WHO?

QUEEN CONTEST TO CLOSE ON LAST NIGHT, MAY 22

The contest to choose the Queen of the May Fete, which has been stimulating considerable interest in the Fete, is composed of the following contestants: Miss Betty Brunsman of Price Hill (Elder High School); Miss Norma Huggar of Walnut Mills; Miss Edmona Caden of Norwood, Ohio; Miss Celeste Bradley of Ft. Thomas, Ky., and Miss Madeline O'Brien of Covington, Ky. The votes necessary for this contest were on sale for several weeks prior to the Fete; the winning contestant will be crowned on Saturday evening at 10 o'clock and will receive a beautiful prize. Last year the Queen Contest was one of the most successful parts of the Fete, and from interest already shown this year it seems that it will be far in the fore again this year.

MAY FETE THIS WEEK

MANY FORMS OF AMUSEMENT—STUDENTS MUST HELP

At last the time of the great Xavier May Fete is at hand; the alumni have arranged for a tremendous affair; the students are anxiously awaiting the crowds; the grounds are prepared for every sort of pleasure device. The weather will be fine.

The well-known dates are: May 20, 21 and 22. May 20 will be dedicated to the alumni; every alumnus of the College is expected to take part in the ceremonies on that day. May 21 will be Father Finn day; all Father Finn's little school children will be on the grounds, and it is expected that they will perform in a May Pole Dance—their ability along this line is marked. Saturday will be Fraternal Day; this day is for the merry get-together of all the friends of St. Xavier College. There will be something of interest for every mother's son and daughter on Saturday, May 22. The officers of the three days will be Judge Leuders, Judge Hurley and August Herrmann, respectively.

And speaking of pleasant devices on and about the grounds—first of all we have the matter of dinner; Mrs. Clara Pressler, renowned in Cincinnati for her wonderful dinners, will conduct the preparation of chicken for the evening meal on Thursday and Saturday, while fish will be on the menu for Friday. Then we come to the grounds proper. There we have Death Valley Inn, The Circus, formed of students from the College; the Dance Pavilion with "Bud" Rudd's Ohio Collegian Orchestra in action; The Lost World, an interesting device for merriment (no, I can't tell you any more); also with Candyland, The Country Store, The Cake Booth, Shevlin's Turtle Soup, served on the grounds, and Joyland, the Fete could not be more perfect. And Joyland will consist of rides, merry-go-round, the whip and several devices, if possible.

W. E. FOX ELECTED PRESIDENT OF STOCK EXCHANGE

W. E. Fox, Chairman of the Xavier Foundation, was elected President of the Cincinnati Stock Exchange. Before his election as President Mr. Fox was Vice-President of the Exchange.

A GREEK PLAY!

SHALL ST. XAVIER COLLEGE PRESENT "HECUBA"?

A debate is being planned by the students of the Liberal Arts College, for the early part of September, on the advisability of producing an original Greek play during the spring of next year.

At this time there is much discussion on the question. Prevalent opinion among the students interested in the Classics is in favor of the undertaking.

It would be an advertisement for the College; it would assist those students engaged in the study of the Greek Classics; it would create interest in the revival of the Classics; these are the contentions of those who favor the production of a Greek drama. On the other hand it is said that the financial end of the project would be a failure and that no interest could be aroused outside the College.

Rev. Joseph F. Kiefer, S. J., Professor of the Classics in the Liberal Arts College, announced that "Hecuba," one of the dramatic works of Euripides, will be staged by the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshman sometime next year. Whether the play will be open to the general public has not been decided.

The students of Holy Cross University, Wooster, Mass., will present "Hecuba" in the original during the last week of this month. Rev. Father Downey, Dean of Holy Cross, has promised to send all the particulars of the production to Father Kiefer.

In all probability a representative will be sent to Holy Cross to investigate the stage settings, costumes, programmes and other particulars connected with the play.

WHO?

DODGE COUPE WILL BE RAFFLED

On Saturday night the Dodge Coupe will be raffled. Chances on this coupe were on sale among the students and friends of the College for several weeks prior to the fete. Also, on Saturday afternoon, the Daughters of Isabella, in their combined strength, will conduct a card party on the grounds. The fete will be open each afternoon during the three days on which it will be held. Automobiles may be parked without any danger alongside the grounds. People attending the fete in autos will have police protection for their cars.

COMMERCE SCHOOL

HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

The Department of Commerce of the College held its fifteenth annual dinner and meeting at the Hotel Alms on Tuesday, May 11.

The principal speaker of the evening was Major George L. Berry, President of the International Printing Pressmen's Union of America, Hawkins, Tennessee. The subject of Major Berry's address was "Opportunities in America."

F. Edward Ostendorf, President of the St. Xavier Co-Operators, delivered the opening address. Rev. Hubert F. Brockman, S. J., President of St. Xavier College, gave the invocation.

Leo J. Winberg, '26, was General Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements.

NOVENA

TO ST. ALOYSIUS

Leaflets explaining the devoting of the six Sundays in honor of St. Aloysius and containing prayers in honor of the Saint were distributed among the students of the Liberal Arts Department last week.

The novena of the six Sundays in honor of St. Aloysius began on Sunday, May 9. However, this novena can be made at any time during the year.

Threatens Court Action

Students at the University of Montana are threatening court action as a result of nicknaming the Southern Branch of the University of California "Trizlies." Since 1870 the Montanans have gone under that name.

After the University of Oklahoma forbade the bringing of automobiles to the campus, one enterprising student came to school in an aeroplane.

The Daily Californian, student paper of the University of California, has a paid circulation of 8,500 subscribers.

Journals of the Splendid Fifties

Five years of prospecting on the Mother Lode of California, working on placer mines, exploring river beds, and living among the Indians and aged miners who had been in the foothills since 1849, are some of the experiences that Iwald Jones underwent in getting material for his novel, "The Splendid Shilling," set in the heyday of the placer mining regime in the fifties.

To check up some of the legends the Argonauts told him, he spent months examining dusty files of newspapers published in mining camps not now marked on the maps. It is a curious fact that, despite the ephemeral life of the journals, and the cosmopolitan quality of their readers, the literary standard of the publications was extremely high. Quotations from Aristophanes and Plato for some unknown reason were highly favored by the scholarly editors, and the types were Greek.

At least fifty able journalists of San Francisco, at the time of the sojourn of Samuel L. Clemens and Bret Harte, had worked on these papers as daily chroniclers. Harte himself worked for a year as a reporter on

Murray Seasongood

HIS ADVICE TO STUDENTS

(Interviewed by William Dammerall)
A new era looms up before Cincinnati. New trends are noticeable in many divisions of the city's life, but the source of all these innovations, of all these signs of returning life lies undoubtedly in the recent change of municipal politics. We thought, therefore, that no one would be more interesting to interview than the man who has inspired such confidence in the people, who is largely responsible for the whole reformation. So we determined to call upon Mayor Murray Seasongood.

We were received after some little preliminaries, and were embarrassed by the mayor's cordial and easy manner. He is the type that has been long awaited and greatly needed in the field of politics: the man of position, the man of wide culture, the college man.

Very modestly in an impersonal, even humorous fashion he sketched the duties of the mayor.

"There is more work connected with this office than one supposes. Every day the mayor is deluged with correspondence from all over the world. Letters from other cities inquiring about our systems, letters from organizations after various information and letters from individuals seeking lost friends and relatives all pour in upon him. All this must be turned over to the necessary boards, to the Chamber of Commerce, or to the Police Department, but the titles of address are often very comforting, for one is sometimes addressed as Lord Mayor, and sometimes as Your Worship.

But the more serious duties of the Mayor, the ones that make the greatest demands on his time and energy are the numerous boards with which he is connected. He is ex-officio chairman of the City Planning Committee and Rapid Transit Commission. He presides at all meetings of the City Council, and is on the Park Board, the Board of Health, the Zoo Board, the Art Museum Association and the Schmidlapp Foundation. He appoints the trustees of the University and the unofficial members of the City Planning Committee, and signs all the municipal bonds that the city of Cincinnati issues.

"I have particular interest," said Mayor Seasongood, "in the City Planning Committee. It is a body that has been needed in this city for a long time. In fact, the proper time to plan is when the city is young and not settled into rigid form, but even at this date wonders are being accomplished. One of our present efforts is to make sure that the buildings, which flank the new Central Parkway, will be suitable and harmonious."

When the subject turned to the duties of college men in civic affairs the large gray eyes of the Mayor lit up with enthusiasm. "I can think of nothing more important than intelligent participation in municipal politics. Shortly after the election I wrote an article for the Harvard the "Northern Californian" of the now non-existent Arcata in Humboldt county.

'Crimson' upon just this subject. Entering into politics is like going to war, but in this war there are no rousing bands, streaming banners, or cheering crowds. Indeed, there is nothing at all of the heroic about it. A man who enters the list to wage a fight for honesty and intelligence is more likely to be called a horse-thief than a hero.

"He must be prepared to bear many charges. He will be accused of self-seeking and of personal ambition; he will be called names, his purpose will be challenged and his work held in suspicion. But let him have heart stout enough to bear it, for the service he can give his city will be satisfaction enough for him.

"Really the interest that a man of sincere purpose finds in serving his city is quite a recompense in itself. The knowledge that one is helping to make one's city better, nobler, and more beautiful, that one is safeguarding its interests by saving its money and protecting it from dishonest designs, should be sufficient appeal to attract the well-equipped college man.

"The young men of St. Xavier should realize that the administration of their city is more important to them than the politics of the state or of the nation. Municipal administration is now a profession, just as much as law or medicine. It has become a well ordered and intelligent proposition and is no longer a mere muddle of politics. The City Manager is a highly skilled professional man, who transacts his work with expert precision. Throughout the United States there are now 361 city managers, and this number will increase as more cities see the sanity of conducting their affairs on business lines.

"If the under-graduates do not wish to participate directly in city affairs by affiliating themselves with their respective ward activities, there is one suggestion I would like to make. In fact, it is an exhortation. Let them watch at the polls during election time. Many of the eastern college men are doing this, especially Columbia and Cornell. Whatever a man's politics, every good citizen wants to see justice done at the polls. But sad to say many an election is decided in the counting of the votes and not in the casting. This abuse

Educational Students Visit Summit

During the past week two groups of Rev. Thomas Reilly's class in the principles of education visited the Summit to become acquainted with the contract system of educating.

Under this system the pupils are assigned a certain amount of work to be finished each day. Their progress is noted by means of charts which each teacher prepares. Only twenty pupils are accepted for a class and their progress is remarkable.

The "contract system" is used with great success in England.

St. Xavier students especially attracted by the fact that no pupil attempts to write until he reaches the third grade. Up to that time he prints his assignments. The writing then taught is the manuscript style.

Another feature which interested the St. Xavier visitors is that French is begun in the first grade of the elementary school and when high school is reached the pupil is very skilled in its use.

A supervised course in musical appreciation is also open to the students as well as a complete musical department.

The St. Xavier men visited the school to see in actual practice the doctrine of self-activity as a means of educating children.

of the ballot must stop. And so I make an especial appeal to the college men to help us render this evil impossible."

By this time our interview was drawing to a close. I had hoped for five minutes and we found that we had been given more than half an hour. The Mayor stopped apologies and thanks, saying he always had a warm spot in his heart for St. Xavier.

"For you know both my father and my uncle were St. Xavier men. My father was in the class with Father Poland served as honorary chairman of the Alumni Association. I know how thorough was the education he received and I have always admired the ideals of St. Xavier."

THE "ATHENAEUM" IS GOOD

The "Athenaeum," one of the recent publications of St. Xavier College, in its second issue of the year, which was first sold on May 17, surpasses the first issue in excellence and interest. The entire staff deserve the greatest praise for their sincere efforts to break the ground for an intellectual paper at St. Xavier College. They have succeeded.

In the issue of May 17, Andree Berding, '26, the editor, shows supreme talent in his articles. "What Price Copy" and "From the Birds to the Bat" are expressive of the best literary spirit at St. Xavier College. The former is a one-act play, and if committed to the legitimate stage, would surpass its namesake, "What Price Glory." "From the Birds to the Bat" is a treatise on the evolution of the drama.

Supporting Berding are William Dammerall, with "Aerials and Apologetics," a pleasant bit of work on the advisability of Catholic Radio Stations—St. Xavier College should have one; Austin Welch, with his "Song of the Heart," and "A Centenary and an Ideal," is to be praised. The former is a short poem, the latter, a request to imitate St. Aloysius. Treatment is similar to that exemplified in the recent articles in America by Rev. Cyril Martindale, S. J.

Ronald Jeannougin, A. B., '25, in "Psychological Tests," advocates more strict entrance rules for college freshmen; Bernard Bonte shows deep knowledge of the classics in "Epics and Romances;" Robert Ruthman, '25, in "A Stock of Sneezes," is quite humorous. His point, we think, was humor.

In the way of a pleasant novelty, the editor has invited Harrison Conrad, a novelist, to present some poetry, and the author has consented. Thus we have in this issue "The Bullbat." It is very good. Earl Winter, '26, is humorous in a short poem, "Quite Past."

For the second time this year the News extends the hand of congratulation to the staff and writers of the "Athenaeum."—The Editor.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL TRACK MEET TO BE HELD MAY 29

Seventh Annual Track Meet AT CORCORAN FIELD MAY

The annual track meet for the seventh and eighth grade boys of the parochial schools in Greater Cincinnati and vicinity will take place this year at Corcoran Field, on May 29th. Preparations are being made for a larger number of entries this year than ever before. All the high school students are asked to do their bit in their respective parishes to secure entries and make the meet a success. See the Superioress of the school and talk the matter up among the seventh and eighth grade pupils you may happen to know. The number of entries depends on you.

The meet will be divided into two divisions—the senior and junior. All boys of five feet and over will be considered seniors, while those under five feet will be in the junior events. There will be eight events for each division; 50-yard, 100-yard and 220-yard dashes; running broad jump, running high jump, "hop, skip and jump," base running, baseball throw and relay race (four-man team).

The school scoring the highest number of points will be awarded a handsome trophy cup. The winner of the junior and of the senior events will each receive an individual cup. Medals will be awarded for first, second and third places in each event. In all fifty-two medals will be distributed. An entry fee of 25 cents will be charged to partially defray expenses of the meet.

High School Play A Great Success DESERVES PRAISE

Praudits from many have been showered on the High School Orchestra. The orchestra has come to be recognized as one of the most distinctive features of St. Xavier High School life. Not only is their technique admired but also their fine sense of musical balance. The instrumentation, which is more complete than has been seen at St. Xavier for years, allows the rendition of some of the most difficult and involved selections. This fact has been taken advantage of and a widespread of the popular classical numbers of world renowned masters have been presented during the course of the past year.

The orchestra deserves the special congratulations on its extraordinary showing at the Elocution Contests and at the High School play. Not only was the orchestra, as a whole, at its best, but the individual soloists also may be numbered among the best who have ever been heard in Memorial Hall. Al Kemme's rendition of "Ave Maria" was received so enthusiastically by the audience that, by special request, he repeated it on the following evening.

ENGAGEMENTS FOR ORCHESTRA

The high school orchestra has been engaged to play the precessional and recessional numbers at the outdoor campus commencement of St. Xavier College at 6 P. M., on June 9th.

The numbers selected are as follows:

- ElgarPomp and Circumstances
- MeyerberCoronation March
- March from Faust.
- GounodMarche Pontificale

DO YOU PRONOUNCE "BUSINESS" CORRECTLY?

To decide a dispute which arose in one of the English classes of the Liberal Arts Department over the pronunciation of the word "business," Ronald Jeanmougin, Registrar of the College, wrote to the editor of the Literary Digest, New York City.

In answering the inquiry of Mr. Jeanmougin the editor wrote: "The word 'business' should never have been pronounced as a word of two syllables. It is because it was so pronounced that it was frequently misspelled. The trend of modern pronunciation is to give the proper sounds to each one of these syllables. The pronunciation that you hear today is another of the illiterate pronunciations introduced from England. The correct pronunciation should be one of three syllables." As authorities he cites "The Standard of Pronunciation" by Thomas Lounsbury and "Critical Pronouncing Dictionary" by Walker.

PRAISE THAT IS MERITED

Seldom has any performance of a high school play met with quite as favorable a reception as last week's production. Here were all the elements necessary to complete success, a well trained cast, interested and earnest acting, a cleverly written comedy alive with situations, wholesome, and originally humorous, and an audience alert to the tone and fun of the whole and eager in their support of the cast. As long as dramatics have a place at good old St. Xavier, the production of 1926, "It Pays to Advertise," shall be spoken of with happy remembrance and with all possible praise for the director, Mr. Howard Roth.

Many students, perhaps, were not aware that the original score of "It Pays to Advertise," included five female characters, two of whom were leads, Miss Mary Grayson, and the French Countess, Madame de Bourien. Mr. Roth amended the play to suit the purposes of a boys' high school; Billy Gormley, Rodney's chum, was introduced in place of Miss Grayson, and the Count, the inimitable Robert Savage, filled out the other part. "It Pays to Advertise" is one of the most cleverly written of modern plays, and is well worth while as a bit of literary study.

Catholic Students' Mission Crusade

MEETS AT DAYTON JUNE 25-28

The Fifth National Convention of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, at the University of Dayton, June 25-28, will be conducted after the manner of a school of leadership, according to plans being made at the Crusade Castle, Cincinnati, national headquarters of the C. S. M. C.

Foremost among the educational features of the convention will be a number of round tables for mission study, each of which will be presided over by a nationally known mission expert.

Other novel features will be an evening of mission drama and the exemplification of the Crusade's Ritual of Initiation in the University of Dayton Stadium.

Attendance of a large number of Catholic educators and diocesan mission supervisors is expected at this convention in order to outline a new program of mission education for the Catholic student body of this country.

CHARACTER WORK WELL DONE

"It Pays to Advertise," the three act comedy, a farcical fact, presented this year by the High School Dramatic Society, has met with far greater success than any in former years. Under the able guidance of Mr. Edward C. Roth, the play was presented in true professional style. Without a doubt it is by far the best ever given at St. Xavier High School.

William Wise, '26, as Rodney Martin, the hero, a rich man's son, was at his best while John Cook, '26, played the publicity agent to perfection. Robert Savage, '26, as the Count di Brownen earned his share of applause and William Earls, '27, playing the part of Old Mr. Martin's secretary and Rodney's best friend certainly lived up to the high standard of the production. Needless to say that Ed Doyle, '26, did full justice to the character of Old Mr. Martin, Rodney's father, and a successful soap merchant who wants his son to work, but thinks that he cannot. Let us add that any time Wm. Kennedy is out of a job, he will have no difficulty in securing one as a butler. That pose of his was perfect.

SCHOLARSHIP EXAMS HELD ON MAY 15th

Camp DeSmet To Be Summer Playgrounds

CAPACITY OF JESUIT FRONTIER CAMP INCREASED BY POPULAR DEMAND

Camp DeSmet where Jesuit High School boys spent their summer vacation last year, is again calling. It is a cavalry camp, with a horse for every boy, gentle ones for those not skilled in riding and regular horses which can supply "pepper" for those already experienced in the sport or hose capable of managing Fords. The Mission Ranch has some wild horses, too; but if you want to try one of these outlaw bucking broncos, bring a written permission from home.

This is not like riding a shetland pony at Coney Island. This is the real stuff. South Dakota is "The Land of the Far Horizon." Literally the sky is the limit. Bring your own spurs.

Every week a long camping trip is made to some place worth going to see. Motor trucks carry heavy equipment. Camping out under the Western stars, wrapped in an Indian blanket, gathering 'round a real camp fire, watching the Sioux dance on July 4 at Rosclaud, touring the beautiful Black Hills, exploring the Bad Lands—these are only a few of the adventures promised to the group who will this year visit the camp. A pilgrimage to Old Fort Niobrara will be taken, and the three day rodeo at White River will not be overlooked.

To swim in the highest lake and climb the highest peak east of the Rockies; to explore the Wind Cave, largest in America; to visit the sight of Custer's "First Stand," and thousands of other dreams—will be realities at Camp DeSmet.

This year the limit is 40 boys. The list is filling up. Applications have been received from Omaha, Los Angeles, Chicago, Cleveland, Dayton, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

Each boy will be charged $20 a week. This includes everything except railroad fare. We have in chartered Pullmans on Sunday, June 27. See Mr. Reardon, S. J., at once or get in touch with the Camp Director, Father T. S. Bowdern, S. J., St. Louis University, Grand and Pine, St. Louis, Mo. The camp is under complete supervision of the Jesuits.

LAST WEEK WAS BEST, ATHLETICALLY IN SCHOOL HISTORY

MARSHALL

FALLS IN FIRST GAME

The St. Xavier College Musketeers romped home with an easy win in their first game with Marshall College of Huntington, W. Va. The final count was 12-2, the Xaverians gathering their tallies in totals of 2, 3, 5 and 2, while the Marshall batsmen were held hitless after the fifth inning.

The feature of the hard hitting contest was the superior hurling of "Pude" Beatty, who gave the visitors but four scattered safeties. He was their complete master at all stages of the game, forcing the hitters to eat out of his hand. Dick Bray had a wonderful afternoon with the stick, gathering three safe bingles out of four trips to the plate. Harry Albers continued his spectacular slugging, when he cut in with a double in the sixth frame to clear the clogged sacks.

The only redeeming feature of the game for the West Virginians was the fast and steady fielding of the first sacker, Poleieg. He also accounted for one of their four safeties.

REYNOLD'S

AND CO. DEFEAT MARSHALL IN SECOND GAME

Coach Joe Meyer of St. Xavier College pulled a piece of strategy at Corcoran Field yesterday afternoon when he sent George Reynolds, veteran first baseman, to the box against Marshall College, and the makeshift worked successfully to the tune of 6 to 2.

Meyer found himself in a predicament when Charley O'Grady, sophomore hurler, was unable to twirl. Paul Beatty won his contest from Marshall the previous day 12 to 2, while Joe Kelly was assigned to pitch the next day's game with Eastern Kentucky Normal. The fourth "bet" was Eddy Burns, but this man has not yet rounded into form.

Reynolds offered to take the mound and Meyer gave him the chance. Reynolds allowed only seven hits and never was in any real danger.

Harry Albers, who was switched to third base in the contest, played brilliantly, both on the green and with the stick. Albers pounded out three hits out of four times up. He made a great stop in the sixth inning, the result of which forced him from the encounter. In making his stop Albers injured the small finger on his right hand. He will be in shape to play against Eastern Kentucky Normal, it was announced from the athletic office following the game.

Besides pitching a fine game, Reynolds hit safely three out of four times. Farrington, Marshall third sacker, knocked out two hits, one of which was a double.

FLOPS WILMINGTON SECOND TIME

St. Xavier's tennis team journeyed to Wilmington last Wednesday and defeated the Quakers in three singles and two doubles matches. The Musketeers were in fine form, and encountered little trouble in any of the matches played.

This week Coach Furste's men are preparing to meet the racqueters of Kentucky State University on May 21. The following day they play Michigan State College. Both meets will be played on Corcoran Field.

The results of the Wilmington games were:

Singles

Captain Tommy Clines defeated Roger Villars 6-1, 6-1. Bill Clines defeated Charles Metcalfe 6-1, 6-3. Fred Lamping defeated George Pierson 6-0, 6-4.

Doubles

Clines and Clines defeated Villars and Metcalfe 6-0, 6-3. Lamping and Manley defeated Pierson and Bodley 6-2, 6-3.

THE SIXTH

MUSKIES MAKE IT SIX IN A ROW

With a rip roaring finish in the closing innings that brought the crowd to its feet, the Musketeers made it 6 in a row by winning a 12 inning battle from the Eastern Kentucky Teachers 8-7. The game was close throughout, with the Teachers taking an early lead, and holding it until the eighth when an error, a triple by Rapp, and a screaming double by Harry Albers, pinch-hitting for Phelan tied the count, and prolonged the game into extra innings.

The game was crowded with features, but perhaps the outstanding event of the day was the sterling performance of Mark Schmidt on the mound from the seventh inning on. Kelly started the fray, but he was far from right, and the Teachers nicked him for seven runs in the first six innings. Kelly was not entirely at fault, however, as his team-mates played ragged ball behind him and put him in numerous bad places. "Smitty" and Kel changed places at the beginning of the seventh, and from then on, he was complete master of the situation. Only four hits were made off his delivery, and he struck out six of the Kentucky sluggers. In addition to this his line single in the twelfth round with Reynolds and Beatty on the bags broke up the game, and sent the fans home in a happy frame of mind.

In the early part of the contest, the play on the Musketeer side was poor, and with Hays pitching airtight ball with men on base, it looked bad for the blue and white. Hays weakened in the sixth, and from then on Coach Meyer's charges fought an uphill battle until the eighth when Rapp and Albers took matters into their own hands and tied the game up.

AGAIN

MUSKETEER BALL CLUB IS VICTORIOUS

With Beatty pitching in his usual airtight form the St. Xavier Musketeers won their fourth victory of the week, and their seventh in a row, by trouncing the Antioch College Pastimers, 11 to 8, in a fast and interesting game at Corcoran Field Saturday. Beatty was complete master of the situation from the start, and with his mates in a batting mood he breezed through to easy triumph.

The Antioch batters found his delivery for nine safe blows, but these he kept well scattered and was never in danger. In addition he struck out six batters and issued only one base on balls.

Antioch scored first in the second inning, when Moore singled, took second on Dawson's fly to Beatty and scored on Allen's single to center. The Musketeers got busy in the third and scored five counters off Toomire's hurling.

Beatty opened the inning by beating out a hit to short. Bray bunted safely and Albers beat out a bunt to third, filling the bases. Boyle singled to right, scoring Beatty and Bray.

Reynolds was safe on Alexander's error and Albers scored. Schmidt beat out a hit to short and Boyle scored.

On Rapp's hit to third Reynolds counted and Schmidt was forced at second. Kelly was hit, but Buerger hit into a double play, retiring the side.

The Musketeers added two in the sixth, two in the seventh and two in eighth, while Antioch counted their final markers in the eighth, when vanced to second on a wild pitch and Stump walked after two were out, ad-scored on Snyder's single to short. Snyder registered on singles by Toomire and Moore. Dawson struck out to end the inning.

Beatty, besides pitching a fine game, was the big noise with the stick, getting three safe blows out of four trips to the plate. Albers and Schmidt each connected safely twice, while Moore, left fielder for Antioch, hit three safely to lead his team in batting.
