HISTORICAL SKETCH

The history of Xavier University begins on October 17, 1831, when the Right Rev. Edward D. Fenwick, O.P., D.D., the first Bishop of Cincinnati, opened what, after the fashion of the times, was called "a Literary Institute" for the higher instruction of youth. This was a daring undertaking for the times, since the census of 1830 gave Cincinnati a population of less than 25,000, and of that number Catholics were a small and not very influential minority.

The new institution bore the classic name, "The Athenaeum," and in the prospectus issued we are told that the "College course will embrace the Greek and Latin authors—both historians and poets—which are usually read; the Hebrew, Spanish, French and English languages; the various branches of the Mathematics; Reading, Writing, Geography and the use of the Globes." The carrying out of this fairly ambitious program was entrusted to the diocesan clergy from 1831 to the summer of 1840. Their efforts met with considerable success, but the growing needs of the diocese in other directions made it difficult to staff the College with members of the diocesan clergy, and the Right Reverend John B. Purcell, the successor of Dr. Fenwick, saw that the stability and progress of the institution would be better provided for by entrusting it to the care of a religious order.

Accordingly, he applied to the Provincial of the Society of Jesus in St. Louis and on receiving a favorable reply turned over to the Jesuits "forever, on condition that they should be held ever sacred for church and school, the College, Seminary and Church, with the real estate on which these buildings, which I now occupy, are located—that you may have there a college and a parish church to be served by your Society, in perpetuity."

ST. XAVIER COLLEGE

The Jesuits took over the institution on October 1, 1840. The name was then changed to St. Xavier College, though the building continued to be called "The Athenaeum" until it was removed fifty years later to make room for a new structure. The Reverend John Anthony Elet, S.J., was the first president of the reorganized College. A charter of a temporary kind was granted to the College in 1842 by the General Assembly of Ohio, and a perpetual charter in 1869.

Under the presidency of Father Elet and his immediate successors St. Xavier College made rapid progress. It was originally conducted as a boarding school and had a very considerable patronage in the States of the West and South. But the very limited campus space in a growing city soon made it impossible to continue this feature of the College. The dormitories were therefore abolished after the summer of 1854 and since that time St. Xavier has appealed more to its own immediate vicinity for patronage.

The years 1853 to 1865 were years of hard struggle for St. Xavier. Many causes contributed to this effect, not the least of which were the cholera epidemic, the Know-Nothing movement, and the Civil War. But better times came for the College when the war was ended. Property had been secured in 1863 on the corner of Seventh and Sycamore streets, and on this site in 1867 was erected the Faculty building, called the Hill Building after the Reverend Walter Hill, the president of the College at the time. This additional accommodation served the needs of the institution for the next twenty years, but again the need of expansion was felt and in 1885 the Moeller Building on Seventh street to the rear of the Hill Building was erected by the Reverend Henry Moeller, president of the College from 1884 to 1887.

St. Xavier College celebrated its golden jubilee in 1890, counting fifty years from 1840, the year in which the Jesuits assumed control. The following year the classroom building facing on Sycamore street was built as well as the College Chapel and Memorial Hall. At the same time the old Athenaeum was torn down after having served for college purposes for sixty years.

NEW DEPARTMENTS

Under the presidency of the Reverend Alexander J. Burrowes extension lectures were begun in 1894, and in the fall of 1896 a limited number of graduate courses were inaugurated. These lectures and graduate courses were carried on successfully for some years and extended the influence of the College in the community. But the more pressing needs of other departments and the limited means at the disposal of the Faculty made it seem advisable to discontinue such work until greater resources could be commanded.

During the greater part of its history, therefore, St. Xavier College has confined its efforts to maintaining a standard college, with the high school classes preparatory to it. In this way it could, it seemed, with the resources at its command, be best able to answer the needs of those who look to it for guidance.

In the fall of 1911 a Department of Commerce and Economics of college grade was added to the work offered by St. Xavier. At the same time a course in Journalism was likewise begun. At the fall session of 1913 a course in Sociology was added to this Department.
The classes in these subjects are conducted in the evening. The course in Journalism was, however, discontinued in 1916. Summer courses in a limited number of subjects have been carried on since the summer of 1914. These classes are attended by members of the teaching Sisterhoods of the vicinity for whom they were originally designed. In the fall of 1918 Extension courses for the same class of students were established. These courses were conducted on Saturday mornings and were of college grade. Beginning with the fall term, 1936-1937, the classes were discontinued. On October 1, 1918, a unit of the Students' Army Training Corps was established with 232 students inducted into the service. The academic instruction in the College was adapted to the needs of the S. A. T. C., until the disbanding of the unit on December 22nd. In the year 1919, at the suggestion and on the advice of prominent Alumni, mostly of the legal profession, it was determined to add a Department of Law to begin with the fall semester of 1919. However, this Department was discontinued at the termination of the academic year, 1933-1934.

NEW LOCATION

While a situation such as the College has occupied in the very heart of the city has many advantages in the matter of accessibility, it has had also the disadvantage of preventing the ready expansion of accommodations for buildings and campus. The Faculty was aware of this drawback in the location and as early as 1847 an attempt was made to find more room by locating the Preparatory Department in the so-called Purcell Mansion on Walnut Hills. Here the work of these classes was conducted for two years under the direction of the Reverend George A. Carrell, later president of St. Xavier and eventually first Bishop of Covington. But this undertaking was premature, and for the means of communication in those days the situation was too remote. The Preparatory Department was therefore brought back to the city again after two years. Nothing further was done in the matter until the year 1906 when the Reverend Albert A. Dierckes, S.J., the president at the time, purchased property at the intersection of Gilbert and Lincoln avenues on Walnut Hills. This property, with the building standing on it was used for purposes of a Branch High School until the beginning of 1912. It was realized, however, that a better site would have to be chosen to give room for the expansion which St. Xavier had the right to look forward to and the Branch High School was moved to the building and grounds of the old Avondale Athletic Club which had been purchased the previous summer.

This property, on which Xavier University is located, is situated on Victory Boulevard, between Winding Way, Dana and Herald avenues in Avondale. There is ample space for the various college buildings on the higher parts of the grounds. The first of these buildings, the Alumni Science Hall, was completed and ready for the college students at the opening of the fall session of 1920. This building is a gift of the Alumni of Xavier to express in a fitting manner their appreciation of their Alma Mater, and to establish a lasting memorial of her Diamond Jubilee. It is from every point of view a splendid unit of the University. It provides ample lecture rooms and laboratories not only for the present needs, but for the future expansion of the University. These rooms and laboratories are furnished and equipped with the latest and most approved scientific appliances.

HINKLE HALL

Another building, which was completed and ready for occupancy in November, 1920, is the Faculty Building, Hinkle Hall. This is the munificent gift of Mrs. Frederick W. Hinkle, who by this generous donation has ensured the ultimate carrying out of the plans for a Greater Xavier in Cincinnati. Hinkle Hall is the central unit of the group of University buildings and has a frontage of 150 feet. Besides the necessary administrative offices, it contains accommodations for a faculty of fifty, with dining room, chapel, recreation rooms and a large roof garden from which a magnificent view of the University grounds and surrounding parts is obtained. In architectural beauty this building merits its place as the center of the group.

There is a very extensive campus with baseball and football fields and tennis courts situated in the lower grounds. A stadium inclosing a running track and football field, known as Corcoran Field, was added October, 1921. To the north and south, through the generosity of the Bragg estate, from which the College purchased the property, the city has acquired great stretches of land for park purposes. The Park Board is proceeding with its happily conceived idea of constructing wide boulevards to connect the different city parks. For many miles there stretches a double boulevard, one branch skirting the base of the hill immediately east of the Campus, and the other running along the western edge of the University property. Xavier University is thus situated in a picturesque spot, surrounded by parkways, yet in a location which was chosen chiefly because at the time it was, and still remains, in the very center of Cincinnati and its suburbs.

FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS

The opening of the Fall Session of St. Xavier College in 1919 marked an epoch in the history of the institution. A complete separation of the College students from the High School students was established. The High School classes were concentrated at the old St. Xavier on Seventh and Sycamore streets. There, too, the sessions of the Evening Division continued to be held until the fall of 1935 when the classes were transferred to 520 Sycamore Street. The College classes were transferred to the Avondale Branch High School, and in September, 1920, they were permanently located in their new building.

In September, 1924, the first unit of a series of dormitories to accommodate students from distant places was opened. This building has been erected through the efforts of Xavier Alumni. It is hoped that by further generosity of friends of Catholic Education, the remaining dormitory units will soon be provided.

In 1925 Milford Novitiate, a training school for members of the Society of Jesus, was established at Milford, Ohio. The Milford Division constitutes an integral part of the College of Liberal Arts of Xavier University.

In May, 1926, the new $160,000 library was dedicated. The building is situated between Hinkle Hall and Alumni Hall and in conformity with these buildings is of the Tudor Gothic style of architecture.

A new $325,000 Gymnasium and Field House was erected on the Campus in 1928. This important addition to the College was made possible by the magnificent gift of Mr. Walter S. Schmidt, A.M., a graduate of the Class of 1906.

A Stadium, seating 15,000 people, was erected in 1928, at a cost of $300,000. The funds were contributed by public-spirited citizens. The Hon. Meyers Y. Cooper was chairman of the "drive."

On November 10, 1929, the new Biology Building was dedicated. It is the gift of an anonymous benefactor, and cost approximately $175,000.

By an act of the State Department of Education, under date of August 4, 1930, St. Xavier College was advanced to university rating, under the name of Xavier University.

By a communication from the War Department, under date of December 27, 1935, the establishment of a senior division of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps was authorized for Xavier University. The course was inaugurated in September, 1936.

MILFORD DIVISION

Milford Novitiate, situated at Milford, Ohio, about fifteen miles east of Cincinnati, is part of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences of Xavier University. It is the training school for members of the Chicago Province of the Jesuit Order. The collegiate studies here form a part of the educational training in the formation of a Jesuit.

On admission to the Order, the prospective Jesuit spends his first two years in the "novitiate," a period of time during which his occupation is largely ascetical. In order to keep up his intellectual interests, however, about three hours each day are devoted to study, one to Latin, another to Greek and a third to English, and vacations as well as other periods of leisure are utilized for the acquisition of modern foreign languages. During the second period of two years, however, the student's interest is concentrated on humanistic studies. In accordance with these purposes of the school, its enrollment is limited to members of the Order.

The School is administered by an Associate Dean. The courses offered in the Milford Division of the College of Arts and Sciences are the same as those taught in the College of Arts and Sciences in Cincinnati.

The names, title, and rank of the faculty are included in this Bulletin. The names of the students and their classification are also contained in the Register of Students.

PURPOSE

The purpose of Xavier University is to produce the educated Catholic gentleman of character, not merely trained in Catholic doctrine, but imbued with the whole heritage of Catholic culture, (a) who thinks straight, vigorously, and independently in the light of a consistent philosophy of life that sees life whole; (b) who expresses himself in oral and written speech clearly, effectively, and securely, as "a world citizen at home with great minds, ancient and modern"; (c) who adopts the scientific attitude of mind towards the problems of his environment with a view to controlling it for his own well-being and that of his fellow men; (d) who has learned to associate with his fellow men agreeably, and to cooperate with them effectively toward the solution of community problems; (e) who understands why he must be moral, understands the religion he professes, and in accordance with that profession acts uprightly and finely in his relations to God, his fellow men, and himself.
SYSTEM OF EDUCATION

The educational system in use at Xavier University (substantially the same employed in three hundred educational institutions conducted by the Society of Jesus in nearly all parts of the world) is guided by the principles set forth in the Ratio Studiorum, a body of rules and suggestions outlined by the most prominent Jesuit educators in 1599, revised in 1832.

Truly psychological in its methods, and based upon the very nature of man’s mental processes, it secures on the one hand that stability so essential to educational thoroughness, while on the other it is elastic and makes liberal allowance for the widely varying circumstances of time and place. While retaining, as far as possible, all that is unquestionably valuable in the older learning, it adopts and incorporates the best results of modern progress.

As understood by the Jesuits, education in its complete sense, is the full and harmonious development of all those faculties that are distinctive of man. It is more than mere instruction or the communication of knowledge. The requirement of knowledge, though it necessarily pertains to any recognized system of education, is only a secondary result of education itself. Learning is an instrument of education, which has for its end culture, and mental and moral development.

Consonant with this view of the purpose of education, it is clear that only such means, such as Science, Language and the rest, be chosen both in kind and amount, as will effectively further the purpose of education itself. A student cannot be forced, within the short period of his school course and with his immature faculties, to study a multiplicity of the languages and sciences into which the vast world of knowledge has been scientifically divided. It is evident, therefore, that the purpose of the mental training given is not proximately to fit the student for some special employment or profession, but to give him such a general, vigorous and rounded development as will enable him to cope successfully even with the unforeseen emergencies of life. While affording mental stability, it tends to remove the insularity of thought and want of mental elasticity which is one of the most hopeless and disheartening results of specialization on the part of students who have not brought to their studies the uniform mental training given by a systematic high school and college course. The studies, therefore, are so graded and classified as to be adapted to ...the mental growth of the student and to the scientific unfolding of knowledge. They are so chosen and communicated that the student will gradually and harmoniously reach, as nearly as may be, that measure of culture of which he is capable.

It is fundamental in the Jesuit System that different studies have distinct educational values. Mathematics, the Natural Sciences, Language, and History are complementary instruments of education to which the doctrine of equivalents cannot be applied. The specific training given by one cannot be supplied by another. The best educators of the present day are beginning to realize more fully than ever before that prescribed curricula, embracing well-chosen and coordinated studies, afford the student a more efficient means of mental cultivation and development. This, however, does not prohibit the offering of more than one of such systematic courses, as for instance, the Classical and the Scientific, in view of the future career of the individual. While recognizing the importance of Mathematics and the Natural Sciences, which unfold the inter-dependence and laws of the world of time and space, the Jesuit System of education has unwaveringly kept Language in a position of honor, as an instrument of culture. Mathematics and the Natural Sciences bring the student into contact with the material aspects of nature, and exercise the deductive and inductive powers of reason. Language and History effect a higher union. They are manifestations of spirit to spirit, and by their study and for their requirement the whole mind of man is brought into widest and subtlest play. The acquisition of Language especially calls for delicacy of judgment and fineness of perception, and for a constant, keen and quick use of the reasoning powers.

Much stress is also laid on mental and moral philosophy, as well for the influence such study has in mental development, as for its power in steadying the judgment of the student in his outlook on the world and on life. Rational Philosophy, as a means of developing young manhood, is an instrument of strength and effectiveness.

But to obtain these results, Philosophy must be such in reality as well as in name. It must not content itself with vague groping after light, with teaching merely the history of Philosophy; detailing the vagaries of the human mind without venturing to condemn them; reviewing the contradictory systems which have held sway for a time without any expression of opinion as to the fatal defects which caused them to be discarded. It must do more than this. It must present a logical, unified, complete system of mind-culture in accord with the established laws of human thought; it must take its stand on some definite propositions expressive of truth; it must rise to the dignity of a science. With such a definite system to defend against attack, the mind becomes more acute and plastic, the logical powers are strengthened, the value of a proof is properly estimated, the vulnerable points of error are readily detected, and truth comes forth triumphant from every conflict of mind with mind.

Finally, the Jesuit System does not share the delusion of those who seem to imagine that education, understood as enriching and stimulating the intellectual faculties, has of itself a morally elevating influence of human life. While conceding the effects of education in energizing and refining the student's imagination, taste, understanding and powers of observation, it has always held that knowledge and intellectual development, of themselves, have no moral efficacy. Religion alone can purify the heart and guide and strengthen the will.

This being the case, Xavier University aims at developing side by side the moral and intellectual faculties of the student, and sending forth into the world men of sound judgment, of acute and rounded intellect, of upright and manly conscience. It maintains, that to be effective, morality is to be taught continuously; it must be the under­lying base, the vital force supporting and animating the whole organic structure of education. It must be the atmosphere that the student breathes; it must suffuse with its light all that he reads, illuminating what is noble and exposing what is base, giving to the true and false their relative light and shade. In a word, the purpose of Jesuit teaching is to lay a solid substructure in the whole mind and character for any superstructure of science, professional and special, as well as for the upbuilding of moral life, civil and religious.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS TRAINING

In its moral and religious training Xavier University aims at building the conscience of its students for the right fulfillment of their civil, social and religious duties. There is insistence on the cultivation of the Christian virtues which operate for this fulfillment, and, as the only solid basis of virtue and morality, thorough instruction in the principles of religion forms an essential part of the system. Students of any denomination are admitted to the courses, but all are required to show a respectful demeanor during the ordinary exercises of public prayer. The Catholic students are required to attend the classes in Christian Doctrine, to be present at the chapel exercises, to make an annual retreat, and to approach the Sacraments at least once a month.

RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

PURPOSE

There are two purposes behind the establishment of the ROTC at Xavier University: primarily, to qualify the students for positions of leadership in time of national emergency; secondarily to inculcate in them and their associates a knowledge of the duties as well as the privileges of the citizen, and a knowledge of the history, traditions, and ideals of the American form of government. Physical and mental benefits incident to the attainment of our object, constitute real and visible assets to the individual. The complete course of instruction comprises four years—a basic course of two years and an advanced course of two years.

BASIC COURSE

The basic course for Field Artillery given at Xavier University consists of five hours of training a week. It is designed to give the student knowledge of the fundamental training requirements of the arm, and to develop his initiative, confidence, and ability, thus qualifying him, in case of an emergency, to instruct untrained citizens in the duties of privates, corporals, and sergeants, and to train squads and sections for, and lead them in, combat.

ADVANCED COURSE

The advanced course will likewise consist of five hours of training a week and, in addition, one summer camp of six weeks. It is designed to qualify, for a commission in the Officers' Reserve Corps, a limited number of selected students who have completed the basic course and have demonstrated exceptional qualities of leadership. Upon completion of the advanced course, the student should be able to perform the duties of a second lieutenant of Field Artillery. Where a student has completed the basic course in some other arm, his eligibility for the Field Artillery advanced course will be determined by the merits of the individual case.

During the time that the student is taking the basic course, he receives no pay or allowances. However, he does receive the use of a uniform and the major portions of his necessary equipment free. In order that the eligible students be not deterred from taking the advanced course because of the cost of uniforms, equipment, and books, the government has provided certain pay and allowances to cover the required expenses. Each advanced course student is allowed a certain sum of money for uniforms, and is paid a cash commutation equal to the value of one regular-army ration per day during the time he is enrolled in the advanced course, except for the time that he is in the summer training camp. During the period at camp each student is allowed transportation to and from camp, is furnished food and clothing, and is paid at the rate of seventy cents a day.

In order to protect the University against loss of government property charged to it, to cover the costs of incidentals, such as textbooks, cleaning of uniforms turned in by students, etc., each student is required to make a deposit of twenty dollars. This is in the nature of a laboratory fee for this course. With proper economy in the care of uniform and equipment, the student should receive at least half of this back at the end of the year. Although no definite price can be stated at this time, the purchase of sundry equipment not furnished by the government—about ten dollars—will be necessary from this fund the first year. With reasonable care this should not be a recurring expense.

Further information upon the ROTC, is to be found in the booklet, Corps Regulations, issued to all ROTC students.

ENROLLMENT

The Basic Course is required of all physically fit freshmen and sophomores who are citizens of the United States and have not previously completed the Basic Course or its equivalent and are under 26 years of age. Upon the successful completion of the Basic Course the student may be enrolled in the Advanced Course, provided his application is approved.

ADMISSION

CREDENTIALS

Application for admission will be made out on a form that can be secured from the Registrar. To insure admission, credentials should be filed with the Registrar considerably in advance of the opening of the semester for which the student wishes to register. It is imperative that applicants submit on entrance official records from all secondary schools and colleges previously attended. These records must be sent directly by the proper officer of the school in which they were earned and not through the student. Credentials which are accepted for admission become the property of the University and are kept permanently on file.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

The usual method of admission to the University is by certificate from accredited schools followed by assignment examinations.

A candidate offering, at the opening of the college year, fifteen units,* as specified in the following schedule, will receive Freshman rank unconditioned.

A student who has presented 15 units, but who lacks one of the units prescribed as essential, will be admitted as a conditioned Freshman with the understanding that he enter at once a class in the subject which he is lacking. Deficient and conditioned students must, therefore, submit their course of study for approval to the Dean of the College.

A student who lacks two units of a Foreign Language may be a conditioned Freshman.

No student will be admitted to Freshman ranking at Xavier University who presents less than fifteen units.

No student may be registered as a Sophomore until all entrance conditions have been removed.

*A unit is a series of recitations or exercises in a given subject pursued continuously throughout the school year. The number of class exercises required in a week for each unit shall, in general, be five. Double periods are required for laboratory courses.

Not less than two units will be accepted in any foreign language except where a major credit is allowed consisting of two units in one foreign language and one unit in another foreign language. Half units will be accepted, but only when presented in addition to integral units in the same subject, or in half-year subjects which constitute a complete course in themselves, e.g., Solid Geometry. Any two of the biological sciences (Physiology, Botany, Zoology) may be combined into a continuous year's course equal to one unit.
II. Electives

The remaining units may be selected from any subject credited towards graduation in an accredited or recognized high school. However, no less than a half unit of credit, as explained above, nor more than four units in any one subject will be accepted.

II. Electives

The remaining units may be selected from any subject credited towards graduation in an accredited or recognized high school. However, no less than a half unit of credit, as explained above, nor more than four units in any one subject will be accepted.
All official entrance records must be received and approved by Registrar at least two weeks before Registration Day.

Advisers will be at hand on registration days to assist students in the selection of studies and in filling out registration forms.

The full normal schedule is sixteen semester hours. No candidate for a degree is allowed to register for less than twelve semester hours.

An upper-classman may be allowed, with the consent of the Dean, to carry extra hours provided that in the preceding semester all his grades were B (85) or above. The fee for each hour in excess of regular schedule is $5.00.

LATE REGISTRATION

Registration on any other than the days assigned will be considered late registration. The fee for late registration is $5.00.

CHANGES IN REGISTRATION

After the first day of the semester change of registration is permitted only (a) with the written consent of the Dean; (b) on payment of a fee of one dollar for each change thus made. In case the change is made upon the initiative of the University authorities no fee is required.

FEES AND EXPENSES

All communications concerning tuition, fees, and rental of rooms should be made to the Registrar of the University.

All tuition and fees required from students must be paid in advance and as a condition of registration. Registration shall not be considered as completed until all such payments have been made, and a "late registration fee" shall be added to fees not paid on the days set apart for registration. If fees are not paid promptly, the deans are authorized to exclude students from attendance upon their classes.

Fees are subject to change as conditions necessitate: such changes take effect at once and apply to students already enrolled, unless otherwise specified.

Tuition and fees are not returnable except when withdrawal from the University is caused by sickness or causes entirely beyond the control of the student. Before application for refund will be considered, it is necessary that the student shall have submitted to the Registrar notice of his withdrawal and the date of such withdrawal.

Students withdrawing under discipline forfeit all rights to a return of any portion of their fees.

The full amount of tuition, but no activity fees, or laboratory fee, shall be returned to students who fail of admission to the University, after same have been paid. In other cases refunds, when allowed, shall be in the following proportions:

- During 1st and 2nd weeks: 80%
- During 3rd and 4th weeks: 60%
- During 5th and 6th weeks: 40%
- During 7th and 8th weeks: 20%

After the eighth week no refund shall be allowed, but a credit memorandum may be issued for the total amount of the tuition or fees.

First Semester

- Matriculation Fee (payable once): $5.00
- Tuition: $75.00
- Fee for use of each Laboratory: $10.00
- Breakage Fee in each Laboratory (returnable): $5.00
- Activities Fee: $25.00
- R. O. T. C. Deposit (bond and fee): $20.00
- Late Registration Fee: $5.00

Second Semester

- Tuition: $75.00
- Fee for use of each Laboratory: $10.00
- Late Registration Fee: $5.00

SPECIAL FEES

- Conditioned or absence examinations, each: $2.00
- Extra fee for each semester hour in excess of normal schedule of sixteen hours, exclusive of Pre-Medic students, per hour: 5.00
- Special Students: Tuition Fee per credit hour: 6.00
- Duplicate Transcript of college credits: 2.00
- Graduation Fee: $25.00

Juniors and Seniors who have been in continuous attendance at Xavier University, who are acceptable in attendance and demeanor and who have and maintain an average of "B", and are active members of the Poland Philopedian Society, merit the enjoyment of the William F. Poland Endowment Fund and are granted free tuition; they must, however, pay all incidental fees in advance. For the present, however, this Endowment Fund is not active.
ROOMS AND BOARD

Elet Hall, the only University Dormitory at present ready for use, accommodates ninety students.

The arrangement of rooms in the dormitory is such that they may be rented singly or for two. The University supplies all necessary furniture for each student, and complete care of the rooms. The rooms are heated with steam, supplied with hot and cold water, and lighted with electricity.

A deposit of $10.00 must accompany the verbal or written application for a room. To insure against damage to room, this deposit will not be returned until student withdraws from college. In case a student fails to occupy a room after reservation, the deposit will not be returned, unless notice of withdrawal is received before August 15th.

The prices charged for rooms include heat, light, water, and care by janitors. The range of prices for the current year is as follows:

- Single rooms, $100 a semester.
- Double rooms, $75 a semester.

Board is furnished at the College Inn at $180.00 a semester.

DEGREES

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREES

The following degrees are conferred:

- A.B., Bachelor of Arts;
- B.S., Bachelor of Science;
- Ph.B., Bachelor of Philosophy;
- B.S. (in Education), Bachelor of Science in Education;
- Litt.B., Bachelor of Literature;
- B.S.C., Bachelor of Science in Commerce.

The A.B. degree is conferred if the candidate’s course has included two years of college Latin with an average of “C” in this branch.

The B.S. degree is conferred on one who has concentrated his studies, particularly during the last two years of college, on Science or Mathematics.

The Ph.B. degree is conferred on candidates whose chief work has been in one or two of the following departments: Philosophy, History, English, or other modern languages, Literature, Economics, Political Science, Education, Sociology.

The degree of Bachelor of Science in Education is conferred upon those whose chief work has been in Education.

The degree of Bachelor of Literature is conferred upon those whose chief work has been in Literature.

The degree of Bachelor of Science in Commerce is conferred on candidates whose chief work has been in Accounting or some kindred subject.

No degree, with the exception of that of Doctor of Laws (LL.D.), is given honoris causa.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACCALAUREATE DEGREES

The conditions for the Baccalaureate degrees are the following:

1. The satisfactory completion of the four year course leading to the degree for which the student is a candidate. The student is required to complete 128 semester hours of work with an average of “C” (77-84). If he has completed more than the minimum number of hours required for graduation, he must have as many quality points as he has semester hours.
2. The requirements for graduation include:
   (a) A certain amount of prescribed work, especially in the Freshman and Sophomore years;
   (b) A major and two minors with an average of "C";
   (c) Free electives not included in the student's major and minor sequences which afford opportunity either for broader culture or for greater specialization as the student may choose;
   (d) At least the Senior year in residence at Xavier University during which time he must have completed thirty-two semester hours of credit. Six successive summer sessions of six weeks each, or the equivalent, including the session in which the degree is conferred and the completion of thirty-two semester hours will be construed as a year's residence.

3. A written thesis of at least 5000 words approved by the Dean of the University and presented on or before March 8th of the year in which the degree is expected to be conferred.

5. No student will be considered a candidate for graduation in June if he has any deficiency at the beginning of the second semester of his Senior year.

NOTE: The University reserves the right to modify its graduation and other academic requirements as may seem necessary from time to time. It will be obligated only during the academic year of the student's registration by requirements published in the bulletin for that year.

II. GROUP REQUIREMENTS

The Departments of Instruction are divided into four groups as follows:

Group 1. English, French, German, Greek, Latin, Spanish.

Group 2. Economics, Education, History, Philosophy, Sociology.

Group 4. Accounting, Business Law, Economics.

---

1 In addition Catholic students must take a course acceptable as a Religion requirement each semester that they are in attendance at the University.

2 Elementary courses not included.

3 Psychology may be included.

4 Required of students enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences on the Avondale Campus.
MAJORS AND MINORS

Each candidate for a bachelor’s degree is required to con-a major in one department and a minor in each of two other departments. One of the minors should be chosen, or, from the group from which the major was chosen; the second, or, from one of the remaining groups.

A major implies four years of study in one field. In terms of credit, the major requires a minimum of twenty-four semester hours.
At least twelve semester hours of upper division courses must be included in the major. The minimum requirement in the Sciences is higher.

A minor implies three years of study in one field. In terms of credit, the minor requires a minimum of eighteen semester hours.
The minor must comprise at least twelve semester hours of upper division work. In the Sciences, the minimum requirement is higher.

ORGANIZATIONS AND SOCIETIES

The development of the social side of every student’s character is an important factor in college training. Initiative and leadership in organized religious and social movements for the common welfare of his fellows are qualities expected of a college man generally.
University student organizations and activities furnish splendid opportunities for this development.

However, it must be kept in mind that with regard to all forms of such activities the policy of the Faculty is that the student’s first duty in college is attention to study, and no other student activity should be allowed to interfere with the main purpose of University life.

SODALITY OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

The Sodality was established and affiliated to the First Sodality in Rome on December 8, 1841. Its purpose is to promote in its memers a special and filial devotion to the Immaculate Mother of God, to imitate her virtues, and to encourage, both by word and example, an eminent purity of morals and a manly fidelity to the practice of our religion. Weekly meetings are conducted in the University Chapel at which the Office of the Blessed Virgin is recited and instructions are given.

THE APOSTLESHP OF PRAYER

The Apostleship of Prayer in League with the Sacred Heart is a world-wide organization, of which there exists in the University a distinct and duly-erected Local Center, with membership open to all the students. The object of the association is to foster a manly and practical devotion to the Sacred Heart of Our Lord and Its interests in the world, and to put in practice the law of universal charity by mutual prayer for the intentions of all Associates.

CATHOLIC STUDENTS’ MISSION CRUSADE

HENRY P. MILLET UNIT

At the organization of the Catholic Students’ Mission Crusade, held at Techny, Illinois, in 1918, the Senior Sodality was represented, and its mission section became a senior unit, and, consequently, a charter member of this great movement.
In January, 1921, the unit assumed a more definite form as the Crusade Unit of the Liberal Arts College, and adopted the name "The Henry P. Milet Unit" in honor of Rev. Henry P. Milet, S.J., a former director of the High School Sodality, now a missionary in Patna, India. Meetings are held weekly, and weekly collections are taken up for the benefit of the missions. The first Sunday of the month is Mission Sunday, observed by the reception of Holy Communion for the welfare of the missions.

ST. ALOYSIUS SELF-DENIAL FUND

Founded in 1926

Begun September, 1926. 1. To honor and invoke St. Aloysius on the second centenary of his canonization, as the patron of purity and a choice of a state in life, by erecting a marble statue of the Saint with a marble pedestal. The total cost was $800. This was contributed by the students during 1926-27, as a Self-Denial Fund.

2. To found an $8,000 bursé for the education of a missionary priest.

3. To found a spiritual insurance fund of Masses for:
   (a) Students seriously ill.
   (b) Five Masses for deceased students from the 1926-27 student body and thereafter.
   (c) Three Masses for deceased parents of these student bodies.

The Dean of the College is ex officio administrator of the fund. From 1926-27 on, he and his successors are entitled to the spiritual benefits of number 3 (b).

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

This representative body undertakes to promote student activities whether athletic, social, scholastic or religious; to maintain a healthy spirit of interest and comradeship among the students; to impart, foster and exemplify the ideals which the University strives to realize. It attempts to meet local student problems chiefly by creating a sane public opinion.

The ex officio members of the Council are the Dean, or his appointment, and the president of each class. The other ten members are chosen as follows: the Freshmen choose one from their class; the Sophomore, two; the Juniors, three; the Seniors, four; respectively. The purpose of this method is to give the weight of numbers to the upper-classmen who are better acquainted with the spirit of the school, and to make the Council a thoroughly representative body.

PRO ALMA MATRE FRATERNITY

This organization was established at Xavier University in March, 1926. The new fraternity is purely honorary and its purpose is to provide recognition for service in fields other than athletics rendered to Xavier University. The membership will include students prominent in college journalism and literary work, winners in the Latin and English intercollegiate contests, winners of leading oratorical and debating contests, and leaders in special cultural societies. All candidates eligible for membership must have a satisfactory scholastic record. An average of "B", without a single condition or failure, must have been maintained throughout their college career. The honor key will be awarded to the members on their commencement day. The deciding committee is composed of the Dean and two Alumni instructors.

THE POLAND PHILOPEDIAN SOCIETY

The Philopedian Society was organized in 1841. In 1927, the name Poland was added in grateful memory of Rev. William F. Poland, S.J. Its object is to foster a taste for eloquence, history and general literature. The members assemble weekly for debates on pertinent subjects.

DANTE CLUB

The Dante Club is a student organization the purpose of which is to spread the knowledge and appreciation of that greatest of Catholic classics, The Divine Comedy, through the medium of popular lectures. It was founded in 1921, the six hundredth anniversary of Dante Alighieri's death. The Jesuit Martyrs, The Crusades, Shakespeare, A Pilgrimage to Lourdes, St. Joan of Arc, The Madonna in Art, are now being offered by The Dante Club.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club, organized in 1929, has for its purpose the developing and maintaining of interest in science. All candidates for the Bachelor of Science Degree are eligible for membership.

THE MERMAID TAVERN

The Mermaid Tavern was founded in February, 1931. Its main purpose is mutual criticism of original literary effort toward publication, especially in the University magazine. Membership is limited to thirteen.
THE XAVIER MASQUE SOCIETY

This society was organized in 1923. Its purpose is to foster the undergraduate dramatic, literary and musical interests of the University and to promote social intercourse among the members. During the course of the scholastic year the society produces at least one full length play.

XAVIER UNIVERSITY CLEF CLUB

All students who, in the opinion of the Director, have the necessary qualifications, are eligible to membership in the Clef Club. Two hours each week, on an average, are given to vocal culture, accompanied by instruction in musical theory and correct interpretation. Four-part compositions of moderate difficulty are chosen for these rehearsals. The Clef Club is expected to furnish one or more numbers for all public or semi-public entertainments. Regularity in attendance at rehearsals is imperative and an absolute condition of membership.

XAVIER R. O. T. C. BAND

The aim of the band is to promote interest in music among the students as well as to enliven the football and basketball games, to give concerts, to aid in the presentation of University programs, and to provide R. O. T. C. Military Music.

XAVIER ORDER OF MILITARY MERIT

An honorary organization to be composed of R. O. T. C. students who have received one or more citations and who have been further recommended by the P. M. S. & T. All members to wear the fourragere as a decoration.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade is a national military fraternity of advanced course cadet officers of senior R. O. T. C. units. Membership is by election, based on personal and military qualities and achievements.

"X" CLUB

The "X" Club is composed of all those who have merited the athletic award of the University. It has as its object the preservation among the lettermen of their proven interest in the athletic activities of their Alma Mater.

XAVIER UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

This association was organized in 1888. Its purpose is to strengthen and perpetuate college friendship; to preserve in the former students a warm regard for Alma Mater and a lively memory of the substantial benefits she bestowed; to cherish and advance her interests, to maintain her honor and sustain her reputation by manly and honorable conduct.

XAVIER UNIVERSITY ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

Established in 1926, this alumnae group has for its purpose the fostering of the same loyal spirit and helpful interest toward Alma Mater which is characteristic of the Alumni Association.

XAVERIAN BOOK-LOVERS

(Founded 1925)

This organization is composed of friends of Xavier University. Their primary purpose is to improve the reading and research facilities of the University library through the purchase of the best books, etc. A secondary purpose is that of social contact between friends of the University. A series of card parties are given for this double purpose.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

THE XAVIER ATHENAEUM

The Athenaeum, the literary magazine of "Old Xavier", was revived in March, 1926, after a lapse of seven years. The Athenaeum was issued quarterly, but in 1927-28 it was reduced to three editions a year. It is intended to foster literary effort amongst the students. It is supported financially by patrons and patronesses. Honor students in English form the staff.

THE XAVERIAN NEWS

The News, begun in November, 1918, as a fortnightly newspaper, was changed in 1928 into a weekly publication. It is published by a board of student editors, under the supervision of a Faculty Director. The editorial staff is appointed by the Director on recommendation. of the Department of English and with the approval of the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts. Appointment to the staff is a recognition of literary ability.

THE MUSKETEER

The Musketeer is the official year-book of the College, and is edited and managed by the student body. It is issued in the latter part of May and besides containing a pictorial record of various school events, social functions, athletics, and campus organizations, it aims to furnish a permanent record of student life during the four years of the class being graduated.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES AND AWARDS

The Colonel Charles F. Williams Scholarship and Prize.—A gold medal and a $200.00 cash prize are offered annually by Colonel Charles F. Williams to the R. O. T. C. student who ranks highest in scholarship in the military department.

Xavier Fourragere.—Presented to R. O. T. C. students as an honorary decoration for military attainments.

Pro Alma Mater Golden Keys.—Presented to Seniors who meet the requirements of this honor society.

ADMINISTRATION

COLLEGE YEAR

The college year begins on Wednesday of the second full week in September, and includes thirty-six weeks, which are divided into fall and spring terms, of eighteen weeks each. There is a Christmas Recess of two weeks, and an Easter Recess of five days. Classes are not held on legal holidays, nor on days observed as holydays of obligation in the Catholic Church. Commencement Day takes place during the first full week in June.

EVENING SESSION

Classes in the Evening Session of Xavier University are open to adult students found capable of pursuing successfully the courses they wish to study. In the Evening Session the University renders particular service to those who desire courses of immediate personal interest; to those who wish to carry college work in connection with their employment; and to those who wish to pursue subjects which will better fit them for special services or vocations.

Evening courses, while open to auditors, will satisfy every requirement for credit students, being conducted on the same high standards, by the same professional staff, and under exactly the same educational conditions as the corresponding day classes.

While it is scarcely possible in the evening to meet all the requirements for a degree, students who wish to start upon a college course will find considerable offering of both required and elective subjects; students who have to their credit college work earned in this or other institutions will find it possible in the Evening Session to complete degree requirements.

Students in the Evening Session are classified in the same manner as those in the Day Session; regular students who have met the entrance requirement of sixteen approved high school units; special students who have not yet met that requirement. Special students may become regular students by presenting additional high school units, by passing entrance examinations, or by transferring college credits to entrance units upon the basis of five semester hours for each unit of entrance.
SUMMER SESSION

A Summer Session of six weeks is held to afford opportunities to those who wish to complete the admission requirements for college; to students of the University who wish to make up deficiencies; to students who desire to obtain credit toward a degree or shorten the time necessary for completing the requirements for graduation.

ATTENDANCE

Every student is expected to attend classroom and laboratory exercises regularly. All cases of absence are reported to the Dean's office daily by professors and instructors.

The roll is called immediately at the beginning of each class exercise. Those not present for this roll call will not be permitted to enter the room later.

All omitted exercises, whether the absence is excused or not, must be made up within one week after the resumption of university duties as appointed by the professor whose exercises were omitted or they will be counted as credit hour deductions. An excuse for absence does not relieve the student from responsibility for the work of his class during his absence. The responsibility in all these cases rests with the student.

Students who are not present at class or laboratory exercises during the twenty-four hours preceding or following any holiday or vacation will be marked three absences for each exercise missed.

A student is dropped from a course when the number of his absences in the course equals three times the number of the weekly sessions of the course.

A student who incurs a total of twenty absences in a semester will forfeit one hour credit. For each additional fifteen absences he will lose an additional hour credit.

R. O. T. C. students incur a penalty for absences which is reflected in their disciplinary record and this in turn in their academic rating.

CHAPEL ATTENDANCE

All students are required to be present at Mass on appointed days and are obliged to attend other chapel exercises whenever prescribed.

A retreat of four days, from which no exemptions are allowed, is conducted annually for the Catholic students in the University Chapel.

STUDENT ACTIVITY REGULATIONS

Students taking part in dramatic performances, public debates, oratorical or elocution contests, and those who are appointed assistants on the staff of the University journals, as well as all officers of student organizations, are subject to the following eligibility rules:

1. They must have no failures and not more than one condition.
2. They must have attained a weighted average of at least "C" in the previous semester or mid-semester examination.
3. They must not be under censure at the time of their election or appointment.

ATHLETIC REGULATIONS

For participation in intercollegiate athletics, students must conform to the regulations of the Buckeye Athletic Conference.

HONORABLE DISMISSAL

It is required as a condition of honorable dismissal that every student who wishes to withdraw from the University shall submit to the Registrar a written request to that effect at the date of his withdrawal. In the case of minors, the request must be signed by his parents or guardian.

A testimonial of honorable dismissal, when presented by a former student of Xavier University to another school, is not to be interpreted as a recommendation. It is to be considered only as a statement that the student was free from disciplinary penalties at the time when the honorable discharge was granted.

CENSURE

There are five grades of censure: warning, probation, suspension, dismissal, and expulsion. By probation is meant that the student has forfeited the confidence and high esteem of the University authorities and is required to restore them by definite and manifest acts of attention to duty in conduct and academic work. Suspension is exclusion from the University for an indefinite period, not to exceed one semester. Dismissal is exclusion for a period not to exceed two semesters. Expulsion is the final exclusion of the student from the University and is the highest academic censure and may or may not, according to circumstances, be publicly administered.

The University reserves the right to dismiss at any time a student who fails to give satisfactory evidence of earnestness of purpose and of interest, primarily, in the serious work of university life. Dismissal may be made without specific charges, and, in rare cases, cases, perhaps on grounds that seem insufficient to students or parents. The University in these cases holds itself to be the more capable judge of what affects the interests of the institution and the student body. Those who are unprepared to accept this condition should not apply for admission.

Any student who fails during any semester to earn credit points equal to at least the number of credit hours of courses assigned him for the semester shall be put on probation for the succeeding semester of his residence at the University with restricted work. During the period of probation, a student who fails to earn credit points at least equal in number to the credit hours of courses assigned him for the semester shall automatically cease to be a member of the University and shall be so notified by the Dean. A notice shall also be sent by the Dean to the parent or guardian of the student.

EXAMINATIONS

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

Examinations will be conducted by the Dean, but the head of the department concerned will be responsible for the preparation of questions, prompt reading of the papers, and the reporting of the results. The questions will ordinarily constitute an examination of two hours.

TESTS

Partial examinations or tests or written recitations are held from time to time during the semester. Absence, for whatever reason, from a test which has been duly announced is marked as "X" and must be removed at the following "condition" examinations.

SEMESTER EXAMINATIONS

Examinations in all subjects are held at the close of the semester. In case of failures in any continuous study, the work of the semester in which the failure is incurred must be repeated in class before any subsequent semester's work in that study can be undertaken. In continuous courses such as languages, sciences, etc., if the failure is incurred in the second semester no credit is allowed for the first semester until the work of the second semester is passed satisfactorily.

SUPPLEMENTARY EXAMINATIONS

A condition (E) in an examination may be removed by a supplementary examination. These examinations may be taken only on the day specified, and may not be deferred except with the express consent of the Dean. A conditioned student who desires such examination must notify the Registrar in writing one week in advance so that examination questions may be prepared. Any student failing to give such notice shall not be allowed to take the examination. A student may take only one examination to remove a condition. Removal of condition by examination shall not entitle the student to a grade higher than "D". A conditioned student absent from the regular or supplementary examination must present an excuse satisfactory to the Dean or receive a grade of "F" for the course.

The fee for each examination for the removal of conditions shall be two dollars. Students who are absent from conditioned examinations with the permission of the Dean to take such examination at other than the regular time shall pay three dollars for each examination. No student shall be allowed to take these examinations until he presents an application card signed by the Dean or the Registrar.

GRADES OF SCHOLARSHIP

A student's grade of scholarship in each of his subjects is determined by the combined results of examinations and class work; except in the semester examinations, which are held to be decisive in themselves.

The grades assigned are the following:

ABOVE PASSING
A 93—100, Excellent, 3 Points
B 85—92, Good, 2 Points
C 77—84, Fair, 1 Point
D 70—76, Passed without Points

BELOW PASSING
E—60-69, Conditioned
F—0-59, Failed
I —Incomplete
X—Absent
W F—Withdrawn for failure

Credit Points. A candidate for a degree must gain not only the number of hour credits required, but his work must reach a certain standard of excellence. In addition to the 128 hour credits necessary for graduation, each student must earn at least 128 credit points, or a general average of C or better.

For a grade of A in a given course, the student will receive three times as many credit points as there are hour credits in any course; for a grade B, twice as many as hours credits; for a grade C, points equal hour credits; while D gives hour credits but no points.
For example: A four-hour course in which the student receives an A, gives twelve credit points; if the grade is B, 8 credit points; if C, 4 credit points.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

Those students are ranked as Sophomores who have at least twenty-four credit hours and points and have completed the prescribed courses of Freshman year; Juniors, those who have sixty credit hours and points and have completed the prescribed courses of the Sophomore year; Seniors, those who have ninety-two credit hours and points and have completed the prescribed courses of the Junior year. This classification is made in the Registrar's office at the end of each year, and is revised at the beginning of each semester and at no other time.

No student will be considered a candidate for graduation if he has any deficiency at the beginning of the second semester of the Senior year.

COURSES PRELIMINARY TO PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

MEDICINE

The minimum requirement for entrance to first class medical schools is that a candidate must present evidence that he has completed three years' work (90 semester hours, exclusive of physical education) in an approved college following graduation from an accredited high school or its equivalent. This is the standard demanded by the Association of American Medical Colleges and by the Council on Education of the American Medical Association. The fact must be stressed, however, that this is the minimum and not the desirable entrance qualification. Generally, preference is given to applicants who possess college credits in excess of this minimum, and students who look forward to a career in medicine are strongly urged to obtain their degree before entering medical school.

The following three-year course has been worked out for students who plan to enter a medical school. The arrangement is such that by the end of the Junior year if a student's grades warrant it, he may be admitted to a medical school. If he does not enter a medical school at the end of the Junior year, the work carries on logically through Senior year to the B.S. Degree.

COURSES PRELIMINARY TO PROFESSIONAL STUDIES
DEPARTMENTS AND COURSES

The names of the departments of instruction are here listed in alphabetical order.

Courses 0-99 (Lower Division) are primarily for freshmen and sophomores; 100-199 (Upper Division) for juniors and seniors.

The Faculty reserves the right to refuse to offer a course listed below for which there is not a sufficient number of applicants.

ACCOUNTING

1. Introductory Accounting.
   This course is designed to give those contemplating accountancy as a profession a working knowledge of the fundamental principles of accounting. The student is introduced to the essential financial statements used in business, and to the development of the records necessary to secure such statements. Simple records and entries are studied in combination with the operation of an interesting Single Proprietorship practice set, which provides practical experience with Ledger Accounts, Real, nominal and mixed; Journals, special and general; Cash Records; Trial Balances; Adjusting Entries; Closing Entries; the Work Sheet; Balance Sheet and Profit and Loss Statements. Three hours credit.

2. Introductory Accounting.
   The combination method of theory and practice set is continued with the formation of a Partnership, operation thereof, and subsequent dissolution. The activities are then continued with the Corporation form of organization. To meet these and other changing conditions, necessary Journal entries are made and explained and appropriate records and accounts are introduced, such as the Voucher Register, Sales Register, Returned Sales Register, Check Register, Cash Receipts Journal, Petty Cash Book, Net Worth Accounts, Depreciation, Accrued Items, Inventory, Capital Stock, Surplus, etc. The entire course is supplemented by related problems and questions. Three hours credit.

   Thorough foundation in the fundamental principles. Laboratory practice by the student under the guidance of the instructor. A complete series of transactions in books of account to be worked out by the student. The matter is analyzed and demonstrated; demonstrations supplemented by principles involved. Prerequisite: Courses 1 and 2 or equivalent. Three hours credit.

   This is a continuation of Course 3. The course covers a study of advanced partnership problems; capital and revenue expenditures; analysis of profits. Corporation accounting is considered; financial statements are interspersed; balance sheets; statements of income; profit and loss; of receipts and disbursements; of affairs and deficiency; of realization and liquidation. Three hours credit.

   Review of methods of calculation; computation of profits; determining the selling price; payroll statistics and calculations; interest; depreciation; insurance; exchange; taxes; short methods of calculation; averages, compound interest; the progression; logarithms; equations; principles of actuarial science. Three hours credit.

   After a sufficient training and drill in the essentials of algebra to enable the student to pass easily and naturally to the practical algebraic methods employed in the mathematics of finance, the course passes to the theory of interest and annuities, amortization and sinking funds, valuation of bonds, statistical graphs, depreciation, and useful formulas. Abundant illustrative examples are used not only to show the application of principles studied, but also to introduce new ideas. Three hours credit.

101. Advanced Accounting.
   An intensive course in accounting practice for those who have finished courses 1, 2, 3, and 4.
   In this course attention is directed principally to practical problems which arise in general accounting practice. Methods of computing Profit and Loss for sole proprietorships, partnerships and corporations are demonstrated. The preparation of Balance Sheets, Profit and Loss Statements, Manufacturing Statements, etc., are outlined in detail and the treatment of all accounts relating to such statements explained. Three hours credit.

102. Advanced Accounting.
   A continuation of Course 101.
   Practical problems in the more advanced stage are presented. These include the preparation of special partnership problems involving distribution of profits and losses, distributions in liquidation, admissions of new partners and retirement of other partners; organization of corporations, depreciation calculations, calculations of production costs, consolidations of parent companies and their subsidiaries, treatment of adjusting entries on books to reflect proper financial conditions and results of operation. Three hours credit.

103. Cost Accounting.
   This course emphasizes the mechanism of Cost Accounting, especially as applicable to a job order manufacturing enterprise. The nature of and reasons for a cost accounting system, the terminology, books of record, accounts used and the summaries and the statements compiled therefrom are simply but thoroughly, discussed and illustrated. The course will treat of Detailed Cost Records; Cost Accounts on the General Accounting Records; Factory Ledger; the Voucher Register in Cost Accounting; Chart of Accounts in a Manufacturing Concern; Materials Control and Accounting; Inventory Records; Accounting for Labor in Cost Accounting; Factory Wage Systems; Manufacturing Expenses; Departmentalization of Factory Expenses; Cost Summaries and Statements; Job Order Cost Set. Three hours credit.

104. Cost Accounting.
   A continuation of Course 103.
   This course will treat of specialized and more advanced phases of Cost Accounting, including distribution costs, standard and uniform costs, graphic presentation of cost data and cost reports for executives. Problems and questions will illustrate the topics discussed. There will be a detailed exposition of: Process Costs; Joint Products and By-Products; Budgetary Control and Cost Accounting; Process Cost Set; Standard Costs; Standard Cost Accounting Procedures; Standard Cost Set; Estimated Costs; Cost Accounting Reports for Management Use; Graphic Presentation of Cost Data; Distribution Costs; Uniform Cost Accounting System; a re-examination of Cost Accounting from the Managerial viewpoint. Three hours credit.
105. Special Accounting Problems.
Corporations, Partnership, Single Proprietorship, dissolution of partnership, organization of corporation, types of capital stock, preferred and common. Statement of Affairs and Realization and Liquidation. Statement for insolvent enterprises. Governmental accounting, trust estates and other accounting situations not usually seen by the ordinary student of accountancy. Particular, peculiar, interesting and more or less unusual accounting situations arising from mergers, consolidations, dissolutions. Accounting for Installment Sales. Calculation of Taxes where Federal income tax is deductible under the state law and state tax is to be deducted simultaneously in preparation of the Federal Tax Return. Three hours credit.

106. Auditing.
This course is designed not only for those who intend to become C. P. A.'s or professional auditors, but also for students who wish to secure a knowledge of the principles involved in the presentation of financial statements. Considerable time is given to the exposition of the purpose of an audit. This is a general verification of the financial accounts of an enterprise to determine: the present financial position; its operating results; the integrity of the management; whether funds have been properly accounted for; whether the affairs of the organization property and others are administered; fire losses, inventories, costs of product or other specific matters; to detect fraud or find out the extent of fraud already detected and to prevent fraud (or extensive fraud) by the effect upon employees and others who may know that periodic audits are to be made. Special problems are presented for solution, giving the students necessary practical experience. Three hours credit.

107. C. P. A. Review.
A continuation of Course 108, with similar aims and methods. Special problems will be studied in this course, with a view toward developing a quick and comprehensive understanding of the problems presented and their appropriate solution. Solutions will be required under conditions similar to those found in the examination room. Various problems will be given to develop unerring accuracy and necessary speed within limited time periods. Open discussions will be entertained on each problem. Three hours credit.

108. Survey of Accounting.
This course is intended principally for students not pursuing the regular accounting course, who desire a condensed course which will cover briefly the entire field of accounting. This survey of general accounting is designed to familiarize the student with that information which he must assimilate if he desires to analyze and interpret accounting statements. The content of this survey course of accounting principles and procedure is highly advantageous to lawyers, executives and others who are called upon to formulate business policies or to act in the capacity of business counselors. This survey course serves as a comprehensive review for former accounting students. Three credit hours each semester.

BIOLOGY

1. General Biology.
An introduction to the elements of general morphology and physiology. Studies are made of a graded series of invertebrate types illustrating the increase of complexity of form as correlated with division of function. More detailed examination is made of those groups which include many parasitic forms. Two lectures, one quiz hour, and four laboratory hours per week. Four hours credit.

2. General Biology.
A continuation of Course 1. A detailed study of types under the Coelomata group. Prerequisite: Course 1. Two lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Four hours credit.

An intensive study of type forms. The value of the structure studies as basal elements of vertebrate anatomy and the principles of homology in the various groups are elaborated in the lectures. Two lectures, one quiz, and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: Courses 1 and 2. Four hours credit.
4. Embryology (General).

Maturation, fertilization, cleavage in various typical forms. Gastrulation and embryo formation in the Chordates. Acrania, Pisces, Amphibia, and Aves are studied and compared with some care. Two lectures, one quiz, and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: Courses 1 and 2. Four hours credit.

5. Introductory Bacteriology.

Morphology and physiology of bacteria and related microorganisms; technique of cultivation and observation. Prerequisite: One year of college chemistry. Two lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: Courses 1 and 2. Four hours credit.

10. Biology Survey.

The chief fundamental concepts of biology. Lectures, two hours a week. Two hours credit.

11. Biology Survey.

A continuation of Course 10. Two hours credit.

104. Embryology (Organogeny).

A continuation of Course 4. A study of the development of systems based on laboratory work on the chick and pig. Two lectures, one quiz, four laboratory hours per week. Second semester. Prerequisite: Courses 1 and 2. Four hours credit.

106. General Bacteriology.

Laboratory methods, technique of cultivation and observation, and study of biochemical reactions. Laboratory; lectures; assigned readings and reports. Prerequisite: Courses 1, 2 and two years of college chemistry. Four hours credit.

107. Pathological Bacteriology.

Morphological and cultural characteristics of disease-producing organisms. Theories of immunity and serum reactions. Routine diagnostic procedure. Prerequisite: Course 5 or 106; organic chemistry. Six laboratory hours per week. Three hours credit.

108. Theory of Evolution.

Lecture course. Prerequisite: Courses 1, 2, and 4. Two hours credit.

109. Microscopical Technique.

Two hours credit.

110. Comparative Histology.

A general course in histology from the comparative standpoint with special emphasis on the functional aspect. Two lectures, two double periods of laboratory. Prerequisite: Courses 1, 2, 4. Four hours credit.

111. Genetics.

A review of the known facts and of the theories regarding heredity. Prerequisite: Courses 1, 2, 3 and 4. Two hours credit.

112. General Physiology.

The nature and properties of protoplasm, the cell, solutions, colloids, diffusion and osmosis, surface tension, hydrogen ion concentration and enzyme activity are considered in relation to the physiological properties of the various animal groups. Experiments designed to illustrate the lecture work. Two lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Four hours credit.

113. General Physiology.

A continuation of Course 112.

The physiology of blood, of the heart and circulation, of respiration, of digestion, of secretions, of muscular and nervous activity is treated. Two lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Courses 1, 2, 3, 4 and 112. Four hours credit.

199. Special Study for Advanced Students.

Credit to be arranged in each case.

BUSINESS LAW

1. Elementary Law and Contracts.

Elements of a contract; kinds of consideration; illegal, fraudulent and other void contracts; construction of contracts; verbal and written contracts; Statute of Frauds; how contracts may be terminated; specific performance; breach of contract; damages. Two hours credit.

2. Corporations.

Forming a corporation; stock subscriptions; how a charter is obtained; rights and liabilities of corporation in States other than where chartered; by-laws; forms of corporate stock and rights of stockholders thereunder; common and preferred stock; acts beyond corporate powers; liabilities of stockholders and directors; rights of creditors; dissolution of corporations and how effected. Two hours credit.
103. Agency.
The contract of agency; agency by ratification or estoppel; principals and agents; rights and duties of agents; termination of the contract of agency; what agencies may be revoked; remedies of agent and principal. One hour credit.

104. Partnership.
Articles of co-partnerships: rights and liabilities of co-partners; rights of creditors against co-partners and against the firm; special partners; silent partners; termination of co-partnerships; commercial paper of a co-partnership; accounting between co-partners; liquidation of assets. One hour credit.

105. Negotiable Instruments.
What instruments are negotiable; bills, notes, drafts and checks; acceptance of drafts, certified checks; defenses and suits brought on negotiable paper; rights and liabilities of endorsers; presentment; notice of dishonor, protest; certificates of stock; warehouse receipts, bills of lading. One hour credit.

106. Bankruptcy.
Who may become bankrupt; voluntary and involuntary bankrupts; acts of bankruptcy; claims, preferences; discharges, etc. Appointment; purposes, rights and duties of receivers and creditors. One hour credit.

107. Insurance.
The fundamental nature of the contract of insurance; interests insurable and not insurable; effect of concealment of fact by the applicant for insurance; representations and warranties by the insurance company; rights of the insured under the policy; the standard fire policy and the standard life policy; development of the insurance field—accident; tornado, etc., guaranty, credit and liability insurance; bonding companies and their operations; premiums and assessments; stock, mutual and beneficial insurance companies and associations. One hour credit.

108. Sales.
The contract of sale; memoranda; immediate and future sales, time of delivery; shipment, rights and duties of consignee, consignor and carrier; stoppage and loss in transit; when the contract is closed; setting aside sales; warranties; sales by samples, by description. One hour credit.

109. Property.
Realty; personality; mixed; acquiring title to personality by purchase, gift, finding and other means; estates in realty—fee simple, life, leasehold, dower, contingent interests, mortgages, deeds, conveyances, title by descent, devise, purchase and prescription, abstracts, remedies of purchaser and seller, taxation, assessments. One hour credit.

110. Bailments and Carriers.
Bailments. Mutual rights and duties of bailor and bailee; pledges; storage of goods; warehouseman; warehouse receipts, etc.
Carriers. Public and private carriers; shipments of goods; rights and duties of shipper, consignee and carrier; stoppage and loss in transit; bills of lading; State and Federal regulations, etc. One hour credit.

CHEMISTRY

1. General Inorganic Chemistry.
A course of experimental lectures and problems combined with laboratory work. Lectures, two hours a week; quiz, one hour a week; laboratory, four hours a week. Four hours credit.

2. General Inorganic Chemistry.
A continuation of Course 1. The laboratory work of the second semester includes a brief course in qualitative analysis. Lectures, two hours a week; quiz, one hour a week; laboratory, four hours a week. Four hours credit.

3. Qualitative Analysis.
Prerequisite: Courses 1 and 2. Eight hours a week. Four hours credit.

4. Quantitative Analysis.
Prerequisite: Courses 1-2 and 3. Lectures and laboratory work, eight hours a week; one semester. Four hours credit.

5. A Combined Course in Inorganic Chemistry.
This course is intended for those not taking Chemistry as their major. Lectures, two hours a week; laboratory, four hours a week. Four hours credit.

A continuation of Course 5. Lectures, two hours a week; laboratory, four hours a week. Four hours credit.
A course in the elements of chemistry for students who desire a knowledge of the fundamental ideas and correct terminology of chemistry as applied to commercial and other problems of daily life. Lectures, two hours a week. Two hours credit.

A continuation of Course 10. Two hours credit.

Prerequisite: Courses 1 and 2. Lectures, two hours a week; laboratory, four hours a week; one semester. Four hours credit.

Prerequisite: Courses 1, 2 and 107. Lectures, two hours a week; laboratory, four hours a week; one semester. Four hours credit.

109. Elementary Physical Chemistry.
Prerequisite: Courses 4, 107, 108. Primarily a course for chemistry and pre-medical students who have not had calculus. Lectures, two hours a week; laboratory, four hours a week; one semester. Four hours credit.

119. Physical Chemistry.
Prerequisites: Chemistry 3, 108; Mathematics 151, 152; Physics 1, 2. Lectures, two hours a week; laboratory, four hours a week; one semester. Four hours credit.

120. Physical Chemistry.
A continuation of Course 119. Lectures, two hours a week; laboratory, four hours a week; one semester. Four hours credit.

122. Inorganic Preparations.
Two laboratory exercises a week.

123. Seminar Course.
Dealing with topics of chemistry for advanced students. One hour a week; two semesters. Two hours credit.

ECONOMICS

1. Principles of Economics.
The economic principles involved in the production, exchange, distribution and consumption of wealth. Study of textbook supplemented by lectures, discussions and assigned readings. Three hours credit. In Evening Division, two hours credit.

2. Economic History of the United States.
The development of agriculture, commerce and manufacturing industry from Colonial times to the present day. Study of textbook with assigned readings on special topics. Two or three hours credit.

7. Economic Resources.
Review of the development of raw materials through historic periods. Rise and fall of cities. Trade routes. The major items of international trade. Influences of climates, rivers, sea traffic. Races, nations, and peoples according to their economic interests and aptitudes. Progress of science and technology in utilization of natural resources. Raw materials in modern industry. Study of textbook supplemented by lectures, discussions and individual projects. Two or three hours credit.

8. Investments.
General survey of the use of capital in permanent enterprises, real estate, manufacturing, agriculture, shipping, mining, banking, trade, wholesale and retail. Government securities, home and foreign. Legal aspects of securities. Distinctions between investment and speculation. Influence of business cycles upon costs of investments and yields. Study of textbook supplemented by lectures, discussions and individual projects. Two or three hours credit.

Producers, transportation, distribution, sales. Wholesalers, jobbers, brokers, commission merchants, retailers, agents, house-to-house canvassers. Problems of value. The chain stores in modern commercial affairs. The business cycle in relation to prices. Study of textbook supplemented by lectures, discussions and individual projects. Two or three hours credit.

10. Credits and Collections.
Nature and laws of mercantile credit; advantages and defects of the credit system; commercial rating; checks and safeguards; collections, exemption and limitation. Two hours credit.

11. History of Commerce.
Review of the development of commerce, both domestic and international, from the beginning of recorded history. Ancient and medieval commerce: Egypt, Mesopotamia, India, China, Persia, Phoenicia, Rome, the Holy Roman Empire. Modern commerce since the discovery of America, with 12. Fundamental Salesmanship.

This course provides an analysis of the principles and technique of personal selling with their application. Through lectures, text, collateral readings, class discussion and analysis. The student secures an intimate knowledge of the selling process and its component parts. Emphasis is placed upon a discussion of the nature scope and development of personal selling, the selling process in relation to the salesman, the psychology of the selling process, with the psychological aspects of buying and selling knowledge of the sales proposition as a basis for selling, knowledge of the market and planning for successful personal selling. Offered in Evening Division. Two hours credit.

13. Fundamental Salesmanship.
A continuation of Salesmanship 12. In this course an effort is made to develop the ability to employ these principles by requiring the student to conduct sales presentations. Detailed study is made of the importance of a knowledge of the product, selecting its appeal, buying motives, planning the approach, securing the interview, the sales presentation, overcoming objections, strategy in closing, the development of good-will, and cultivation of repeat sales. Instructions are given concerning the technique of selling to different classes of buyers—the household consumer, the retailer, the wholesaler, the manufacturer and the export trade. Offered in Evening Division. Two hours credit.

14. Fundamentals of Business.
A survey course to prepare students for later courses by building up for them a concrete background out of the field and materials of industry and business organization. This course seeks to present a broad picture of the entire business field. Four hours credit.

21. Science and Fundamentals of Life Insurance.

191. Latin Conversation.
An advanced course conducted entirely in Latin, and including recitations, lectures, original speeches and debates. Two or four hours credit.

199. Special Study for Advanced Students.
Credit to be arranged in each case.

MATHEMATICS

1. College Algebra.
After a brief review of the foundations, the following topics are treated: variables and limits, binomial theorem series, logarithms, determinants, and theory of equations. Prerequisite: Entrance Algebra, one and one-half units, and Plane Geometry. Three hours credit.

2. Plane Trigonometry.
The six elementary functions for acute angles; geometry; solution of right and oblique triangles; graphs of the functions and solution of simple trigonometric equations. Three hours credit.

3-4. Algebra; Trigonometry; Analytic Geometry.

5. Spherical Trigonometry.

7. Plane Analytic Geometry.
Loci and their equations. The straight line; the circle; the parabola, ellipse, and hyperbola; transformation of co-ordinates; polar co-ordinates. Three hours credit.

22. Mathematics of Finance (Acct. 22).
After a sufficient training and drill in the essentials of algebra to enable the student to pass easily and naturally to the practical algebraic methods employed in the mathematics of finance, the course passes to the theory of interest and annuities, amortization and sinking funds, valuation of bonds, statistical graphs, depreciation, and useful formulas. Abundant illustrative examples are used not only to show the application of principles studied, but also to introduce new ideas. Three hours credit.

117. Theory of Equations.

142. Solid Analytic Geometry.
An introductory treatment of the point, plane, straight line, and surface of revolution. Three hours credit.

146. Projective Geometry.
Line co-ordinates, principles of duality, metric and projective properties, double ratio, collineations and involutions. Three hours credit.

151. Differential Calculus.
Fundamental notions of variables; functions, limits, derivative and differentials; differentiation of the ordinary algebraic, exponential and trigonometric functions with geometric applications to maxima and minima, inflexions and envelopes; Taylor's formula. Three hours credit.

152. Integral Calculus.
The nature of integration; elementary processes and integrals; geometric applications to area, length, volume and surface; multiple integrals; use of infinite series of integration; introduction to differential equations. Three hours credit.
Differential Equations.
Solution of ordinary differential equations. Applications to Geometry and Physics. Solution in series. Partial differential equations. Two semesters. Six hours credit.

Advanced Calculus.
This course comprises topics not ordinarily discussed in a first course or discussed only in a cursory way. In particular the evaluation and differentiation of definite integrals, changing the order of integration; special functions defined by definite integrals; Jacobians and transformations; special infinite developments will be considered. Two semesters. Six hours credit.

Introduction to Modern Analysis.
Definitions of elementary notions of the theory of numbers, of substitutions, of groups, of algebraic forms and their invariants and of similar subjects will form the content of this course. Three hours credit.

Methods of Teaching Mathematics.
A course for those who expect to teach high school mathematics. Prerequisites: Courses Mt. 142 and 151. Two hours credit.

Special Study for Advanced Students.
Credit to be arranged in each case.

MILITARY SCIENCE AND TACTICS

1-2. First Year Basic Course.
Military fundamentals, leadership, elementary gunnery, the Firing Battery, ammunition and materiel, obligations of citizenship. Two semesters. Four hours credit.

3-4. Second Year Basic Course.
Fire control instruments, map and aerial photograph reading, signal communications, the duties of the detail. Automotive vehicle construction, component parts, assemblies, functions and operation. Two semesters. Four hours credit.

101-102. First Year Advanced Course.
Reconnaissance, selection and occupation of position, use of the B. C. Detail, liaison with Infantry, leadership, elementary ballistics and dispersion, preparation and conduct of fire. Operation and military maintenance of motor vehicles. Pistol marksmanship. Two semesters. Six hours credit.

100-104. Second Year Advanced Course.
Leadership, military organization and tactics to include the Division, the employment of Field Artillery in operations of the combined arms. Military History and policy, study of selected operations. Military Law to include criminal elements covered by the Punitive Articles, jurisdiction and procedure of Military Courts with their rules of evidence.
The essentials of Military Administration. Marches and shelter, camouflage, chemical defense. Two semesters. Six hours credit.

PHILOSOPHY

1. Formal Logic.
This will comprise the customary treatment of formal logic with added emphasis on inductive reasoning and the informal reasoning of everyday life and of literature. Two or three hours credit.

120. Contemporaneous Philosophy.

121. Contemporaneous American Thought.

137-138. Ethics.
   See Sociology.

PHYSICS

1. General Physics.
   Mechanics, molecular physics, and heat. Three lectures and one laboratory period a week. Four hours credit.

2. General Physics.
   Sound, light, electricity, and radiation. Three lectures and one laboratory period a week. Four hours credit.

104. Introduction to Modern Physics.
   Discussion of some of the more important concepts of Physics with special emphasis on recent developments. Lectures, three hours a week; one semester. Three hours credit.

103-104. Theoretical Mechanics.
   Elementary theory of the statics, kinetics and dynamics of particles and rigid bodies.
   Prerequisite: Physics 1-2 and a working knowledge of differential and integral calculus. Lectures, three hours a week; two semesters. Six hours credit.

105-106. Electricity and Magnetism.
   A lecture course giving a mathematical treatment of the theory and practical applications.
   Prerequisites: Same as for 103-104. Lectures, three hours a week; two semesters. Six hours credit.

108. Physical Optics.
   Lectures with experimental illustrations dealing with the phenomena of diffraction, interference, polarization, dispersion and spectroscopy. Three hours a week; one semester. Three hours credit.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

1. American Federal Government.
   This course offers a general survey of the American governmental principles, and involves a study of the federal constitution and the organization and functions of the National Government; construction, powers and duties of the executive, judicial, and legislative departments; the taxing power; the nation's expenditures; the government of the dependencies and territories. SPEECH

1. Principles of Speech.
The first consideration of this course is to develop a capacity for normal thinking while addressing an individual or a group. "Stage-fright," which impedes proper coordination of thought and its utterance, is overcome by sympathetic, constructive criticism of individual deficiencies. Much attention is given to the fundamental problems of diction, choice of subject, posture and the correction of mannerisms. A foundation is laid for direct, unaffected speech without interference with desirable qualities of personal style. The student is afforded frequent opportunity of appearing before the class in extempore and carefully prepared addresses. One or two hours credit.

2. Effective Speaking.
   Considerable time is given to the composition of speeches, to the coherent organization of material and to various methods of developing an idea. When necessary, suggestions are offered for improvement in style, voice modulation, enunciation and relevant points. Students continue the practice of frequent appearance before the class. The primary purpose of this course is to strengthen in the individual his knowledge of the fundamental principles of oral expression and composition and to prepare him for advanced work if he chooses to continue in this field. One or two hours credit.

3. Pulpit Address.
   A special course in the essentials of pulpit delivery. Short addresses are written and delivered, followed by class criticism. Two hours credit.

4. Pulpit Address.
   A continuation of 3. Two hours credit.

5. Public Reading.
   Communication the basic principle. Speech elements, phonetics. Enunciation, articulation, pronunciation. Elimination of faulty speech habits. Lectures and practice classes, two hours a week, two semesters. Four hours credit.

104. Advanced Effective Speaking.
   Advanced work for those who have taken Speech 1 and 2, or their equivalents. Constructive criticism of individual speeches is offered throughout this course. Students receive careful direction in short speech composition. They are encouraged to think independently in the preparation and delivery of announcements, informal public addresses, after-dinner talks, sales talks, etc. A list of selected subjects is provided for reference each week. Members of this group are invited to present talks in the fields of their special interests. Two hours credit.

105. Advanced Effective Speaking.
   A continuation of Course 104. A study is made of audience reaction and the psychology of the longer speech. The student is taught to communicate his ideas with force and conviction, to recognize, stimulate and sustain favorable response. Attention is directed to personality in the speech and to the development of individual style. Model speeches of special character are reviewed for their illustrative value. Students doing extra-curricular work in speech will receive special training. Two hours credit.

106. Interpretative Reading.
   A course to understand the cultural and humanizing possibilities inherent in the best literature. The work of the course increases skill in (1) grasping the full thought and emotional content of the written word; (2) reacting to the rhythm of verse; (3) sharing truth and beauty with others in natural, forceful, and attractive utterance. One hour credit.

107. Literary Appreciation.
   An advanced course in the reading and interpretation of the drama, classical fiction, narrative and descriptive poetry. One hour credit.

108. Radio Speech Technique.
   This course finds more than adequate justification in a field which is expanding rapidly and which is rich in opportunity for the individual with talent and training. While the psychology of radio speech technique is distinct from that in other fields of oral expression, it is dependent upon a sound knowledge of the principles common to all forms of correct speech. The student trained in other divisions of oral expression is well equipped for this course. Vowel, consonant and syllable distinctness in enunciation; use of the voice; mental attitude towards the microphone; these and other pertinent principles are treated thoroughly. Valuable drill work is conducted in the classroom which is used as a studio setting for students presenting individual or group programs. All programs are given before a practical microphone which carries the voice to an adjoining studio for audition and criticism. Offered in the Evening Division. Two hours credit.
Radio Speech Technique.
A continuation of Course 108. Following a review of basic subjects treated in the first semester, this division of the course provides discussion of the following topics: oral interpretation; vocal variety stimuli; the radio talk, its length, style, diction, etc.; the radio play or specialty; dramatic reading; specialized speech programs, broadcasting news, sports, interviews; and the general background of radio, its growth and possibilities as a profession. Students are permitted to arrange and conduct group programs within definite time limits. Every effort is made to create genuine "studio atmosphere." Class visits to local studios provide valuable laboratory work. Offered in the Evening Division. Two hours credit.
