XAVIER WARRIORS ARE READY FOR FIRST GRID TEST

FINE PROSPECTS

FOR 1926 FOOTBALL SEASON

The St. Xavier College "Musketeer" football squad inaugurated the season of 1926 with the initial practice on September 13th. The call of Coach Meyer was answered by over fifty sturdy aspirants, in addition to the fourteen remaining letter men of last year.

The coaching staff has been increased by the return of Jerry Jones, the Musketeer line coach of 1922 and 1923. It will be recalled that Jones gathered his football knowledge and made his letter at Notre Dame University, having been there at the same time as head coach Joe Meyer. Coach John Noppenberger, who tutored St. Xavier's line forces last season, has returned after having undergone a major operation during the summer. In addition to these, the candidates will be aided by Dr. Wesley Furste, team physician, and Harold "Buck" Greene, trainer.

The fourteen letter men of last season are headed by Captain Herb Rapp. He is one of the most brilliant centers ever to wear the Musketeer colors. Last year, "Hub" was honored with the Musketeer Legion of Honor trophy. In addition to

ALUMNUS AND FRIEND

OF ST. XAVIER'S PASSED AWAY DURING THE SUMMER

Dr. Ancel C. Minor, who graduated from St. Xavier College in 1905, died on July 5, 1926. Dr. Minor was a fervent friend of St. Xavier College and especially of the young graduates of that college. He was one of the most ardent rooters of whom our "Alma Mater" can boast. In his own day, Dr. Minor was as fine a football player as this college saw.

Dr. Minor was a widely known dentist. He graduated from Ohio Dental College, practicing first in Detroit, Mich., only to return to Cincinnati, where he soon developed a great reputation.

It is only with the greatest sadness that we refer to Dr. Minor's death. The entire student body and faculty of the college extend sincerest sympathy to the family of Dr. Minor. Requiescat in peace.

MONOGRAMS OF OTHER SCHOOLS TABOO ON CAMPUS

A hard and fast rule which was inaugurated last year, that sweaters bearing monogram letters of any prep-schools or colleges other than St. Xavier are banned on the college campus will be enforced this year. Sweaters of St. Xavier High School are included in the ban.

School of Education Announces Courses

The announcement of the School of Education, conducted on Saturday mornings and weekday afternoons, at the High School building, Seventh and Sycamore streets, has been issued. Courses will be offered in Economics, Education, Psychology, History, English, French, Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Library Science, Hygiene and Spanish.

One Master Degree and forty Bachelor Degrees were conferred by this department in August. Many normal diplomas were also issued.

The faculty of this school includes members of the Liberal Arts faculty. Rev. George Kister, S. J., is Dean.

He also announced the gift of forty-eight volumes to the new library. They were donated by Mr. Geo. E. Mills, an Attorney-at-Law, 714-715 Mercantile Library Building of this city.

REV. XAVIER SUTTON DIED ON JULY 29, 1926

Rev. Xavier Sutton, who graduated from St. Xavier College in 1874, died during the past summer. Father Sutton was a renowned member of the Catholic Order of Passionist Fathers. Rev. Sutton was a great orator, was rector of the Passionist Congregations in Baltimore and Chicago, and held the office of Provincial Consultor from 1914 until 1917. St. Xavier College sends its sincerest sympathy to the family of Father Sutton.

SUMMERTIME CLAIMS ANOTHER XAVIER GRADUATE

Frank J. Moorman, '80, died at his home on McMillan Street, June 19, 1926. Mr. Moorman was a great friend of St. Xavier College in addition to his being an Alumnus. He was also one of Cincinnati's greatest lawyers. May he rest in peace.

MUSKETEERS' FIRST OPPONENT IS CEDARVILLE COLLEGE

St. Xavier College opens its 1926 football schedule on Saturday, September 25th, at Corcoran Field, when they meet the grid men of Cedarville College.

Coach Meyer and his associates having been working the candidates overtime, due to the schedule, which opens a week earlier than usual. He is confronted with a giant's task in turning out a polished combination in such a short space of time. However, it is certain that on next Saturday, when the Musketeers take the field against Cedarville, they will be prepared to go through one of the most difficult schedules yet to confront a St. Xavier team.

At the present time, Cedarville is more or less an unknown quantity, but judging from previous years, their team will not be an unworthy foe for the Musketeer's opening encounter.

The remainder of the schedule:

- Sept. 25—Cedarville at Corcoran Field.
- Oct. 2—Transylvania at Corcoran Field.
- Oct. 9—Quantico Marines at Corcoran Field.
- Oct. 16—University of Louisville at Corcoran Field.
- Oct. 23—Kenyon at Corcoran Field.
- Oct. 30—Marshall at Corcoran Field.
- Nov. 6—Toledo University at Corcoran Field.
- Nov. 13—(pending)
- Nov. 20—West Virginia Wesleyan at Corcoran Field.
- Nov. 25—Haskell Indians at Corcoran Field.

SYMPATHY

The faculty and student body extend their sympathy to the relatives of Mrs. Peiper, mother of William Peiper, '28; Miss Mary Paddock, aunt of Murray Paddock, '26; Mrs. Josephine Corbett, mother of Jerome Corbett, '23, and David Corbett, '29; and Rev. Henry Huerman, S. J., also an alumnus.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Rev. D. M. O'Connell, S. J., Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, announced the appointments of William McCarthy, '27, and Edward McGrath, '28, as editor and business manager respectively of the 1927 annual.

COLLEGE WILL PRODUCE A PLAY . . . BEFORE CHRISTMAS . . .

Evening School of Commerce Opens Sept. 17

Last Friday evening, September 17, the evening school of St. Xavier College began the school year of 1926-27. The faculty list is as follows:

Rev. Ormund P. D'Haene, S. J., the new regent of the evening School of Commerce of St. Xavier College conducted five nights a week at the college buildings at Seventh and Sycamore streets, will head the faculty list in this department.

J. D. Cloud is dean of the school, and Charles H. Purdy, secretary and registrar.

The faculty list includes: Alfred E. Braun, C. P. A., lecturer on Industrial Organization; Alfred H. Brenel, B. C. S., C. P. A., lecturer on accounting and industrial organization; William T. Burns, A. B., lecturer on bookkeeping and preparatory accounting; Elmer L. Conway, A. M., LL. B., lecturer on contracts; Frank J. Crane, B. C. S., C. P. A., lecturer on cost accounting; Edward T. Dixon, A. M., LL. D., lecturer on insurance; Alfred T. Geisler, LL. B., lecturer on commercial law and English; Joseph P. Goodenough, A. B., LL. B., lecturer on corporations.

"THE RIVALS"

To Be First Production Of Masquers

REV. JOHN F. WALSH, S. J., TO DIRECT

Initial preparations for the production of "The Rivals," by Robert Brinsley Sheridan, were made at the first meeting of the Masque Society, Monday. Selection of the cast and opening rehearsals will probably be held this week. No definite date has as yet been set for the performance of the comedy.

Rev. John F. Walsh, S. J., faculty director of the Masque Society, who was responsible for the success of the "Merchant of Venice" last year, will supervise the staging of "The Rivals."

An innovation in the college theatricals will be introduced in the production of "The Rivals" in that all the stage settings and lighting effects will be designed and built by members of the Masque Society.

All students of the College are eligible to become members of the Masque Society and take part in the play either as members of the cast or the technical or business staff.

POLICY

Think, Talk and Live St. Xavier.
Ample encouragement to all activities: academic, athletic, dramatic, forensic, literary and social.

Operation of this newspaper as the student voice.

AIM

A co-operative bond between alumni, undergraduates and faculty.

Placement of college loyalty above departmental prejudices.

MEANS

A newsy, peppy, optimistic college paper.

A NEW LIBRARY

When colleges and universities are small, their libraries are usually small and poorly stocked; as a college grows, not only in size but also in the type of student it turns out, the college library is usually a flourishing thing, the rendezvous of the entire college personnel.

What we are trying to state is this: the size of a college, as compared to other colleges, is proportional with the size of its library. A large institution of higher thought and deed, as a rule, is the proud possessor of a beautiful, well-stocked, and well-used library. A mediocre university or college may have a beautiful building and even a large stack room, but no students take advantage of that library and as a result both the college and the library become medium as compared to other colleges and libraries.

Last year when we left St. Xavier's for the summer, a half completed library building stood on our campus; the other day when we returned, what a beautiful sight met our eyes: a large, pretentious building; in fact, our largest; beautiful, white walls; wonderfully clean class rooms; a magnificent student chapel, and best of all the most appropriate reading room that we have thus far been allowed to see in our country. Other colleges may have monstrous affairs called libraries, with oodles and oodles of books, but none could be more conducive to study, none will have a better stocked library than St. Xavier College, before a very long time has passed.

Now, to people this library; a beautiful building and lots of books do not make a library. The faculty has exhorted the student body to use this library, which should not be necessary. We know the students will read and write, study and prepare in this library; if any one fails to visit this library his class pride and college spirit are not Xaverian. Therefore, since you have a college's greatest gift, use it.

MAGAZINE SECTION

HELLO!

"Hello, Joe! Howza boy? Gee, but I'm glad to see you."

During the past week, we have heard the above greeting a hundred times and more. It is a season of good cheer and fellowship and cartoonists and would-be comedians to the contrary notwithstanding, to the college man it is good to get back to school. It is only now that we realize that we have really looked forward to the opening of the year, to the renewal of all those activities, athletic, social and scholastic, which constitute the college man's very existence. Whether we admit it or no, we are glad to get back, to meet the crowd, to start things going.

And almost in the same breath with the greetings, come inevitable questions. What will the teams do this year? Who'll the Prom Committee be? What schools will the college debate? What kind of an Annual will we have? Who'll make the play? And so on endlessly. All of which really amounts to, "Hello, Xavier, how are you? Gee, but I'm glad to see you! Let's get going!"

That's the idea. Let's get going; everyone doing something for St. Xavier, and all St. Xavier behind every activity and every man. Last year was one of innovation. This year is one of proof. We can make or break the new organizations. It's up to us. Let's get going!

RULES

PRESENTED TO ARTS STUDENTS

Rev. Daniel M. O'Connell, S. J., Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, on the morning of September 15, read the college rules to the student body. Father O'Connell also advised the students to take advantage of the extra-curricular activities of the school. Gambling on the premises, ungentlemanly behavior or impudence are punishable with suspension and dismissal. Students, arriving tardy for class, will be credited with an absence at that particular class. Credit points and credit hours were explained to those not understanding this system. All were advised of the democratic spirit, so prevalent on the campus, of the family-like union existing between the student body and the faculty, and of the fine precedents, which have been set by former students of the college.

SODALITIES CONVENE

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which has always been the most prominent religious society in St. Xavier, held its first meeting last week. The large amount of students made it necessary to form two sections of the Sodality. The seniors, juniors and sophomores comprise one group, while the other section is composed of freshmen. The meeting of the upper classmen was held Friday, September 17, at 11:30, in the Library Chapel, with Rev. J. F. Walsh, S. J., presiding as moderator. The Freshmen convened on Thursday at the same hour and at the same place, with Rev. T. J. Smith, S. J., as moderator.

To One Contemplating "Going To College"

Going to college is not like getting married. There is no dramatic finality, no hard and fast proposition connected with it. Graduating from college has something of the definite, something of achievement about it—or at least it used to have. But the mere "going" to college is not at all dramatic since it is not at all definite. It is not a case of going or not going, not a case of belonging or being an outcast for the very simple reason, that in these days of Wholesale Culture, every second man seems to have put in some time at some sort of a college. Matriculation is no longer a mystery; it is a matter of fact. The business of signing one's name on a college register is not half the gesture that the exalted, high-school senior fancies it to be. It is not a magic rite that changes the exoteric to the esoteric because it is not at all extraordinary.

In a word, there is no miracle performed upon him who submits himself to a college education. College is not going to give you anything; you must take what you want from college. Or to phrase it in copy-book style: There is no such thing as a passive student. Do not imagine, therefore, that because you have made up your mind to go to college, it is only a question of time until culture, or at least credits, will come to you. It is highly possible that you will not even get a grasp on Civilization. To begin college is not to begin your education. You will begin your education when you begin to educate yourself at college.

Now I do not propose to discourage anyone from a college education. Personal observation, however, has convinced me that I could do nothing better than smash a few illusions that only hinder one considering college work. I believe great good can be done by stressing the insignificance of "Starting College." Should aspirants be convinced that the trick is to finish college, a finished product, which the student himself has finished, and not over-estimate the entrance to the course, two great boons would result. Some might be discouraged when they find out that to be enrolled is not to be educated, and so never start, thus helping save the fast-fading prestige of the college man. Others, when their view of the matter is freed from the tints of inaccuracy, would realize the importance of initiative and personal activity and so get down to work immediately; much to their own benefit. They could decide then for themselves. And their decision would not be, whether or not they wished to go to college, but the far more important proposition: What they wished to do when they got to college.

—W. J. D.

Football Prospects

Rapp, there is Mark Schmidt, a guard playing his third season of collegiate football; Carl Steinbicker, a tackle of two years' experience; Joe Kelly, three-letter man, is also playing his last year of college athletics. Kelly held down the fullback position on last year's team. The remaining senior letter man is Paul Gosiger, rangy end on the Musketeer eleven of 1925.

The squad is further strengthened by the return of Buck Wenzel, giant tackle, and Bob King, shifty end. These men were forced from the game in the early part of last season, but they have returned in excellent shape for the hard grind.

The remaining seven letter men are juniors: Matt Allgeier, halfback; Eddie Burns, halfback; "Ossie" Presto, halfback; while the linesmen are Joe Huerger, Herb Janszen, Spotty Specht and Mark Scheibert, who has been shifted to line duty because of his towering strength.

In addition to the letter men, Coach Meyer has a flock of promising sophomore material and a number of men from last year's squad. They are: Gordon Nead, "Poke" Manley, Tommy Clines, Johnny Williams, Tom Bunker, and Dan Tehan. The sophomores are Frank Swann, "Chip" Cain, Bill Hartlage, Tom Daugherty, Jim Bolger, Brad Sullivan, Joe Switalski, Eddie O'Hara, Joe McGuinn, Ray King, and Ralph Hess.

Jimmy Curran, last year's assistant manager, has been appointed to the

COACH SAVAGE

During the summer months "X" Hi Athletic authorities, probably seeing the decline suffered in athletics during the past year, scouted far and wide for an athletic pilot, capable of guiding "X" Hi's destiny in athletics to a successful end and uphold the school's prestige.

Their labors were well rewarded for a capable man in the person of Mr. Daniel Savage was selected. This will not be Mr. Savage's first venture into the field of athletic coaching. For the past four years Mr. Savage has been mentor of the St. Louis University "Billikins", to which position he arose from athletic director at the St. Louis University Hi.

You may judge for yourself Mr. Savage's ability as a football coach from the following scores of the important games of the "Billikins". In 1923, the "Billikins" played a scoreless tie with Missouri, the Missouri Valley Conference champs; and in their final game of the season lost to Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen" by a score of only 13 to 0, after a remarkable fight. In 1924, the "Billikins" stopped "Herb" Wilson, all-American Army half-back, only to be defeated because of Army's larger squad, 17 to 0. In basketball his success has been overwhelmingly great, winning four-fifths of the number of games played.

So it looks pretty certain that Mr. Savage with an even break will keep up "X" Hi prestige by bringing home the Catholic Championship in the three major sports.

The Aim OF THE NEWS

It is an opinion among newspaper men that the public will not read that which is not interesting. That, perhaps, is why the daily sheets print much that is not at all helpful and some matter that is absolutely tawdry. The Xaverian News will, of course, endeavor to avoid this latter class of news, and will strive to present matter that is helpful and at the same time interesting enough to demand attention. Indeed it is only in this way that the paper can hope to fulfill its end. To be read by every student; to be a convenient means of information about school activities, and a forum for the expression of school thought; to give those who desire it practise in writing for publication; to give you—all of you—something to be proud of, to work and cheer for, to prove to the world at large that yours is a progressive, alert first class school—this is the purpose of the Xaverian News. The large and competent staff will endeavor in every way to give you a readable paper; and is confident that with the co-operation of the student body and the kind guidance of Mr. Bernard J. Muellner, S. J., it will be able to put forth a better, more interesting, and possibly a larger News than ever before.

—Dan O'Brien.

WELCOME HOME

After a lapse of three months the sound of the bell calls the student from his summer vacation back to the books again. Once more the corridors echo with the laughter and talk of bright-faced, gay youths. There is a great deal of hand-shaking and telling of vacation trips and experiences. Happy groups of four and five pass down the stairs; everybody is in the best of spirits—but—but—

Off in one corner, we espy a meek youth. Yes, you've guessed it—a freshman! He stands there mouth wide open, eyes bulging from their sockets, drinking in everything that goes on. It is something new to him; something he has never seen or experienced before. Now he believes the things which he read in that great classic: "Dick Merriwell at Yale."

Freshmen, you no longer are members of the grammar school. You have passed that stage and have now come to that wonderful institution "where men are men and freshmen taught to be themselves." Have courage! In a few days all this strangeness will have passed and you will be full-fledged members of St. Xavier.

This, the ninety-fifth anniversary of the history of St. Xavier, is destined to be the best socially, scholastically, and athletically. Therefore, the co-operation of everyone in the building is supposed to be a whole-hearted interest to make this year of 1926-1927 a success. Remember the slogan:

"Think, Talk, and Live St. Xavier."

—John T. Anton.

Large Freshman Classes Swell Registration

By far the largest in years is the present enrollment of ambitious students who have invaded our classrooms. No less than six hundred boys are plugging away at their studies. The school is crowded with "green" freshmen whose vast number requires six class-rooms. Some pessimistic seniors have practically despaired of the mental possibilities of the present Freshman class, but others more optimistic have not yet given the "Freshies" up as hopeless.

Our old students, no doubt, have noticed the several improvements which have been made since last June. The Physics and Chemistry courses have been benefitted greatly by the wealth of apparatus and material that has been placed in the laboratories.

—Art. Linz.

NEWS STAFF CHOSEN

At a meeting last Wednesday, Dan O'Brien was made editor of the High School department of The News. He will be assisted by the following staff editors: Arthur Linz, Norbert Mairose, Louis Feldhaus, Bernard Burke, John Brennan, John Anton, Daniel Tobin, William Scanlon, Thomas Insko, Frank Phelan, John Healy and Francis Brearton. Other members of the staff and their duties are: Artist, Dan Tobin; headlines, Lawrence Dupree and Arthur Scherer; make-up, Bob Schmidt; proof-readers, Robert Dapper, Francis Herzog, August Fath and Paul Hilbert; copy, John Anton, Louis Feldhaus, George Rooney, Frank Burns, and Harry Witte; circulation, Arthur Linz, Edward Brueggeman, Joseph Van De Ryt, and Paul Desmond. The various department editors are: Sports, Scanlon, Tobin and Phelan; Sodalties, Brennan and Brearton; Activity Cup, Mairose; Scholastic, Dapper, Dressman and Rooney; Music, Insko and Anton; Elocution, Dramatics and Debating, Linz, Earls and Insko; Interview, Features, and Visitors will be taken care of by Editor O'Brien and specially assigned reporters.

The class representatives are: Fourth Year, Linz, Mairose, Walters, and Dressman; Third Year, Brueggeman, Ostholtoff, Scherer and Anton; Second Year, Glenn, Landenwitsch, Thornbury, Reitz, Hosty and Brietter.

A new feature of the High School section is the complete organization of the staff under exclusive student management. Weekly meetings will be held by the editors to discuss the previous issue, to devise means of improving the High School page, and to distribute assignments. Literary articles and news squibs will be accepted from any students and will be very welcome.

OFF AGAIN!

The first football meeting was held on Monday, 13th, in the law library. About eighty ambitious, loyal sons of St. Xavier's reported to meet the new coach, Mr. Dan. Savage, and learn the plan of campaign for the coming season. Much applause answered the announcement of the athletic director, Mr. N. H. Mann, S. J., about an early quitting hour. Mr. Savage's training rules impressed the earnest players and possibly shunned away a few who would not keep in shape. So we hope that old St. X. is off on one of her best seasons under Mr. Savage's capable guidance.

—Tom Insko.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

Due to the continuance of Daylight Saving Time throughout the winter, the schedule of St. Xavier High has been changed, as it was feared that either the students or their families would be inconvenienced by the former hours.

The schedule for the present is as follows:

9:00 A. M.—Holy Mass.
9:30 A. M.—Class.
10:20 A. M.—Recess.
12:20 P. M.—Lunch.
12:45 P. M.—Class.
2:30 P. M.—Dismissal.

—George Rooney.

HIGH WARRIOR READY

Football practise has started, and everyone is wondering what kind of team we will have this year. We are quite certain that the team, under the leadership of Bob Egbers, will give their opponents some real St. Xavier fight.

—Dan Tobin.

A. Welply, A. B., LL. B., instructor in English; Bernard J. Wuellner, S. J., A. B., instructor in Latin, English and religion; Edward A. Zeil, secretary.

Of the faculty of last year who have not returned, Mr. Arthur F. Hoogstraet, S. J., is teaching Theology at St. Louis University; Mr. Wm. McAuliff has entered the Grand Seminary at Montreal, and Mr. John M. Shea, the athletic coach of the year 1925-26 is teaching in the East.

CHANGES ARE MADE

The enrollment in the College of Liberal Arts is again the largest in the history of the school. About three hundred and fifty have registered; these come from ten different states and one foreign country, according to an announcement of the dean, Rev. Daniel M. O'Connell, S. J.

Several new professors have been appointed and six new classrooms are in use. For the first time in its history, the college is offering a fourth year of modern language. Another innovation is the obligatory Orientation course for freshmen. The first lecture of this course was given on the use of the library by Miss Alma L'Hommedieu, librarian.

All students will attend the chapel assembly held Wednesday mornings at eight-thirty. Besides this, each student must attend the class Mass one other day each week.

NEW COURSES

Two courses are open to students of third and fourth year English. One is the essay, given by Rev. John F. Walsh, S. J., and the other is Dante's Divine Comedia, given by Mr. J. H. Meyers.

Pre-legal and pre-dental students will be obliged to take the course in philosophy previously reserved for pre-medics. The heavy registration of the upper-classmen for this year's course in analytical geometry is especially gratifying to the faculty.

FACULTY MEMBERS

One of the new members of the Liberal Arts faculty is Father Dershug, who has been a professor at St. Xavier High School since 1918. Father Dershug is Professor of junior-senior Latin.

Mr. Herr, S. J., has been appointed Director of the seismological station and Associate Professor of Chemistry. Mr. Herr is a student of Rev. W. Macelwane, distinguished Jesuit Seismologist.

Mr. Joseph Meyers, '25, and A. M. Princeton, '26, is a new instructor in the English department. Mr. Meyers and Mr. Robert Ruthman, A. B., intend to prepare a new lecture for the Dante Club during the coming year.

Mr. Timothy J. O'Connor, A. B., Holy Cross, A. M., St. Francis College, Loretto, Pa., succeeds Rev. Edward Morgan, S. J., as Professor of Chemistry. Mr. O'Connor taught this subject at St. Francis and was Professor of Chemistry at Holy Cross last year. Father Morgan has received a leave of absence and is preparing for the Doctor of Philosophy in Chemistry at Ohio State University.

Mr. Peter O'Donnell, A. M., St. Louis University, has been made Professor of History. Mr. O'Donnell will have courses in American, Modern, and Current history.

The department of Biology will be under the direction of Dr. Leonard Wuest, M. D., and Mr. Alvin Murphy. The former will give the lectures and Mr. Murphy will be laboratory assistant.

Miss Alma L'Hommedieu, formerly of the public library of Cincinnati, is instructor of Library Science and Librarian.

Other members of the faculty who served last year are: Mr. Francis DeHaye, S. J., Assistant Librarian; Rev. Alphonse Fisher, S. J., Instructor in Philosophy; Mr. Ronald Jeanmougin, A. B., Instructor in Mathematics; Rev. William Kane, S. J., Professor of Education; Rev. Joseph Keifer, S. J., Professor of Greek; Rev. Peter McCartney, S. J., Professor of French; Rev. Clement Martin, S. J., Instructor in Latin; Mr. John K. Mussio, A. M., Instructor in English; Rev. Chas. Meehan, S. J., Professor of Philosophy; Dr. F. Pena, A. M., M. D., Professor of Spanish; Rev. Thomas Reilly, S. J., Professor of Sociology; Rev. John Senhauser, S. J., Professor of German; Rev. Thomas Smith, S. J., Professor of Religion; Rev. John F. Walsh, S. J., Instructor in Philosophy; Rev. Joseph Wilcsewski, S. J., Professor of Physics and Mathematics.

Mr. John Ryan, S. J., last year Professor of Biology, is making his theological studies at St. Louis University.

With the hemispherical integrator the illuminating engineer measures light intensities and distribution. These laboratory findings are practically applied to improve our everyday illumination.

When the sun goes down

More than 350,000,000 incandescent lamps, with a combined light of nine billion candlepower, make city streets, stores, and homes brighter than ever before.

In bungalow or mansion, workshop or factory, dormitory or auditorium, there is no excuse for poor illumination. We have cheaper and better lighting in the electric lamp than ever before; for the dollar that bought 1,115 candlepower-hours of light with the carbon-filament lamps of 1886, now buys 16,200 candlepower-hours of light with the MAZDA lamps.

Not only more light, but correctly applied light, is the order of the day. The electric lamp, with its flameless yet highly concentrated light source, lends itself ideally to reflectors, shades, and screens. It is controlled light—safe light. And illumination becomes an exact science.

During college days and in after life, correct lighting must ever be of paramount importance to the college man and woman. Good lighting is the worthy handmaiden of culture and progress.

The General Electric Company is the world's largest manufacturer of incandescent lamps. And behind the G-E MAZDA lamps are vast research laboratories dedicated to cheaper and better electric illumination, and to the conservation of eyesight.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.
