Workshop Information

■ Off-Campus Workshops

Xavier is offering some workshops off-campus at a lower tuition rate. These workshops offer the same quality education that is Xavier's hallmark in a variety of convenient locations throughout the greater Cincinnati area and abroad. See workshop listings for "Off Campus" designations.

■ Registration for Workshops

Registrations will be accepted beginning Monday, April 7, 2008 and are accepted on a first come, first serve basis. Openings in workshops are most likely to be available to those registering prior to the deadline date. Fax and mail-in registrations received after the deadline date will be processed only if space is available.

Registrations may be done via the web, mail, fax or in person (see page 29). If you register in person prior to May 1st, you can be billed at a later date. Full tuition and fees must accompany the mail-in and fax registrations.

Students new to Xavier must complete the proper application form and be accepted prior to registration.

■ Grading Policy

One credit hour workshop - Pass/Fail

Two credit hours workshop - Pass/Fail (Student may petition for letter grade*)

Student must petition the instructor prior to the third day of the workshop to opt for a letter grade.*

Three credit hours workshop - Letter grade

■ Workshop Limits

America Through the Lens: Hollywood As Cultural Messenger

HIST 286 (54335)/ EDWS 286 (54353)/ COMM 297-W1 (54354)

Two Credit Hours

July 21-25 Mon-Fri 4:00p.m.-9:30p.m. ALT B11

Director: Mr. Robert Cotter

This course is built on the premise that every Hollywood film and television narrative, though created for reasons of entertainment and profit (and sometimes art), is in fact a cultural artifact; a representation of the values, myths, ideologies and assumptions of the culture that produced it. Delivered to us by powerful mass communication technologies, these narratives shape our collective consciousness, affirming accepted ideological and cultural beliefs/myths and, sometimes, modifying them.

Hollywood films and television programs will be analyzed in order to both identify the cultural and historical messages they contain and to determine how and why they carry these messages. To facilitate this effort, the formulas and conventions of Hollywood genres (westerns, musicals, family melodramas, film noire, horror, etc.) will be examined. This understanding of genre will serve as a primary analytical tool as we deconstruct the films and television programs studied in class.

Awakening Young Adult Learners

EDWS 533-W1 (54528) One Credit Hour

Aug 8 & 15 Fri 8:30a.m.-4:30p.m. HAI 3

Director: Mr. Ed Gutfreund, M.Ed., P.C., L.M.T. M.Div.

Working with challenged students or with students who are returning to formal education, or those trying to work out their learning difficulties amidst varied learning styles often reveals their frustration and sense of helplessness. Students who may seem unmotivated may well be suffering because of lack of will, purpose, meaning as much as from diminished skills and experience.

This course will provide examples of learning profiles and extend the work of Education through the Senses (EDWS 510) to empower young adult learners (16-25) whose transition to adulthood is stressed because they are frustrated with their learning. It will help with stamina, pacing and engagement for effective learning.

Ed Gutfreund and guest master teacher, Eileen Frechette will help teachers, advisors and tutors practice self-study exercises, movement and artistic exercises and other practical activities that have been successfully used to benefit adolescent and young adult students.

Black Noir: Film & Literature

ENGL 383-W1 (54531) Two Credit Hours

May 19-23 Mon-Fri 4:00p.m.-9:30p.m. ALT 323

Director: Dr. Tyrone Williams

This workshop explores the appropriation of film and literary noir techniques and themes by filmmakers and writers. The workshop focuses on two films—"Training Day" and "Deep Cover"—that explore traditional film noir characters (e.g., the detective or policeman vulnerable to corruption) and three novels—I Get Off The Bus, The Stone Virgins, and The Intuitionist—that explore traditional literary noir characters, all from within the context of African-American (and in one case, African) cultural, social and political parameters. In brief, this workshop explores the ways that some African American filmmakers and writers "sample" techniques, themes and procedures from classical noir traditions in order to comment, ironically, on certain traditions and mores that govern American society and culture.

The prevalence of sexual abuse in young children creates the potential for developing a dissociative disorder. Dissociation is an early coping strategy employed; however, later it becomes maladaptive, which can cause interpersonal problems. Client with dissociative disorders have significant difficulty trusting others, thereby impeding the therapeutic alliance.

Recognizing the symptoms and screening for these complicated, trauma-based disorders can lead to proper diagnosis, allowing clients to obtain appropriate treatment. Currently, many clients are often misdiagnosed, and thus, involved in ineffective treatment. Preliminary studies show upon proper diagnosis and treatment, most dissociative clients achieve resolution leading to more satisfying relationships, new coping strategies, and more productive lives.

Emphasis will be placed on understanding dissociative disorders, successful treatment regimes, and specific techniques used in counseling. In addition, differential and comorbid diagnoses will also be discussed.

Director: Dr. Gillian Ahlgren & Ann Boltz

Enter into the lives of Christianity's most beloved mystics, Francis and Clare, by traveling to their world of Assisi, Italy. Students will gain an appreciation of the theological, spiritual and ethical challenges brought about by the turbulence of medieval urban life, the challenge of poverty, and the violence of war. The eight-day pilgrimage includes lecture and discussion at places of significant impact to Francis, including the town of Perugia where he was imprisoned for a year after being captured in war, the town square of Assisi where he dramatically stripped himself of his clothing to "nakedly follow the naked Christ," the church of San Damiano where he heard God's invitation to "rebuild the church," and an ascent to La Verna where his imitation of Christ culminated in the experience of the stigmata. The Franciscan legacy of voluntary poverty, solidarity with the suffering Christ, and apostolic teaching by word and example comes alive as we explore the implications of Franciscan insights and values to today's world.

This workshop will examine ways to incorporate service-learning and character education in the K-12 classroom. Service-Learning is defined as an educational strategy that involves students in meaningful service to their communities; and, the service must be linked to the curriculum and include structured opportunities for students to reflect on what they learn and what they do. Character education includes intentional efforts in two areas: teaching students about the traits valued by society (moral character) and helping them develop the skills they need to practice good character (performance character). Well-designed, high-quality service-learning and character education programs can enrich and enhance efforts to meet the requirements of Ohio's academic content standards and often result in decreases in discipline-related issues.

Two Credit Hours

June 9-13 Mon-Fri 4:30p.m.-9:30p.m. ALT B11

Director: Robert Cotter

This workshop will focus on the dynamic relationship between the narrative techniques of postwar Hollywood and the political and social landscape of 1950's America. The interplay between mainstream feature films and the ideological and social debates of the time will be analyzed, with a spotlight on postwar consumerism and conformity, the rise of the national security state and the changing roles of American men and women.

The relaxation of censorship guidelines and the revision of "acceptable" narrative topics will be explored, and we will examine how the leisure activities and mass media technologies that developed after 1945 affected the Hollywood studio system.

We will use feature films from the 1950's (and later) as primary documents for discussion and written analysis. Presence Practice: Deep Therapy

EDWS 504-W1 (54) Two Credit Hours

July 25-26 & Aug 1-2 Fri-Sat 8:30a.m.-4:30p.m. HAI 1

Director: Mr. Ed Gutfreund, M.Ed., P.C., L.M.T. M.Div.

When working in therapeutic alliance do you notice your shifts—here to somewhere else, engaged to distracted, present...absent and back? Presence is a key component of fulfilling, alive and vital relationship with self, others and the world. Presence is a capacity for being awake and aware within one's experience, and is essential in all effective service activities. It delivers and activates the power of all approaches to counseling and education.

This course will deeply examine styles of presence, styles of therapeutic relationship, especially the classic and demanding notions of empathy and congruence as ways of attaining more powerful connection with oneself and clients or students. The work of Martha Stark that examines three therapeutic models: offering insight, providing corrective experience, being an authentic subject will also be explored. Guest therapist Mark Davis will provide resources from his years of working to understand meditative practice and its application to life work.

Participants will be invited into exercises in stillness, in action, and in relationship that are immediately applicable to clinical work. Diverse learning processes will support personal and professional learning. More information on content and students' responses are available at www.edgutfreund.com or at 513-319-4432.

Director: Mr. Ed Gutfreund, M.Ed., P.C., L.M.T. M.Div.

Is everyone overwhelmed? The impact of trauma on individuals has increased and is frequently noticed. Accidents, surgeries, torture, witnessing violence, as well as neglect and abuse are all traumas. Besides PTSD therapists find relationships between trauma and DSM-IV diagnoses including ADD/ADHD, Bipolar Disorder, Mood Disorders, some personality disorders as well as learning disabilities and career problems.

This course will provide information and experience to help counselors and educators recognize signs of trauma, and pursue their understanding of trauma. Dialogue with professionals working in the field of trauma will provide different ways of supporting the healing of trauma and its aftermath, and caring for one's self in the process.

Specific emphasis is given to the body because of the nervous system damage which occurs in trauma and which needs to be attended to if a thorough treatment is to be designed. These will include Sensorimotor Psychotherapy, EMDR, and Movement Therapy. Presentations, readings, video, art, movement, and reflective writing will support the learning process. A primary process will be experience and reflection. Further information about content and students' reactions is available at www.edgutfreund.com or 513-319-4432.

The Body In Mind-Body Therapy

EDWS 508-W1 (54) Two Credit Hours

June 6-7 & 13-14 Fri-Sat 8:30a.m.-5:00p.m. HAI 3

Director: Mr. Ed Gutfreund, M.Ed., P.C., L.M.T. M.Div.

The non-verbal expression of the body provides essential and often overlooked information. In order to gain a comprehensive understanding and assessment of a person's experience the body's role in perception and expression deserves attention as does cognition and emotion.

This course will introduce students to theory, principles and practices of body psychology, and teach techniques to understand the language of the body to enhance cognitive-behavioral or other theoretical approaches in counseling as well as in education.

Neuroscience is making it clearer that physical sensory information is a basis for consciousness. If you want to think well, or help your therapy clients think more clearly consider helping them to be more connected to their body awareness.

The course will encourage increased observation skills, practical therapy techniques, and self-awareness by using movement, artistic activity, discussion and reflective writing in an enjoyable atmosphere of exploration and discovery. Local guest practitioners will provide examples of their body-oriented work to familiarize students with available resources. Further information on content and previous student responses are available at www.edgutfreund.com or 513-319-4432.

The Olympic Flame in Asia

HIST 272 (54570)/SPMG 272-W1 (54616) Two Credit Hours

May 19-23 Mon-Fri 4:30p.m.-9:30p.m. ALT 324

Director: Dr. Dennis Frost

For several days this summer China will be at the center of a media vortex unlike anything the country has experienced in its long history. The Olympics are coming to Beijing! But in a country where the last hundred years alone have witnessed a republican revolution, World War II, a civil war, a communist revolution, the Cultural Revolution, the Tiananmen incident, and unprecedented economic growth—to name just a few examples—why has an international sporting event come to be seen as monumentally important?

We will attempt to answer that question by situating the upcoming games in their broader regional and historical contexts. In doing so, we will also seek to improve our understanding of the powerful roles sports play in societies worldwide. Topics include the history of sports and the Olympics in Asia, sports and media, Olympic spectacle and invented traditions. The workshop will use several films and websites.

The Samurai: Fact, Fiction, Film

HIST 274-W1 (54573) Two Credit Hours

June 9-13 Mon-Fri 4:30p.m.-9:30p.m. ALT 324

Director: Dr. Dennis Frost

When you think of the samurai, what do you imagine? Is the image you have in mind the product of myth or history, or perhaps a little of both? In this workshop we will draw from a variety of lectures and readings to explore how this warrior class—men, women, and children—lived, and how they have been viewed both within and outside Japan. By combining a historical examination of the emergence, evolution, demise, and reinvention of Japan's warrior elite with analyses of representations of "samurai" in literature and films we will try to get a better sense of who the samurai are, how they have been portrayed, and why they have become such an enduring and popular symbol of Japan. We will watch several films and excerpts from films in class. Some reading will need to be completed before the workshop begins.

Taking issue with the idea that history comes in neat ten-year packages, this course places the period of social upheaval often called "the sixties" into a larger historical framework. Topics include the civil rights, student and anti-war movements, the war in Vietnam, the war on poverty and the counter-culture. The course makes use of both documentary and popular film.

Three Credit Hours

June 16-27 Mon-Fri 10:30a.m.-5:00p.m. ALT 222

Director: Dr. Paul Simon

Life in 19th century America was exciting, often contradictory and filled with a variety of new experiences. The term "Victorian Era" (borrowed from our English cousins) often carried with it an almost prudish approach to moral issues that was not always born out in real life. In this course, we will look at what really happened in America during the years from 1815 to 1914 — paying particular attention to such areas as family life, recreation, religious experiences and various reform movements, especially the fight against "Demon Rum". Lectures by Dr. Simon will be supplemented by videos and field trips to local and regional sites such as the Pioneer Village at Piqua and Connors Prairie north of Indianapolis. The long over-night trip will be to follow the "Bourbon Trail" from Frankfort through Bardstown to Louisville, Kentucky, with a number of stop overs.

NOTE: There will be some additional out-of-pocket expenses because of admission costs, travel expenses, food, etc. The class will also meet two evenings.*
