XAVIER COMES ALIVE IN SUMMER

Universities don't turn into ghost towns over the summer, and Xavier is no exception. This summer, Xavier will come alive in different and exciting ways. The Summer Sessions provide excellent opportunities for students beginning their academic careers, for those wishing to accelerate their undergraduate study and obtain a degree in less than four calendar years, or for those transferring from other colleges for certain courses. Both day and evening classes are available. The faculty of the Summer Sessions is selected from the regular faculties of the University. Specialists are frequently invited from other institutions, government, and industry to participate in the summer programs.

The University offers many programs at the baccalaureate and associate degree levels and master's degrees in business administration, education, humanities, psychology, theology, corrections, public administration, and hospital administration. Other concentrations are also available for the master's degree. Individuals can secure additional information about the degree programs by contacting the Summer Sessions Office or the appropriate University division office.

In addition to summer session classes for regular graduate or undergraduate credit, Xavier offers special week-long workshops and institutes, followed by two 5-week sessions. During the summer other short-term programs are also offered. Some of these meet for longer than one week. Students are limited to one workshop or institute during the Intersession and to six credit hours during the regular sessions. As a service to professional educators, psychologists, and corrections specialists, two four-week sessions are also available beginning June 21 and July 19 respectively.

Workshop enrollment, payment of tuition and fees, and housing and meals if requested, are to be prearranged through the Summer Sessions Office. A non-refundable deposit of $10 should accompany a reservation for workshop participation; all tuition (also accommodations and meals if desired) should be paid before the first class meeting.

COURSE NUMBER SYSTEM

Undergraduate courses are numbered from 100 to 499. Graduate students may usually elect courses numbered from 200 to 499, but one-half of the work presented for graduate degrees must be in courses numbered above 500. (This does not apply to M.A. students or M.A. students in Theology.) Undergraduate students may not register for 500 through 700 numbered courses.

First Session Schedule

Monday, June 14 to Friday, July 16

DAY CLASSES

Day classes meet daily, Monday through Friday.

EVENING CLASSES

Monday and Wednesday evening classes will also meet on two Fridays, June 18 and June 25. The final examinations will be scheduled for Wednesday, July 14.

Tuesday and Thursday evening classes will meet on Friday, July 9. The final examinations will be scheduled for Thursday, July 15.

Programs of Special Interest
Xavier Offers Graduate Degree In Public Administration

The Graduate Program in Public Administration at Xavier University is a professional degree program leading to a Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.). It is designed primarily for those working in the public and non-profit sectors who are either in a management position or wish to assume one in the future. The goals of the program are twofold: (1) to provide a common core of knowledge and skills needed to manage in the public sector, and; (2) to provide, on an individual basis, additional skills tailored to the managerial and organizational needs of the individual student. These goals are met by dividing the program into core and elective course work. The core courses provide the broad, generalist educational base needed for effective management, while the electives allow the student to concentrate in relevant areas.

Every semester, on a rotational basis, a number of program electives are offered such as Intergovernmental Relations, Urban Policy and Administration, Policy Implementation, and Special Topics in Public Administration.

Individuals interested in learning more about the program should write Peter A. Shocket, Director, Graduate Program in Public Administration, Edgcliff College of Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio 45207 or call (513) 556-3700.

Workshops and Institutes

Xavier will offer the opportunity of 29 special workshops and institutes at various times during the summer sessions. Many of the programs have been rated as exceptional experiences by professionals in education, psychology, and corrections. A large number of the programs are being held during the week of Independence, June 1-7. A number are scheduled during the week of July 19-23. Others are planned at various times during the summer.

These special programs offer the educator, the community leader, and the professional psychologist some outstanding opportunities in their respective fields. The workshops and institutes can also be used for fulfilling some limited requirement in the degree programs of the University, or satisfying professional requirements for upgrading or renewing professional certification.

The list of offerings includes a number being offered for the first time. A complete schedule of these programs is printed on page 2 of this publication. A brochure containing descriptions and information about each offering is available from the Summer Sessions Office.

Study Abroad

Xavier University is offering a 4-week and an 8-week opportunity for Spanish study in Bogota, Colombia, a 6-week program at the University of Vienna, Lake Wolfgang (Stroll), Austria in German and English studies, and a 6-week integrated learning and travel program in collaboration with College Hall, Joseph, Aixenon, France. (Grants-in-aid are available for the Austrian program.)

Interested individuals should contact the College of Continuing Education (745-3305), Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio 45207.

THE UNDERGRADUATE SUMMER

The Xavier University Summer Sessions for 1982 offer courses for students admitted either as degree students or in unclassified status as visiting students. Opportunities exist in almost every academic department on the main campus for those who wish to augment their education. Classes are offered both during the daytime and evening. Stimulating workshops are available in several fields of interest.

Regular sessions run five weeks. As a convenience to students, selected education and psychology courses will be offered in two 4-week sessions beginning June 21 and July 19 respectively. Day classes meet Monday through Friday. Evening classes are held two/three evenings a week. A student is limited to six semester hours of course work during a single session. Any variation from this maximum must be approved by the Dean of the College in which the student is enrolled, or by the Director of Summer Sessions for visiting or non-Xavier students.

Xavier University maintains membership in the North American Association of Summer Sessions and the North Central Conference on Summer Schools. Students from other colleges or universities who wish to pursue studies during the summer should present letters of authorization from their college deans or registrars. Especially qualified high school students may be permitted to register through the College of Continuing Education upon recommendation of their principal or counselor.

BUSINESS PROGRAMS: LIBERAL ARTS MAJORS

Xavier University's summer course selections provide excellent choices for undergraduate liberal arts majors to enrich their preparation for the "work" world. The University's summer course selections provide such business courses as: Management, Marketing, Accounting, Economics, Business Finance, Business Statistics, and Data Processing. These courses do not require any prerequisites.

Today, many liberal arts majors realize the importance of "job-needed" preparation in addition to the value of their liberal education. Xavier offers this opportunity both to its own undergraduates as well as visiting summer students. The credit is generally transferable to the visiting student's home institution.

For the liberal arts major who is looking forward to the possibility of a Master of Business Administration program, the courses also fulfill a number of the standard prerequisites for admission to most graduate business schools.

WXXU General Manager Dr. James C. King at the microphones during Showcase '81 from Cincinnati's Union Terminal. This is the major fund-raising event of the year for Cincinnati's newest affiliate of National Public Radio. WXXU, owned and operated by Xavier University, has a full time staff of 9 employees and a volunteer corps of over 40 students who man the station 24 hours a day. WXXU operates with 6,400 watts of power and a 680 feet antenna covering a radius of over 50 miles in all directions from Cincinnati. According to ratings compiled by the American Research Bureau from the Fall of 1981, WXXU now ranks as one of the Top 10 most listened to public stations in the United States.
Here's How To Get Here:

Interstate Routes 75 and 71 both serve Xavier University. From I-75 going north, take Mitchell Avenue exit and turn right on Mitchell Avenue. Follow the signs to Xavier University. (Approximately 3 miles.)

Coming south on either I-71 or I-75 take S.R. 562 (exit 7) to Reading Road (2nd exit). Go south on Reading Road to Victory Parkway, second street on left. Turn left and bear right on Victory Parkway. Proceed to Dana Avenue (third traffic light), and turn left to Xavier campus.

Director: Dr. Robert E. Wubbolding

This workshop will acquaint counselors, teachers, administrators, and others with a working knowledge of Guidance and Counseling practices in countries other than the U.S.A.

Emphasis will be placed on cultural differences as the basis for varying approaches to Guidance.

The work of the International Relations Committee of the American Personnel and Guidance Association will be dealt with in detail.

Special attention will be given to how professional persons can travel abroad and use their trips as tax deductions because of their interest and work in International Guidance.

Featured in this workshop will be Dr. Bea Wehrly, Professor of Education at Western Illinois University, and Chairperson for the International Relations Committee of A.P.G.A.

INSTITUTE: HUMANISTIC LEADERSHIP*
June 7 to June 11
BA/ED/CR 666-01
Two Credit Hours
9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. (M W Th)
9:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M. (T F)
Director: Dr. Daniel Geeding

This course is designed to integrate the philosophy, theories, and techniques of three powerful Humanistic Systems — Transactional Analysis, Gestalt Therapy, and Neurolinguistic Programming® — with the process of leadership. Leadership is one of the important functions of management, administration, education, or other areas involved in human resource development.

This integration is achieved through a balanced, didactic-experiential approach, with the focus on attaining behavioral as well as intellectual competencies. The behavioral competencies are identified for T.A., Gestalt, and N.L.P.* and participants will be evaluated on their ability to demonstrate attainment of those goals.

After short theory — demonstration segments, participants will practice utilizing and integrating each component. The basic components will be combined into higher level systems that will become part of each participant's behavioral repertoire.

LIMIT: 50 Participants
Materials Fee: $15.00

WORKSHOP: LOCAL RESOURCES FOR TEACHING LIFE SCIENCES*
June 7 to June 11
ED/BL 394-01

INSTITUTE: PERSPECTIVES ON BLACK ENGLISH*

June 7 to June 18
ED/EN 415-01 Two Credit Hours
Director: Ms. Billi J. Johnson

This course has been designed to give educators, as well as others interested in cultural linguistics, some understanding of the linguistic phenomenon commonly referred to as Black English. During the first half of the course, participants will be given a basic introduction to general linguistic theory, language acquisition theory, and the theory of the development and history of Black English in order to provide a framework on which to build discussion. The second half of the course will take up some of the psychological, educational, and legal issues which grow out of the on-going controversy and the problems involved in dealing with Black English in the classroom.

Lectures will be supplemented by outside speakers and, where possible, illustrated by film and slide presentations.

The goal of the course is not only to give participants an introduction to Black English, but also to provide a forum for discussion, debate, and information exchange.

WORKSHOP: ZOOS ARE CLASSROOMS*

June 14 to June 18
ED/BL 393-01 One Credit Hour
Director: Dr. Stanley Hedeen

The workshop will demonstrate how a zoo may be used as an educational facility. Participants will be introduced to the Cincinnati Zoo residents: mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians, fish, and invertebrates. Animal behavior, ecology, evolution, conservation, adaptations, classification, and other zoo-related topics will be examined. Resource persons will include the Zoo's keepers and education staff.

Participants should meet at 9:00 A.M., June 14 outside the Zoo Auto Gate on Dury Avenue for free Zoo admission. Parking on Dury Avenue is free. Parking in the Zoo costs $1.50.

LIMIT: 20 Participants

WORKSHOP: COUNSELING MINORITIES
(Cincinnati)

June 18, 19, 25, and 26
ED/PS 531-02 Three Credit Hours
Director: Dr. Albert Anderson

This workshop will deal with an explanation and discussion of theory, techniques, and research in counseling minority persons. Counselors currently working with minority groups of persons will be highlighted. Minority groups discussed will be Blacks, Southern Appalachian Migrants, Women, Handicapped, Gays, etc. in settings of the school and other agencies.

The workshop will include the dinner meal on Friday and lunch on Saturday. Fee: $20.00

LIMIT: 50 Participants

CURRICULUM DESIGN AND TEACHING STRATEGIES

June 14 to July 9
ED 663-06 Six Credit Hours
Director: Dr. Timothy Riordan and Diana Duncan Holmes

In order to explain the parameters in which the school curriculum is developed, appropriate teaching strategies are examined in light of the following context:

- The myth of education.
- The ritual of schooling.
- The contemporary landscape and the psyche of mass society.
- The function of learning in an industrialized/post industrial economy.
- The written and spoken word and their paradoxical relationship to reading, writing, and speaking.
- The value of activity and the activity of valuing in an age that has "no time.
- Uses of the arts applied to subject areas in the curriculum.

Curriculum content and classroom activity will then be discussed in relation to the choices of "what is worth teaching and learning." Materials Fee: $5.00

LIMIT: 35 Participants

COURSE: THE OHIO VALLEY — IN HISTORY

June 28 to July 9
HS/PO/SO/ED 433-03 Three Credit Hours
Director: Dr. Paul Simon

Once again a special course has been designed to give educators, historians, and others with a special interest in the Ohio Valley an opportunity to study the region and its people. This is your chance to learn more about the geography and history of a part of the United States that stretches more than nine hundred miles from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Illinois. Its drainage basin comprises most of the industrial heartland of the U.S., some of its richest mining regions as well as its most fertile agricultural regions. Its people live in glittering cities as well as areas of grim rural poverty. They speak with the soft drawl of Appalachia as well as the clipped accents of the Yankee. Mingled with these are the voices of immigrants—many from Southern and Eastern Europe working in the mines or mills that dot the region. This is also the area where the North and the South meet and mingle—the "Sun Belt" with the "Frost Belt." The course will cover the years from the early 1700's to the present time with a stress being placed on cultural history—on the life style and environment of the People.

In addition to the lectures, there will be outside speakers, movies, and slide shows. Three field trips to regional historic sites will highlight the course. The major one is a overnight trip to New Philadelphia, Ohio to attend the historical drama, "Trumpeit In The Land," with a side trip to the restored canal town at Coshocton. In addition, there will be half-day trips to Mariiland Dam and to either North Bend or Point Pleasant to get a "feel" for the river, with a possible boat trip on the Ohio being planned.

Students will need approximately $25.00 per person to cover such costs as transportation, motel, food, and admission.

LIMIT: 35 Participants
This special institute will present an overview and analysis of the criminal victimization experiences of special high-risk groups and persons in the U.S. today. Problems related to abuse of the socially dependent and in and out of institutional settings will be emphasized, along with some comparison of the national and local levels of such experience.

Guest lecturers will include authors and researchers as well as practitioners in the human service areas. Specific topical areas will include prevention techniques, alteration of life-styles as an effect of victimization, agency efforts to relate to the problem, etc.

WORKSHOP: ART AND IMAGINATION*

June 7 to June 11

Co-Directors: Dr. Timothy Ricordan and Diana Duncan Holmes

As a general workshop open to all students of all subject areas, "Art and Imagination" explores contemporary art against a background of myth, history, psychology, and religion. The course examines the creative process as integral to the human spirit. Also, questions are raised such as "What is art?" "Is art possible in today's world?" "Do art and education have meaning for another?"

The workshop utilizes museums, galleries, environments, as well as reading materials, films, resource persons, and artists. Outside readings and written reports will be assigned.

LIMIT: 30 Participants

WORKSHOP: NEW TRENDS AND DESIGNS IN BASKETBALL*

June 7 to June 11

Director: Professor Joseph Sullivan

A unique opportunity for those interested in coaching basketball to develop the philosophical concepts in lecture and advanced skills in lab sessions that will include the following:
- Organizational Techniques and Procedures
- Utilization of Personnel
- Offensive and Defensive Rebounding Principles
- Transitional Offense
- Playing the Paint — Defensive Trends
- Offensive Conservatism

The workshop will feature premier high school and college coaches as discussion leaders, audio visual implementation of related topics, and student critiques of philosophical issues.

LIMIT: 30 Participants
