts the primary responsibility for the liberal education of all Xavier undergraduates. The College of Business Administration enrolls 1,200 undergraduates and 1,400 MBA students, and is dedicated to preparing business students for positions of responsibility and leadership. The College of Social Sciences enrolls 900 undergraduate and 1,000 graduate students in specialized areas of human services.

Xavier has been an innovator in graduate education, establishing, for example, the first graduate program in Montessori education in the United States. Its graduate programs in education have produced the second highest number of school administrators in the state of Ohio. Xavier's graduate program in hospital and health administration is a recognized innovator in the field, and also provides timely and expert advice to health-care professionals through its Xavier Centre for Health Management Education. The Executive MBA Program and the Weekend Hospital Administration Program educate upper level managers and executives while they maintain their current positions in their respective organizations.

The Seal of Xavier University

The seal of Xavier University combines three principal ideas: St. Francis Xavier, patron of the university; the Jesuit order of which he was a distinguished member; and the university. The five vertical stripes suggest the coat of arms of the Xavier family. A right arm wearing the Jesuit robe holds aloft the crucifix, signifying St. Francis Xavier preaching Christ crucified. The three sea shells signify the three journeys of Xavier into the Orient. Above the shield is the Jesuit seal, IHS, the first three letters of the name Jesus in Greek. Below is the Jesuit motto, AMDG [Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam], which translates “to the Greater Glory of God,” and the words Vidit Mirabilia Magna, a phrase from the psalms applied to St. Francis Xavier which translates “he has seen great wonders.”
Honor Graduates

Honors are awarded on the basis of outstanding achievement in academic study. The student must have completed at least half of the degree requirements and half of the courses in the major field at Xavier University to be eligible for honors. These honors are inscribed on the student’s diploma, announced at the commencement ceremony and printed on the student’s official university permanent record. Honors printed in this program do not include the Spring 1991 semester.

Summa Cum Laude

Undergraduate students who have earned a quality point average of 3.90 on a 4 point scale in college work will be recognized as graduating Summa Cum Laude.

Magna Cum Laude

Academic Apparel History and Significance

The history of academic dress and its significance has its beginnings from the earliest days of the old universities. As early as the fourteenth century some colleges required scholars to wear long gowns. Specifications of academic apparel became greatly diversified in Europe.

American colleges and universities decided it beneficial to have a standardized intercollegiate academic apparel code for the United States. In May 1895, representatives from interested institutions met at Columbia University and adopted a code for academic dress.

The “Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume” was formed in 1902 to serve as the information source in matters pertaining to academic dress. In 1932 the American Council on Education appointed a committee to revise the apparel codes established in 1895. Review and revisions to the 1895 academic apparel codes occurred in 1932 and 1959.

Gowns

The gown for the bachelor’s degree has pointed sleeves and is worn closed. The master’s degree gown has oblong sleeves which open at the wrist and is designed with fasteners so that it may be worn open or closed. Both the bachelor’s and master’s degree gowns are black with no trimmings except for those worn by the students who are members of the national Jesuit honor society Alpha Sigma Nu. These gowns are maroon with gold trim.

Hoods

Hoods are worn for the master’s degree. The material of the hood is black and is made of the same material as the gown. The master’s hood should be three and one-half feet in length and lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The edging is to be three inches of velvet or velveteen with the color being distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The colors that pertain to Xavier’s degrees are as follows:

- Arts ................................................................. White
- Business ............................................................. Yale Blue
- Education ............................................................ Light Blue
- Science ............................................................... Golden Yellow
- Hospital Administration ........................................... Kelly Green

Caps

Black mortarboards of the same material as the gown are to be worn with the tassel of the color pertaining to the degree fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap.
