QUANTICO MARINES SUNK BY MUSKETEER PASSES

BLUE AND WHITE BETTER DESPITE ODDS

FIRST TEAM STARS: SCORE, XAVIER, 27; MARINES, 11

Did they play football, and did they win? Why, my lads, it was the best piece of work yet turned in around St. Xavier College since that institution began, many years ago. All of which goes to show that confidence is the big thing, or at least a large factor in winning football games.

That team, which went out on the field last Saturday had confidence, and that team won its game; of course, besides confidence, there was ability and fine ability; and, also, we noted, clean-cut, quick and correct brain work. That gang from Quantico knew their football, but the Musketeers knew theirs a little better. Outweighed, Xavier could do little with a straight game; so, they logically chose one, in which brawn was not all, and they chose correctly.

Speed and brain characterized the Musketeers, while brawn, conspicuously notable by its lack of brain, was the mark of the fighting marines. True, they fought; any Xavier line man can tell you that, but, oh, how they thought. In short, the Musketeers thought rings around them.

Well, the old contest with Quantico is stowed away and we are glad: glad, first, because some folks (no names mentioned) thought so much of the big green team as to bet against it; and, second, because some of the small fry of this so called Ohio Conference might sit up and take notice. Xavier fooled the first group and made the second look sick.

Displaying the finest brand of football ever played by a Xavier team, Coach Meyer's Battling Musketeers repulsed the invasion of the Quantico Marines last Saturday at Corcoran Field, 27 to 11.

The "Leather-necks" came to Cincinnati to uphold the motto made famous by Gene Tunney, "The Fighting Marine." However, they met a super-line in Rapp, Tehan, Wenzel, Schaudt, Schiebert, Gosiger and McGrath. It was Xavier's line that battled on even terms with the heavy Marine forward wall in the opening period, and then called upon the scoring machine of Beatty, Allgeier, Kelly and Daugherty to cut loose with a bewildering over-head attack that completely squelched the Marines.

So deceptive was the Musketeer forward passing attack, that the Marines, frantic in their efforts to stop the Musketeers, often tackled the Xaverians backs without the ball.

LOUISVILLE

PRESENTS FORMIDABLE FOE

Coach Joe Meyer's Musketeers will be participants in one of the most evenly matched contests of the schedule when they meet the University of Louisville next Saturday. The "Cardinals," under the coaching of Tom King have not been scored on in the last two years, aside from a lone safety, registered by Marshall College.

This year they have continued on their march with two victories marked against Ogden College and Rose Polytechnic Institute. It stands that they will come to Corcoran Field ready to give real battle in order to preserve their record intact.

The game will have two unusual features in so far as both teams employ the Rockne style of play and that it marks a brother and brother conflict. Coach Tom King, formerly mentor at St. Xavier High School will send his team against the Musketeers, who have Bob King at one of the ends. The brothers hail from Whites-town, Indiana. Tom became an all-Western end at Notre Dame, while Bob promises to rival his brother's athletic prowess at St. Xavier.

The Musketeers are in fine fettle after their hard contest of last Saturday and promise to break the winning streak of the Fall City boys. The game will be called at 2:30 at Corcoran Field.

PHILOPEDIAN

HOLDS FIRST DEBATE

The opening debates of the year was staged at the Philopedian Society meeting on October 4. The subject was "Resolved: That all able bodied male citizens of the United States be compelled to perform one year of military service before reaching the age of twenty-one." Albert Berger, '27, and Thomas Bohne, '28, upheld the affirmative, while Robert Clark, '28, and William Clines, '29, vigorously defended the negative. The judges, Edwin Haman, '29, James Nolan, '28, and James Quill, '28, awarded the decision to the negative.

Edward J. McGrath, '28, the critic, named William Clines as the best prepared and most forceful speaker of

GLEE CLUB

BEING FORMED

Another step in establishing music as a curricular activity at the college was made last week with the announcement that a St. Xavier College Glee Club will be formed. Efforts to secure a competent director for the organization are being made.

Regular concerts are planned in conjunction with college dramatic performances, while it is hoped that some may be given in nearby cities.

Mr. John Musio is Faculty Director of the Glee Club.

OUTLINES PLANS

The Dante Club, under the faculty supervision of Mr. Joseph Meyers and Mr. Robert Ruthman, has outlined a pretentious program for the present year, according to Eugene Perazzo, '26, President of the club.

It has been tentatively decided to give three different lectures. The subjects will be "Dante's Divine Comedy," "The Jesuit Martyrs," and "The Crusades." It is planned to start lecturing November 10th.

The personnel of the organization is as follows: Wm. Dammarrell, '28; Morse Conroy, '29; Louis Keller, '29; Robert Willmes, '29, and Gale Grogan, '29. Edward McGrath is Business Manager.

Budde Memorial Announced at Marine Luncheon

OFFICIALS ATTEND

At the informal luncheon given by Captain Charles Grimm of the Cincinnati Office of the United States Marine Corps at the Sinton Hotel, Saturday, October 9th, Stanley Hittner, Chairman of the Budde Memorial Committee announced that plans were practically completed for the erection of a fountain in memory of George H. Budde, who was killed on Armistice Day, November 11th, 1918, while serving in the United States Marine Corps.

George H. Budde was a graduate of the School of Commerce of St. Xavier College. It is his class, under the chairmanship of Stanley Hittner, who has made the plans for the memorial fountain.

Rev. Hubert F. Brockman, S. J., President of St. Xavier College and Major J. C. Fegan, Athletic Officer of the United States Marine Corps in charge of the Quantico Marine football team, were present at the luncheon.

Music at Marine Game Deserves Its Share of the Spoils

COLLEGE BAND

FORMED

The College Band, a thing of talk and dream in the past, is at last a reality. An orchestra of the college students has been formed. Their second public performance on Saturday, October 9, at the Marine game, gave indications of the good performances that may be expected of them during the coming year.

The band at present numbers about thirty players. This personnel is expected to be increased to about fifty members in the near future. At present there are twenty-five students taking musical instructions on various instruments from Professor G. Verna, who has long been identified with musical affairs in the city. This free course of musical instruction is open to all students of the college who wish to play some instrument in the band. There is yet ample time for anyone who wishes to enroll in this class.

The direction of the band has been entrusted to the capable hands of Frank Dowd, '29. Dowd has a great deal of experience to his credit, having played in a number of orchestras in Oklahoma several years ago. His wide experience enables him to direct the band with the confidence an orchestra leader must necessarily have.

It is gratifying to note the large number of Freshmen present in the band. When Father Fisher, S. J., called for volunteers he said he would prefer freshmen to upper classmen because the new men will be available longer than the others. The response of the freshmen class is indicative of an active interest in this new activity of the college. The freshmen in the band at present are the following: Wallenhorst, Kelly, Connors, Shea, Reasig, Vaughn, Semon, Mascari Groom, Hogan, Gallagher, Harold, Murphy, Adams, Clarke, Burns, Oberting, Meyer and Wilkiemeyer. The upper classmen are also well-represented having several talented members in the band. Among them are Buerger, '27; Heringer, Ed. Smith, Hartman, Bodwell, Ventura, Hahn, Jewell and Rose, all of the class of '29, and Crotty and Marchildon from the class of '28.

"LITTLE FLOWER" BOOK STORE

Under the auspices of the Little Flower Library, of which Rex Francis J. Finn, S. J., is moderator, the Little Flower Book Shop has opened directly opposite St. Xavier Church, on Sycamore Street.

The shop carries a complete selection of Catholic writers. A select display of religious articles is also shown.

A cordial invitation is extended to the Catholic public and a special one to the alumni and student body of St. Xavier to pay the store a visit.

And a visit will be profitable. Philosophers, politicians, kings and diplomats recline within the shelves of this book store, and in addition, a large array of Catholic fictionists, from Isabel Clarke to Gilbert Chesterton. Also there is Father Finn in all his glory of Catholic boy heroes and the triumph of right. Yes, a visit will be profitable. C. R. S.

CHEERING

Again the old cry rises, "What's the matter with the cheering?" It is early in the season for such a complaint, and the first two games of the year, due to their one-sidedness, certainly were not conducive to any sort of cheering. Nevertheless, the cry of the malcontents is a justifiable one. The cheering at the games has not been what it should be. And for an obvious reason.

When the band wishes to appear publicly, they practice long and intensely. When the Masque intends to present a play, midnight is very apt to find the players still repeating lines and business that has long since become monotonous ad nauseam. When the team has a game, large or small, it must have practice interminable. And yet, we are expected to go into the stadium on Saturday, before four or five thousand people, and cheer lustily and well; to sound new battle

Alumni Quarterly Meeting

At the meeting of the Alumni Association held on Wednesday, October 6th, the election committees were appointed. Those who will choose the Blue Ticket are Thomas Geoghegan, Michael Hellenthal and Lawrence Kyta. Louis Coffin, Alfred Geisler and Luke Leonard compose the committee for the White Ticket.

cries; to yell spectacularly; to add "the touch which makes college football, college football." And all this without a single rehearsal; or at most, two or three a season. It is a human impossibility. We are compared to schools in the vicinity and expected to vie with them in cheering; schools which have cheer nights every day. For, after all that is the true purpose of a "PEP" meeting. It is a cheer rehearsal. And cheering is no different than any other accomplishment, group or individual. Proficiency demands practice. If we are to have peppy, spectacular cheering we must have frequent cheer meetings.

These committees will report at the next regular Alumni meeting.

A motion was passed at the meeting to send a delegate to the National Catholic Alumni Federation in session at Philadelphia on the 12th, 13th and 14th of November. Joseph B. Verkamp was appointed delegate with Richard Crane and William E. Fox acting as alternates.

John Hoban, Frank Gauche and William Reenan were appointed as a committee to draw up resolutions on the death of Dr. A. C. Minor. These resolutions are to be printed in the "Xaverian News" at a later date.

It was announced at the meeting that the series of Alumni Lectures will again be given this year at the Sinton Hotel. It was announced that an "Alumni Aid Association" has been established. This aid association is for the benefit of those Alumni who are out of employment or who desire to change their business connections. A secretary of the aid association is to be chosen at a later date.

the day, and commended Thomas Bohne's rebuttal.

The Moderator, Father Walsh, in his remarks, repeated that all debates must be memorized and outlined his plans for making up the list of debaters. A senior and a freshman will, this year, be opposed to a junior and a sophomore, as often as this is possible. He also announced that only members of the Debating Society will be eligible for the Washington Oratorical Contest this year.

The list of debates for the year will be published shortly. In the meantime the subjects for the next two weeks are announced and both promise to be interesting debates.

NO PARKING ON WEST SIDE OF DRIVE

The student council at its last meeting decided that parking on the west side of the college driveway endangered life and limb, and therefore must be abolished. Students were further requested to make as little noise as possible when driving out, as much noise disturbs the classes.

POLITICAL CLUB AT LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE

Recently, a political club, fostering the election of Peter J. McCarthy was formed at St. Xavier College. The officers are Joseph Kelly, '27, Eugene Perazza, '27, Marcellus Schmidt, '27, and Carl Steinbicker, '27. The purpose of the club, the members of which are casting their first vote, is to elect Mr. McCarthy to the office of County Auditor. Mr. Peter J. McCarthy is the father of Peter J. McCarthy, Jr., '23, and Frank X. McCarthy, '27.

What the Professors Think

Mr. Edward K. Roth, A. B., Fourth Year English Teacher:

"Why, certainly, St. Xavier High School can easily supply material for a separate school paper. The senior class alone can fill a twenty-page monthly magazine or a four-page weekly, like the present paper. There is abundance of material—fine material—but the student body is asleep. They have no ambition—no school pride."

Mr. Joseph A. Welply, A. B., LL. B., Fourth Year English Teacher:

"The present paper shows a lack of ambition and school pride on the part of the students. The High School has an abundance of literary talent, but the boys seem to take no interest in the paper. If the students start the movement, they will probably get a paper of their own. Were the High School to edit an exclusively literary paper, they could put out a much better paper than the College and High School together do."

Mr. John H. Doerger, A. B., Fourth Year English Teacher:

"There is no question as to the students' ability; that the High School can edit its own paper is a foregone conclusion. If half the good essays I receive were printed, it would more than fill the four pages of the present paper. A small paper like the present one can never develop any interest, because half the articles never reach print. It discourages the student to find that the article on which he has expended a conscientious effort must be rejected because of a lack of space. A larger paper would be better liked, because it would have a larger and more representative number of contributors."

AT LAST

Anyone within a radius of several blocks of St. Xavier's on the afternoon of October 6 would have been startled by the blatant, unprintable noises and raucous shouts that emitted from a certain room on the fourth floor. The occasion for this extraordinary state of affairs was the arrival of the instruments which are to outfit the proposed band.

There is an old saying, "every man to his own taste." The originator of this maxim would certainly have been gratified could he have seen the mad scramble of prospective band members for their chosen instruments. Pye, the second weightiest man in the school, received a base horn out of which he could coax but a few incoherent grunts. Johnny Nolan and Ed Williams elected to be drummer boys, while Ed Nolan chose the sliding trombone and used it to great effect on the back of Beck's ample neck. John Doyle undoubtedly received the instrument which could be played with the least difficulty, the flute. The reason for my thinking this is a remark by the professor, "That you could hang a flute out of a window and it would play itself." On the whole the meeting was a howling and a booming success, in which each band member strove to out-do his fellow in the beauty of his playing and incidentally in the noise he made.—Jack Brennan.

LARGE NUMBER PRESENT AT SODALITY ELECTION MEETING

CAN WE WRITE?

In another column the opinions of some of the teachers on the proposed new high school publication are set forth. These statements advocate nothing; they deal only with the students' ability to edit such a paper. Of course, each teacher could not be quoted, for that would be impossible in the small space at our disposal; but these few reflect the general attitude of the teaching body.

Certain points are prominent in each. For instance, all agree that the present paper is entirely inadequate as a literary outlet; also, that the students are easily capable of supporting a larger paper; and lastly, that the reason we have no literary publications lies in the student body itself. This last observation is pregnant with meaning. For it throws the whole blame on the student body, whereas the students are prone to attribute our backwardness in this respect to school conditions. The students certainly do not show a proper spirit in allowing one small sheet to represent their entire literary output.

The only explanation for this apparent indifference is that the students do not realize their influence, for after all, the students are a powerful deciding factor in launching an enterprise of this kind and scale. If the students desire a literary publication they must give proof of their ability by generous and frequent contributions, and, of course, a reasonable amount of material must be prepared before a new enterprise of this magnitude can be launched. If a quarterly magazine is approved by the faculty, work on the articles must be begun soon in order that finished product may be presented to the world as proof that St. Xavier High Students CAN and DO WRITE.—Dan O'Brien.

HONORS

St. Xavier High School has long had an honor system to encourage students in their studies. There are two classes of honors: first honors, which are awarded to any one with an average of ninety per cent or more; and second honors, which any one with an average between eighty-five and eighty-nine per cent receives. The highest honors are won by the student with the highest average in the class. These honors are awarded after each quarter of the school year. A medal of distinction is awarded to the student of each class who attains the highest general average throughout the year. By being an honor man you are exempted from the final exams, which is indeed a reward well worth the effort of hard study during the school months.—Art Scherer.

Sodalities Elect Prefects and Officers

Senior and Junior Organization Meet

The senior sodality held its first meeting on Monday of this week. Father Bernard A. Horn, S. J., conducted the election of officers which was terminated with gratifying results as Arthur Linz, a former prefect, was re-elected. His assistants are Joseph Neville, also a former prefect, and Victor Nieporte as a third assistant. The sacristans are Howard Meiners and Paul Janson. Robert Schmidt is in charge of the money affairs while Joseph Wulfange takes care of all the books and literature belonging to the sodalists. The following are the consultants: Allan Radina, Robt. Maggini, Jos. Von Hoene and Elbert Gruber.

These comprise a very capable group of officers whom we hope will be a credit to their Patroness and the sodality.—Jack Brennan.

Junior Sodality

The first meeting of the Junior Sodality was held Wednesday, October 6th, in the Students' Chapel, for the purpose of electing a prefect. Father Walsh, S. J., our new moderator, presided. The number of students present was far below expectations. The meeting began with a prayer after which election was held by secret ballot.

The following officers were elected: First, Second and Third Prefect, Frank B. Phelan, Edward C. McHenna and William J. Schmidt, respectively; Secretary, John P. Healy; Treasurer, Melvin J. Weber; Librarians, Charles A. Donovan and Albert F. Pipemeyer; Sacristans, Edwin H. Gebauer and Anthony M. Thome. The Consultants appointed were: Jack A. Clemans, Paul W. Glenn, James L. Beck, Harry A. Landenwitsch, Chas. E. Kelsch, George J. Metzger, John D. O'Sullivan, Joseph J. Van der Ryt, Albert A. Hotopp, Francis X. Brearton, Bernard A. Honkomp and Thomas J. McEvilly.

REPORT CARDS ISSUED

The first indications of the students' progress are being sent out in the form of yellow report cards. These will be very specific as to the progress in the various subjects. The cards will be sent out this week. With these will be several words of advice to the parents—good or bad—depending on the conduct of the student. Now that you laggards know the arrival of your Nemesis keep a weather eye on the mail box.—Jack Brennan.

STUDENTS

Big Battle Rages Over Latin Pennant

First high Latin students are spending sleepless nights in fierce determination not to be outdone in the struggle for the scholastic supremacy of first high. At 9:30 on October 15 the first sparks of the big fight will be set ablaze when the test opens. To whom shall go the mastery? Rally round your class hearth; get up high on your Latin toes; get ready—get set—GO. Hurrah! We're off. The clearest heads and the most persevering students will win. But who owns them? We know not. Let the fight wage on. We know no rest until the victor is proclaimed, until the grand march starts when the class president marches in with the wreath of victory, with a glorious blue and white pennant to tell to the world of victory hard fought and fairly won. The challenge has been flung. Shall it be A or B or C or D or E or F or G? Or shall there be a tie?

Brilliant has been the athletic history of St. Xavier. Brilliant have been her many successes on campus and court. But more brilliant by far shall be the record of this year's gallant squad. Look at the line-up and judge for yourself.

TEAMS BEGIN SEASON

The Juniors and the Midgets will meet their first opposition Saturday. Last week both teams showed a fine spirit in their scrimmages. McShane, the elusive and galloping fullback of the Juniors, slipped through the lines on several occasions for long gains. Barrett of the Midgets is a dead tackler and when he hits them they stay put. We are all backing the boys, hoping they will come through in their first games.—Frank Phelan.

SEVERAL NEW ORGANISTS DISCOVERED

By the graduation of Franklin Bens, St. Xavier lost one of its most noted musicians. As Franklin was the organist his loss was seriously felt until Tom Insko volunteered to take his place. Insko will now be assisted by two capable new organists, Jack Read, a senior, is a finished pianist, while Doering is a well-known student of the Conservatory. From these facts it can be easily seen that there will be no lack of music. It is now up to the students to give their vocal chords some exercise and try to sing even if they are not Carusos.—Jack Brennan.

DEVILDOGS MEET MASTERS

Fighting Marines Outfought

MUSKETEERS DO NOT FEEL LIKE DEMPSEY

The Marines scored first when Jack Stock made a marvelous drop-kick from the thirty-five yard line, at the beginning of the second period. The ball struck the upright and bounced over the bar.

This seemed to spur the Musketeers on to even greater efforts, as a few minutes later Beatty, Kelly, Allgeier and Daugherty began a march for a touch-down behind Xavier's powerful forward wall from their own thirty-five yard line. In this march, the Musketeers completed four forward passes out of four attempts.

After this, the Marines scored their lone touchdown on a forty yard run by the versatile McQuaide and a penalty for Xavier. This placed the ball on Xavier's one-yard line and after two line bucks, McQuaide slid off-tackle for the touchdown.

The Marines scored two more points in the third quarter when Paul Beatty, whose kicking was one of the features of the day, hit his own goal post in getting off a punt and recovered behind his own goal line for a safety.

The Musketeers scored again before the half when Daugherty hurled a pass to Kelly after another march by the Xavier backs into the Marine territory.

In the second half, Xavier began to pull away when "Hub" Rapp, Musketeer leader, blocked a punt of McQuaide and Paul Gosiger picked up the precious pigskin and raced thirty-five yards for a touchdown. In the final period, the Musketeers added another seven points when Daugherty tossed a pass to Ray King, who stepped the remaining twenty yards, and "Dutch" Wenzel kicked goal.

While the over-head attack was outstanding in its efficiency, the brilliance of Beatty's kicks and the play of Xavier's line from end to end was a fitting example of the ideal battling Musketeer spirit.

The feature of the Marine play was the work of McQuaide and Pugh, who were responsible for most of the Marine gains. The Marines made six first downs to Xavier's ten.

The line-up:

St. Xavier	Position	Marines
Gosiger	L.E.	Whitfield
Wengel	L.T.	McClain
Schmidt	L.G.	Zuber
Rapp (C)	C.	Spalding

PEP MEETING HELPED TO WIN

"Since the team is out fighting for the college and proving what can be accomplished by hard work, it is only right that the student body get behind them and show some appreciation." Such were the words of Rev. Alphonse Fisher, S. J., Faculty Director of Athletics at the general student assembly held in the Stadium at Coreoran Field, last Friday, October 8th. Father Fisher asked the students to support the Band, which has been playing at the football games this year and also the Glee Club, which is being organized.

Other speakers on the program were John Noppenberger, Line Coach of the Varsity squad, Herbert Rapp, Captain of the football team Joseph Kelly, star full-back and Edward McGrath, cheer-leader.

LIBRARY FILLS NEEDS

That students were making use of the new library facilities was the content of a report made by Rev. Daniel M. O'Connell, S. J., Dean, last week. The library is filling a great need in the academic life of the college and its proximity to the class rooms makes possible visits between class periods for consultation purposes.

Father O'Connell also emphasized the responsibility each student has to his fellow students in the borrowing of books. "Frequently when an assignment is made in class, one student will borrow all the available books on the subject in the library, thereby inconveniencing the other members of the class. Especially when a general assignment has been given, students should consult the reference books in the library and not borrow them," the Dean said.

RIVALS CAST SHOWS PROMISE

Regular rehearsals for the "Rivals," the first Masque Society production for 1926 are now being held. Father John F. Walsh, S. J., director of the play announced at a meeting of the Society Monday that he was gratified with the zeal shown by applicants for parts. Father Walsh declared himself as anxious that the memorizing be completed as soon as possible so that the remaining rehearsals can be devoted to perfecting the intricate stage business and securing the smooth, brisk pace which the comedy demands.

The mechanical details of the production are being arranged by Frank R. Koester and John A. Lampe, stage directors for the Masquers. Preliminary sketches from which the scenes will be constructed will be completed this week. Due to the massive settings and the frequent scene changes that the play demands an unusually large stage crew, recruited from the student body will be used. Any one desiring to aid with this end of the show should report to Father Walsh, to the stage director or George E. Fern, assistant stage manager immediately.

The complete cast and mechanical staff will be announced next week.

STUDENT WEIGHTS TAKEN

Students in the College of Liberal Arts were weighed last week by the school dietitian, Miss Schultheis.

This feature was inaugurated last year at St. Xavier under the direction of Dr. Wm. P. Emerson, M. D.

It was introduced at Dartmouth College a few years ago and has been adopted by many colleges throughout the country. Each student is weighed at regular intervals and in the case of those over or under weight a chart is made to guide them in attaining normal weight.

It has been found that there is a certain weight at which the student does his best work and that men who are seriously under weight are hampered in their studies. In the case of athletes it is customary at some schools to bar under weight students from the squads. Those on the various teams also must follow certain rules regarding diet and rest laid down by the dietitian in charge.

The football men at St. Xavier already had been weighed and their progress is watched closely as it is found there is a distinct proportion between normal condition and games won.

FRANK SWANN ILL

As we go to press, Frank Swann, one of Xavier's sturdy quarter-backs is in the Good Samaritan Hospital, recovering from a very serious case of blood poisoning. The malady developed from an infection of the arm, which he suffered in the Transylvania game, two weeks ago.
