Alma Mater Xavier
led by Darrell P. Jones

Dear Alma Mater Xavier!
Undying troth we pledge to you
That we the living shall hold true
The faith of those of years now gone
Inviolate kept and thus passed on.
So may the truth within us dwell
And may this song our voices swell
Until resounds o'er hill and dell
Dear Alma Mater Xavier.

Benediction
J. Leo Klein, S.J.
Vice President for Religious Development

Recessional
Rondeau, Jean Joseph Mouret
Trumpet Tune, Henry Purcell

Reception
Yeatman's Cove
The President, the Board of Trustees, and the Faculty invite the graduating students and their families and guests to Yeatman's Cove for a reception honoring the students.

Photography
Photographs of the graduates will be taken by You See Photography during the ceremony. If desired, additional individual and family portraits will be provided during the reception at Yeatman's Cove.

If you wish to come to the floor to take a picture as the student leaves the stage, use the stairs between sections 120 and 122. Guests are not permitted on the floor at any other location before or during the ceremony. Please limit your time. Pictures may be taken in the Coliseum after the ceremony is over.
Xavier’s Class of 1943 is celebrating its 50th anniversary this weekend. As our special guests today, members of the class and their guests are seated to the right of the stage. The University salutes the Class of 1943 for its 50 years of allegiance to its alma mater.

Sr. Myra James Bradley, S.C.

In 1987, Sr. Myra James Bradley took a memorable vacation. Her destination was not the tropical locale most of us dream about, complete with sunshine and five-star restaurants. Instead, Sr. Myra traveled to Calcutta, India to do volunteer work with Mother Teresa's Missionaries of Charity.

She went to Calcutta because she thought she could help in some small way. Her days were spent providing food for the starving and medical care for the sick and dying.

What else would you expect from a woman who has devoted her life to caring for others?

When Sr. Myra accepted her current position as President and CEO of Good Samaritan Hospital, the opportunity represented a homecoming of sorts. She received a bachelor's degree in education from the Athenaeum of Ohio and a bachelor's degree in nursing from the College of Mount St. Joseph. (She also holds a master's degree in hospital administration from St. Louis University.)

During 1955-57, Sr. Myra served on the faculty at Good Samaritan Hospital in Dayton and at the University of Dayton. Before returning to the Cincinnati area, she spent 26 years in Colorado Springs, first as President of Penrose Hospitals and then as President and CEO of the Penrose-St. Francis Healthcare System. The list of her achievements there is impressive: she relocated obstetrical services to Penrose Community Hospital and built a birth center that assisted in 3,600 births per year — the largest in the City of Colorado Springs and the second largest in the state of Colorado. She established the only burn unit in Southern Colorado, expanded the cancer and cardiac care programs, and inaugurated the area's first poison control center. Sr. Myra played an instrumental role in the merger of Penrose and St. Francis Hospital, and she built Penrose Hospital into the Penrose-St. Francis Healthcare System, which grew in size from 350 to 664 beds and became the city's second largest private employer.

Her professional affiliations include membership in the American College of Healthcare Executives, the Catholic Health Association, and the National Council of Community Hospitals Board. She is serving a three-year term on the SI. Joseph's Infant Home Board of Trustees. Her list of awards range from the American College of Healthcare Executives, the National Council of Community Hospitals Board, to the American College of Healthcare Executives, the National Council of Community Hospitals Board, to the American College of Healthcare Executives, the National Council of Community Hospitals Board.

One of her colleagues at Good Samaritan Hospital provides the best commentary on this remarkable woman: "True to her heritage as a Sister of Charity, she is an intelligent, determined, no-nonsense woman with a most generous spirit and a tremendous sense of humor."

Because of her impressive achievements in the health care field, because of her compassion for all people in need, and because of her commitment to healing the spirit as well as the body, it is with pride and pleasure that Xavier awards Sr. Myra James Bradley, S.C., the degree Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.

Richard T. Farmer

In 1957, an enterprising young man joined the Acme Wiper and Industrial Laundry full time, after having graduated from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and serving as an officer in the U.S. Marine Corps. He had spent many afternoons, weekends and summers at Acme learning every aspect of the business.

Today, Richard T. Farmer is chairman and chief executive officer of the company, now known as Cintas Corporation. Cintas designs, manufactures and implements corporate identity uniform programs for large national companies such as Pepsi, Avis, Delta and UPS. Cintas is the largest public company in the industrial uniform services industry and provides uniform programs through its manufacturing plants, distribution centers, and 94 rental operations across the United States and Canada.

Obviously, Mr. Farmer paid attention to the commencement address delivered when he graduated from Miami in 1956. He remembered the speaker saying that people with college degrees enjoyed a great advantage, and that a college degree would open the door to great opportunities and greater responsibility.

He has translated this belief in the importance of higher education into action. Last year, his gift to Miami University established the Richard T. Farmer School of Business Administration. He and his wife, Joyce, a fellow Miami graduate, have also established the Joyce Barnes Farmer Distinguished Visiting Professorship for Miami's School of Education and Allied Professions. Mr. Farmer was appointed to Miami University's Board of Trustees last year.

Xavier University has also benefited from Mr. Farmer's generosity through his contributions to the Comerstone Campaign, 1831 Society and the All For One Campaign.

Mr. Farmer also believes in giving something back to the Cincinnati community. He has generously and anonymously donated funds to many worthy causes in the Cincinnati area. He has also been active in the business community with his involvement in the Cincinnati Business Committee, the Commonwealth Club and the Commercial Club, and his membership on the boards of Bethesda, Inc., the Medical Center Fund of Cincinnati, and the Fifth Third Bank.

Because of his exceptional support of higher education, because of his example of leadership and compassion to underprivileged members of the Cincinnati community, and because of the high standards he exhibits in every venture he undertakes, Xavier is proud to confer on Richard T. Farmer the degree Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.
Ronald G. Joseph

We've all heard the old expression about someone following in their father's footsteps. Ronald G. Joseph has done just that — both in the Cincinnati business community and at Xavier University.

After graduating from Xavier as a philosophy prelegal major in 1958, Mr. Joseph earned a JD from the University of Cincinnati's College of Law in 1961. He joined the family business, the Columbia Olds Automobile Agency, owned and operated by his father, George.

Today, he is president of the Joseph Auto Group, owners of Columbia Oldsmobile, Camargo Cadillac and Joseph Chevrolet, to name a few. The auto group is part of Columbia Development, a diverse organization that includes seven automobile dealerships as well as insurance and real estate ventures.

But Mr. Joseph made sure his employees found opportunities for growth even as his company was growing. As he explained to a reporter from The Cincinnati Enquirer, "Advancement within is a necessary ingredient of the retention of qualified employees." It's not surprising to find this attitude in a man who defines success as people "doing what they like to do, and doing it to the best of their ability with people they like being with."

Besides his business savvy, Mr. Joseph also inherited his father's love for Xavier University. In fact, Xavier is something of a family affair for the Josephs. Ron and his brother, Robert, are both Xavier grads. His four sons, Gregory, George, Richard and Ron Jr., also graduated from Xavier.

Mr. Joseph served as president of Xavier's Alumni Council in 1982. He has also been a generous contributor to Xavier's Cornerstone and All For One campaigns as well as the Chimes Club. But the Joseph family's love for Xavier is evident every day on campus in the George Joseph Building, a building that honors his father's long-standing service to the university, the building, which houses Xavier's Montessori program, Criminal Justice Department and Center for Human Development, has helped the university train generations of students for challenging roles in our changing world.

In recognition of his contributions to the growth and vitality of Cincinnati's business community, because of his genuine concern for his employees, and because of his unwavering support of Xavier University and its important mission, Xavier is honored to award Ronald G. Joseph the degree Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.

Garry L. Wills

Chicago Tribune reporter Paul Galloway describes him as "a literary and journalistic one-man band ... an intellectual dynamo, a scholar of extraordinary depth ... a consummate auditor and analyst of human endeavor, a gifted and prolific writer who reaches a variety of audiences."

Gordon Wood, professor of history at Brown University, adds he is "a talented historian; he is also an investigative reporter, a political commentator and a literary critic. Indeed, he is the closest thing we now have to what used to be called 'a man of letters.'" Garry L. Wills received his undergraduate degree from St. Louis University in 1957. In 1958, Dr. Wills earned a master's degree in classics from Xavier and, three years later, a doctorate in classics from Yale. He has been awarded honorary degrees by the Colleges of Holy Cross, Columbia University and Beloit College.

Dr. Wills joined the staff of the fledgling National Review in 1957, when William F. Buckley, its founder and editor, offered him a summer job. From 1961-62, he was a junior fellow of the Center for Hellenic Studies, and, from 1963-80, adjunct professor of humanities at the Johns Hopkins University. He is currently an adjunct professor of history at Northwestern University.

In addition to a remarkable career in education, Dr. Wills is also a prolific author of works including Confessions of a Conservative; Under God: Religion and American Politics; and Nixon Agonistes. He earned a Pulitzer Prize for general non-fiction last month for his 17th work, Lincoln at Gettysburg: The Words That Remade America. The New York Times described the book as "a scholarly work of oratory" in which "Wills argues that Abraham Lincoln, in the mere 272 words of the Gettysburg Address, was able to recast the tradition of oration, the Civil War and the history of American political thought in a new and clearer light."

The work also earned him a National Book Award. He is a recipient of the National Book Critics Award, the Wilbur Cross Medal from Yale Graduate School and the Peabody Award for Excellence in Broadcasting. The latter was for writing and narrating the 1988 Frontline documentary, "The Candidates."

He is also a frequent contributor to Time magazine, publishes twice-weekly syndicated columns in more than 24 national newspapers and is a familiar name to readers of the New York Review of Books.

When he isn't writing, Dr. Wills is probably reading. In fact, the home he shares with his wife of 33 years, Natalie Cavallo, includes hundreds of volumes, each organized by theme. "I have an appetite for reading that's addictive, I suppose," he told the Chicago Tribune. "It's the first thing I do in the mornings and the last thing at night."

Because of his prolific careers as scholar, writer and teacher, because of his limitless intellectual curiosity, and because of his deep love of learning, Xavier is honored to award Garry L. Wills the degree Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.
Xavier's Heritage

Xavier was founded in 1831 by Bishop Edward Dominic Fenwick, O.P., pioneer Catholic bishop of Ohio, as the first Catholic institution of higher learning in the Northwest Territory. Known as the Athenaeum, the college's first building, in downtown Cincinnati, was largely financed by European Catholics and particularly by Catholic citizens of Vienna. The first class numbered 60 students. From its beginning, the school was dedicated to the patronage of St. Francis Xavier. The Athenaeum attracted students from as far away as New Orleans, Mexico and Central America, and its educational quality drew many local Protestant students.

At the invitation of Bishop John Purcell of Cincinnati, the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) assumed control of the institution in 1840, ensuring a steady source of faculty. Under John A. Elet, S.J., the first Jesuit president, the institution was renamed St. Xavier College.

Xavier offered its first evening classes in 1841, and summer courses were introduced in 1914, thus beginning a tradition of serving the unique needs and schedules of professionals and aspiring professionals in the Cincinnati community.

In 1920, the college moved to its present site in Avondale, and in 1930 was renamed Xavier University, reflecting its growth and complexity. While women had been attending Xavier's evening college since its early years, Xavier's undergraduate "day" college became coeducational in 1969. In 1980 Xavier acquired the Edgecliff College programs and integrated them with those at Xavier, and by 1987, Edgecliff faculty, staff and students were moved onto the Xavier campus.

Xavier's growth in over a century and a half since its founding reflects its origins as a teaching institution which soundly prepares students for careers or graduate study or both. A Xavier education, particularly at the undergraduate level, is marked by the emphasis on liberal arts learning contained in Xavier's core curriculum. Equally important in the Xavier tradition is the synthesis of human, cultural and ethical values, concern and respect for people, and an appreciation of the worth and dignity of the self and others.

The College of Arts and Sciences, Xavier's largest and oldest college, enrolls approximately 1,400 undergraduate and 100 graduate students, and accepts the primary responsibility for the liberal education of all Xavier undergraduates. The College of Business Administration enrolls 1,200 undergraduates and 1,400 MBA students, and is dedicated to preparing business students for positions of responsibility and leadership. The College of Social Sciences enrolls 900 undergraduate and 1,000 graduate students in specialized areas of human services.

Xavier has been an innovator in graduate education, establishing, for example, the first graduate program in Montessori education in the United States. Its graduate programs in education have produced the second highest number of school administrators in the state of Ohio. Xavier's graduate program in hospital and health administration is a recognized innovator in the field, and also provides timely and expert advice to health-care professionals through its Xavier Centre for Health Management Education. The Executive MBA Program, the Weekend Hospital Administration Program and the MEd in Human Resource Development Program educate upper level managers, professionals and executives while they maintain their current positions in their respective organizations.
The Seal of Xavier University

The seal of Xavier University combines three principle ideas: St. Francis Xavier, patron of the university; the Jesuit order of which he was a distinguished member; and the university. The five vertical stripes suggest the coat of arms of the Xavier family. A right arm wearing the Jesuit robe holds aloft the crucifix, signifying St. Francis Xavier preaching Christ crucified. The three sea shells signify the three journeys of Xavier into the Orient. Above the shield is the Jesuit seal, IHS, the first three letters of the name Jesus in Greek. Below is the Jesuit motto, AMDG [Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam], which translates "to the Greater Glory of God," and the words Vidit Mirabilia Magna, a phrase from the psalms applied to St. Francis Xavier which translates "he has seen great wonders."

Academic Apparel History and Significance

The history of academic dress and its significance has its beginnings from the earliest days of the old universities. As early as the fourteenth century some colleges required scholars to wear long gowns. Specifications of academic apparel became greatly diversified in Europe.

American colleges and universities decided to have a standardized intercollegiate academic apparel code for the United States. In May 1895, representatives from interested institutions met at Columbia University and adopted a code for academic dress.

The “Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume” was formed in 1902 to serve as the information source in matters pertaining to academic dress.

In 1932 the American Council on Education appointed a committee to revise the apparel codes established in 1895. Review and revisions to the 1895 academic apparel codes occurred in 1932 and 1959.

Gowns

The gown for the bachelor’s degree has pointed sleeves and is worn closed. The master’s degree gown has oblong sleeves which open at the wrist and is designed with fasteners so that it may be worn open or closed. Both the bachelor’s and master’s degree gowns are black with no trimmings except for those worn by the students who are members of the national Jesuit honor society Alpha Sigma Nu. These gowns are maroon with gold trim.

Hoods

Hoods are worn for the master’s degree. The material of the hood is black and is made of the same material as the gown. The master’s hood should be three and one-half feet in length and lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The edging is to be three inches of velvet or velveteen with the color being distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The colors that pertain to Xavier’s degrees are as follows:

- Arts ........................................... White
- Business ................................. Drab
- Education .............................. Light Blue
- Science ................................. Golden Yellow
- Hospital Administration ............ Kelly Green

Caps

Black mortarboards of the same material as the gown are to be worn with the tassel of the color pertaining to the degree fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap.

Korean Montessori Program

1993 celebrates the graduation of the first Korean MEd students in Montessori. The students in the class have participated in the Department of Education’s International 5-semester program; 3 semesters in Korea, 2 on Xavier’s campus. The language of instruction is Korean. The Korean students are arrayed in their traditional dress, consisting of a chima (skirt) and chogori (jacket), which befits formal and festive occasions.
