XAVIER SPEAKER CHOSEN N. F. C. C. S. PRESIDENT

Other Officers Are Chosen From Various Schools

At the Second Regional Conference of the National Federation of Catholic College Students held at Our Lady of Cincinnati College, Sunday, March 10, James Poland, the speaker from Xavier, was elected President by the delegates. The election was held after the speeches and discussions which

Meet Your New Professor At X

Father Paul D. Sullivan, S. J., A. B., M. A., Ph. D., is one of the newer members of Xavier's English department. The eldest of seven children, he was born in Chicago, Illinois, in 1894. Upon completing elementary school he went to St. Mary's in Kansas. There he attended high-school and two years of college. His principle interest was writing for the school magazine, though he also found time for his favorite sports, gymnastics and swimming. In 1914 he entered the Jesuit order. After four years of preliminary study he went to St. Louis University, where he received his Bachelor and Master degrees. During this period he wrote several articles for "America."

In 1921 he became associate professor of English and Public Speaking at Creighton University. Two years later he assumed the same position at Regis

Fr. Paul D. Sullivan

College, Denver. He returned to St. Louis University for further studies and in June, 1927, he was ordained. Father Sullivan did further graduate work at Marquette U. and received his Ph. D. there in 1932. He spent a year in Cleveland, and from there went to the University of Detroit as dean of the graduate school and head of the English Department. From 1937 to 1942 he was at John Carroll in Cleveland. West Baden, Indiana, was his next assignment and he stayed there until 1945, when he came to Xavier.

Father Sullivan is now teaching three courses in the undergraduate division and is expected to play a prominent part in the new graduate division. Beside these duties he is doing much work with old manuscripts, being particularly interested in old copies of the English Bible.

revolved around the topic of the United Nations Organizations. Official delegates from Our Lady of Cincinnati, Mount St. Joseph, Marion College, and Dayton University balloted on the new officers. Other officers elected were Vice President, Marion Sunderhaus, Marion College; Treasurer, Eleanor Waters, Our Lady of Cincinnati; Corresponding Secretary, Claire McDonlad, Mt. St. Joseph College; and Recording Secretary, Mary Behringer, Dayton University.

Betty Ann Geers, retiring president, and James Poland were appointed delegates of this region to the district conference of the N.F.C.C.S. to be held at Webster College, St. Louis, on Saturday, March 30.

The election of Poland marks the first time that a Xavier delegate has held an office in the N.F.C.C.S. The fact that Poland was elected reflects credit not only upon himself but on Xavier as well. Through his office in this national organization, Jim Poland will be well qualified to spread the name and spirit of the University into many sections of the country.

Debate Club Meets Monday

The debating society is again coming into its own in campus life. The formal name which was given to the society in 1927 is the "Poland Philopedian Society" named in memory of Reverend William F. Poland, S. J., who was one of the first moderators of the society. The aim of the society is to offer opportunity to those students interested for public address and debate. The society was organized in 1841. Thus it is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, organization on the campus.

The next meeting will take place at 1 p. m., March 18, in Room 208. All of the students who are interested should attend this meeting. Let's organize a debating team which will be able to compete with the top teams in the country.

To Give Lenten Sermons

Father Joseph C. Lawless, S. J., from St. Stanislaus Novitiate has been assigned to Xavier U. for the Lenten season. Father is giving two courses of sermons at Holy Trinity, Latonia, Ky., and St. Anthony, Hamilton, Ohio. He also assists with student confessions in Bellarmine chapel.

NEWSPAPER MEETINGS

All members of the Xavier News please attend the meetings which will be held every Tuesday at 12:30 in Room 10. Any one interested in newspaper work please see Father Dietz or report to the newspaper room opposite the coach's office in the Field House.

Secretary Loses Father
The faculty and student body extend their deepest sympathy to Miss Mary Frances Langefels, secretary to the Registrar, on the recent death of her beloved father.

National and International Flavor Permeates Xavier

Seventeen states and four foreign countries are represented at Xavier. If the students from the Greater Cincinnati area are excluded, the number of students from the Blue Grass state outnumber those from Ohio, 39 to 38. The Hoosier state has sent 22 members; Illinois, 7; New York 6; West Virginia, 5; Michigan, 4; Missouri, 3; Pennsylvania, 3; Massachusetts and Oklahoma, 2 each; Nebraska, New Jersey, South Carolina, Texas, Rhode Island, and Virginia, one each. Foreign countries represented are: Canada, Honduras, Mexico, and Puerto Rico. Three come from Puerto Rico and one each from the other countries.

Vet Column Gives Words Of Advice, Touch Of Romance

This is the birth of a column ... a column dedicated to the interests, rights, and obligations of the World War II veterans now attending Xavier U.

Whether it shall be long- or short-lived depends in very large measure on Dr. Wheeler, Xavier's harrassed Director of Veterans' Education. It's his brain child.

Dr. W. already admits that he let himself in for something more than he realized when, being in an expansive mood one day, he told News reporters "it would be a good idea." Time ... and you readers ... will tell.

For the record ...

And for late registrants enmeshed in the problem of getting into classes — and it was a problem ...

Norwood Boys Are All Vets Of Overseas Army

Xavier has a "Believe it or not" situation in her student body this semester; four brothers are enrolled in the freshman class.

The brothers, members of the Vollmer family of Norwood, O., are: Leo, George, Harold, Carl. All are Army veterans, discharged in successive months from September to December, 1945.

Leo, the eldest of the quartet, served with the 7th Infantry Division, began his college career here at the January intersession, and is working for a Bachelor of Science degree.

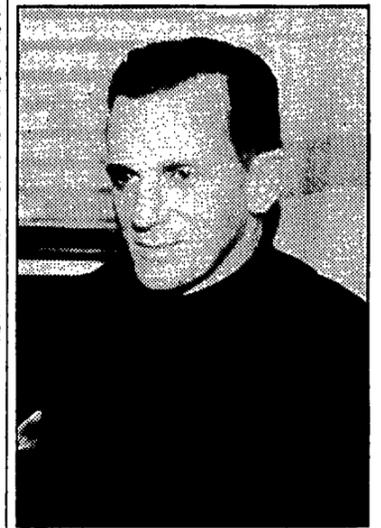

George, who was overseas with the 400th Anti-aircraft Artillery, entered school in February, and intends to obtain a degree in the arts.

Harold, with the Army's 6th Infantry Division overseas, began at January intersession, and is majoring in the sciences.

The youngest of the four, Carl, entered pre-legal studies in February after serving overseas in the 79th Infantry.

Speaking for all four of the education-seeking brothers, George says: "It's our opportunity and we're all here to study and get all we can out of it."

Moderator Thanked For Fine Work

Fr. Frank T. Dietz, S. J.

The staff of the Xavier University News wishes to take this opportunity to thank publicly Reverend Frank T. Dietz, S. J., for his invaluable aid in assisting in the reactivation of this student newspaper.

Father Dietz has recently been discharged from the Army where he held the rank of Major and was awarded three Bronze Stars. Since his arrival here at Xavier, he has been sorely pressed for time, and the assumption of his new duties has made the time spent on the newspaper a thing greatly appreciated.

As Moderator of the News Father has done much work for which he has received no credit. The paper could hardly be published without the extra work that he has devoted to it. Father Dietz's help, not only in the organization but in his continued aid, has, and will, prove a boon in the previous and forthcoming issues.

COUNCIL PLANS FOR ACTIVITIES

According to Father Dietz, student activity advisor, the Student Council has again reached the high standard it maintained in pre-war years.

The Council held its first meeting of the current semester, March 5th. Many issues were brought forth by the representatives of the respective classes and plans were formulated to initiate formal action. Outstanding among these was the General Assembly to be held upon the arrival of our new football coach, Lt. Paul Bucklew. This Assembly is to take place in the Field House, and a plan for the program is now in formation. Several other issues were brought up at this meeting which are of major importance to the betterment of the student body. One of these the Student Council calls particular attention to is the problem of keeping the smoker in neat order. Another is that of finding suitable cheers for the coming football season. The council has among its objectives new records for the "juke box" in the cafeteria; and its social committee under the direction of Jim Callahan is taking on the responsibility of insuring a successful Junior Prom in May.

President Asks Support

The president of the Student Council, Joseph Summe, made the following statement:

"If the council is to promote school activities in both a social and academic sense, we need your support. We need this cooperation in two ways: (1) In your taking an active part in school events, and (2) by voicing both your opinions and suggestions through your class presidents. Please help us in making Xavier a bee-hive of activity for more pleasant and profitable relations between school and students."

COSMOLOGY NOTES ARE NEAR COMPLETION

Fr. William Hetherington has announced that his Cosmology notes are just about completed. He hopes eventually to have them published. These notes are based on Cosmologia, published in Rome in 1932 by Fr. Hoenan, S. J. Fr. Hetherington studied under Fr. Hoenan in Rome at the Gregorian University in 1932. Fr. Hoenan is considered a foremost authority on that subject. He received his doctorate in Chemistry under the famous Lennertz.

Yipe! No Beer?

ISN'T IT DISGUSTING the way we must sacrifice ourselves for people we don't know. Why should we have to support the countries that wanted to enslave us? We have to look out for our own needs. The United States has always had the highest standard of living in the world and we should certainly keep things that way. When we are certain that we have accomplished that end, then, and then only, we can look around us and see if we might possibly aid some one else.

No rational man can believe that his only duty in life is to be absolutely certain that he and his are living in high style. If we were in the condition of Europe, we would certainly expect, and rightly so, that the conquering peoples should help us in our struggle for existence. This would be their sacred duty as fellow members of the human race. Our ethics will not permit us to let human beings literally starve to death because we want to live in luxury. We can only condemn ourselves for failing to help these teeming millions in this, one of the darkest hours in the history of Europe.

Recently, our Government has asked us to give up some of our everyday pleasures in order that we may send this badly needed help to Europe. When the ideas of this program were presented to us, a howl of indignation arose. The citizens of our great democracy could never endure the prospect of their favorite taverns closing three out of every seven days just to help bring food to 400,000,000 starving people. Beer should not go by the board merely because some moral fanatic wants to aid sufferings countries. And just think. We may have to forget about our fine white bread for a while because the ingredients are to be used to restore life to completely demoralized and ravished nations.

In the past, Americans have always been known for their generosity, a thing that has caused us much pride. We cannot fail this reputation. We, as college men have an active part in the life of our community. It is part of our duty as citizens to help in every way possible, and at the same time to convince others to help, in this great new program. More than this, it is for us Catholics to have generous hearts and be willing to help bereaved peoples.

A Great Day For The Irish

NO. THAT ISN'T the approach of another V-Day that you hear — it's only the Irish warming themselves up for their great day. Shure and begorra! It's true. St. Patty's day is Sunday and every son of the Emerald Isle will be out to celebrate. And, seriously, the Irish should celebrate the day of their patron saint. For St. Patrick left his chosen people a heritage which all the world may envy. His heritage wasn't political or economic skill. And when he drove the snakes from Ireland, he did not supplant them with an ability for military power. Then what did the good saint leave his Irish, that a world, which is vainly wearing itself out in seeking happiness, may envy? The answer, of course, is Faith. No other people in the world so value their religion, in practice and in theory, as do the Irish. No other people have remained so faithful to their God and, because of this, to their duty toward their fellow men.

There are some who object to the pride Irish-Americans feel in their national origin. The cry is often heard: "Why don't these people stop calling themselves Irish and start calling themselves Americans?" We need go no further than World War II's roll of honor to find the answer, inscribed thereon by deeds, not just in words. The names of Kelly, Shea, Sullivan, Callahan, Powers, etc., are gems in America's crown of heroes.

Yes, the Irish are a religious patriotic people. Whenever they have been put to the test they have proven themselves. And whatever the Irish are today they owe to their own apostle, St. Patrick. So Sunday there will be "Irish Roses" and "Irish Eyes," there will be "Too-a-looras" and "Mother Machrees," but the song that will express the Irish heart is "All Praise to St. Patrick."

(If you are wondering how the impersonal effect of this editorial was achieved, it's easy. The grandparents of the writer were named Sharkey, Coughlin, McNamee and Donovan — all Swedes.)

THE INMATES SPEAK

"Good evening, Ladies and Gentlemen, this is Westbrook Hands and Knees speaking for the makers of Grummer's Grow All Hair Tonic. Is your husband bald-headed? Does he keep you awake at night when his head rolls off the pillow? Do you want to stick your finger in his ear and go bowling? Well ladies, all I can say is:

Use the tonic known as Grummer's;

He'll have hair like Dorsey's drummer.

We now turn to the current news of the day. By special wire we take you to Bombay, India where, after having just completed a three year fast, Mahatma Ghandi will speak a few words to the public of the world awaiting his momentous decision. Take it away Bombay."

"I'm hungry."

Said Russia's Vishinsky to Great Britain's Bevin, "All is not happy in Soviet heaven."

Replied Mr. Bevin with scorn in his voice, "Comes the next assassination and you'll be first choice."

My mother's in bad with Chester Bowles, She was caught selling Black-market Tootsie Rolls.

Said the Cocker Spaniel to the bankrupt flea, "Please don't put the bite on me."

As I turned to tune in Toscanini, She slipped a mickey in my Martini.

I hope Donovan doesn't edit this thing. He has become so plump lately that he is grumpy about everything; he hates to admit it but he is wearing a girdle. He thinks he looks better with just his feet on the floor. I hate to talk behind his back this way — but it takes too long to get around to his face.

Pickle in the middle with the mustard on top Just a lunch at Xavier and its not so hot.

Mac has a strange hobby. He collects the stuffed deer he gets on hunting trips. However, he doesn't keep the heads. Whenever a visitor goes into his trophy room, he thinks he is catching up with the herd.

... By W. Nicholson and J. Reiser

On the afternoon of November 8, 1939 Oscar Serlin was greatly in doubt as to the reception his new play would receive, but with the rise of the curtain that evening he knew it was a success. "Life With Father" has been playing to capacity audiences ever since. Last week, well past the 2,000th mark in performances, it was still going strong upon the stage of Cincinnati's Cox Theatre. Clarence Day's novel of the same name furnished the material which Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse have ably fashioned into an equally amusing comedy.

The present father of the Day clan is portrayed by Carl Benton Reid. While Mr. Reid gives a convincing performance, he is hardly the exuberant master depicted in the Day novel. If memory serves us right, the Mr. Day created by Howard Lindsay, the original Father, more nearly approached the title character of the book. Betty Linley as Mother flits around the stage in a manner which infuriates Father and reminds us greatly of Billie Burke. Miss Linley is charming both to eye and ear as she plays the eternally youthful Vinnie, the mother of the four Days.

Sets that literally reeked with Victorian atmosphere and costumes, cleverly executed by the Brooks Costume Company, add greatly to the entertainment value of the production. An interesting fact to note in regard to this is that the portraits and personal jewelry were loaned to the company by the Clarence Day estate. Although such a loan added much authenticity, the portraits lacked the flaming red hair of all the actors representing the Day family. We are not going to try to explain this hereditary mishap but will leave that up to the biology department.

Many of the bit players are deserving of notice. The maid situation is amusing and capably handled by the several young women who have the fortune to be hired and fired by the eccentric Day household. The doctors, too, are outstanding as bit players, and the Rev. Dr. Lloyd is the very essence of what one would imagine the Victorian minister to be.

Margaret Thedieck as Cousin Cora and Ann Sorg as Mary Skinner do their best with rather pitiful parts. During the entire romance between Mary Skinner and Clarence Day, Jr., one could not but wonder if both weren't a little sick, and not from love. Those I-haven't-eaten-in-ten-days looks that they exchanged can't be love, or maybe we just don't have love in our souls. Cousin Cora, the country cousin, puzzled us as to why she ever left the peaceful country to join the mad world of the Day's New York home. She expresses complete amazement and shock, at every "damnation" which bursts from the lips of the explosive Mr. Day.

While it was considerate of the "Life With Father" company to supply the Cox orchestra with special musical arrangements, they would have accomplished far more by presenting the Cox with a new orchestra. We had been under the impression that the only connection that cats had with an orchestra was to supply their interiors for the string instruments.

Although we have seen the play six times, it is always a pleasure to see the theater filled by a family crowd. Never during the entire performance is there an off-color remark. Judging from the majority of plays of this season and of season's past, this must be some kind of a record. Just another proof that clean theater can be successful theater.

While commenting upon the length of this play's run this thought kept running through our mind: Seven years and no more Days.

TIME OUT

By Joe Frederick

With each new semester comes the renewed cry for a ski-train or some similar contraption as a conveyance to and from classes by the dorm students. What with Marion Residence now open, we expect the school will be asked to buy a helicopter or two!!!

Spa-Scene: Ed Allgeier, trying to persuade the bartender that the Government would take care of his check under the G.I. Bill!! (We must find out how successful he was-!)

A passing thought: Xavier must have something to offer her students, since many of the men who took C.T.D. training here are returning to take up THEIR college work.

If the Committee searching for a permanent site for U.N.O. is rejected elsewhere, we suggest the grounds in the rear of Albers Hall. If that site is unsuited, why not try the Pentagon Building??? There the Committee would have to cooperate in order to find their way out, once they got in.

(At least the Delegates would find international peace!!!)

Co-Captains Chosen For Next Cage Season

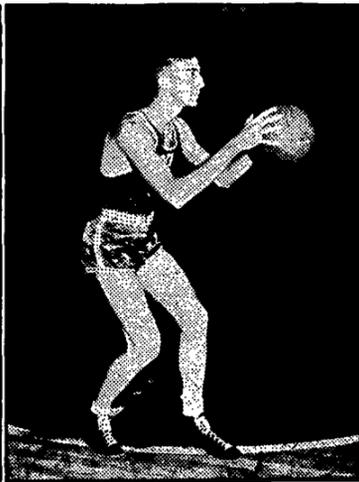

The 1945-46 Musketeer basketball team was guest of honor at a banquet in the Union House last Tuesday evening. Besides the members of the team and Coach Burns, those attending were Father Englum, Father Nieporte, Father Breen and Father Fischer, members of the "B" squad, the cheerleaders and the Xavier Athletic Board. Coach Eddie Burns, in his interesting talk, thanked the players of both the varsity and "B" squads who made sacrifices in staying late each evening, and in serving as "pioneers" in the rebuilding of athletics here at X. Without exception they conducted themselves in the "old Xavier spirit", and did everything that highlights of the evening were the awarding of letters and the election of next year's captain, which resulted in the selection of Don Donovan and "Whitey" Langemeier as co-captains.

Langemeier was in the lineup from the beginning of the season. His play was becoming more polished each week when a sprained ankle benched him for nearly a month in mid-season. Whitey returned to the lineup with renewed vigor and ended the season by playing a terrific game against U.C. In this game his work under the basket caused much concern in the Bearcat stands throughout the entire battle.

Donovan entered Xavier in January and immediately won a starting berth by his adept ball-handling, fighting spirit and hustle. Don played in every game until the U.C. contest when a case of the flu forced him to stay in bed.

Paul (Chip) Cain was toastmaster for the occasion and set the keynote of the evening when he told those present that although the team did not have an outstanding record, they had very admirably brought Xavier back into the athletic world, meeting some of the top teams of the nation. He then introduced the members of the Athletic Board and cited the splendid work they are doing. Those taking bows were Messrs. Gordon Need, Mark Schmidt, Herman Bressler, Harry Foley, Mike Hellenthal and Dan Tehan. On behalf of the board, Mr. Cain thanked Coach Burns for the splendid job that he has done, in the face of Donovan, Cincinnati; Thomas M. McCaffery, Dayton, Ky.; Ralph J. Mott, Cincinnati; John H. Neiser, Alexandria, Ky.; Paul W. Stickley, Norwood, and William T. Cosgrove of Norwood. Student Managers Mark Craven and John Fischer were also awarded letters.

Father Englum, Faculty Moderator of Athletics, spoke briefly and said that everyone was very satisfied with the way the team shaped up, and that we were in the process of building up for next year, when we will be much more capable of taking on the teams which we had faced this year.

The program was brought to a close as Larry Foley, captain of this year's team, in the name of his teammates, presented Coach Burns with a handsome cigarette lighter, as a token of appreciation for his untiring efforts.

Thinking It Over

With Charlie Palmer

According to a report from a well informed source, Xavier is going to aim at a definite expansion in basketball. It is understood that an attempt will be made to raise Xavier's quintets to the power of such teams as Bowling Green State, Valparaiso, and Canisius. There is no reason why this cannot be done. Xavier has perhaps the best facilities in this section of the country for basketball. The Memorial Field house has been highly praised by officials from many visiting schools.

One reason why this expansion should meet with success is the nearness of Xavier to high schools which consistently turn out topnotch cagers. Although high school basketball in Cincinnati is comparatively weak, such perennial champions as Middletown, Hamilton Public, and up and coming Hamilton Catholic, as well as such Indiana standouts as Aurora and Lawrenceburg, are situated within a forty mile radius. A glance at the lineup of the outstanding Bowling Green (O.) outfit will reveal that almost all of the players are from nearby Toledo and neighboring country schools. We believe that if an attractive schedule is presented and a sincere effort is made for expansion, local stars will flock to Xavier. It is our opinion that a big time basket-

All-Opponent Team Chosen

The Xavier University basketball team in a recent meeting chose an "All-Opponent" team for the 1945-46 season.

Only two players were chosen unanimously. They are Fred Lewis of Eastern State and "Wahwah" Jones of U.K. Lewis was the second highest scorer in the nation this year, while Jones, just a freshman at Kentucky, was chosen "All South-Eastern Conference". Both players appeared twice against Xavier this season. Jones scored a total of 43 points against the Muskies, while Lewis tallied 39.

Two Army men were placed ball program will meet with definite student approval and great applause from Cincinnati fandom in general, which for so long has had to content itself with mediocrity in basketball play.

on Xavier's "All-Opponent Team". They are Bob O'Brien of Camp Atterbury, and Ed Ehlers of the Ferry Command. O'Brien used to play ball for Pepperdine College, and has developed into an even greater basketball player in the service. Ehlers is an ex-Purdue basketball player and is obviously of "Big Ten" caliber. Jack Parkinson, another U.K. hoopster, completes the "All-Star" line-up. Parkinson has been a top-notch in the South-Eastern conference for two years.

This reminder is being repeated for emphasis:
IF FOR ANY REASON WHATSOEVER YOU HAVE NEGLECTED TO FILE FORM 1950 AND A CERTIFIED COPY OF YOUR DISCHARGE WITH THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION, DO SO AT ONCE.
Exception? Every law has one even VA'S.

But this is a particularly mild one: It concerns officers and men on terminal leave or on convalescent leave (who are entitled to education since January 1, 1946, though they weren't entitled under the original GI Bill of Rights)

Obviously these "vets" can't file discharges; they haven't been discharged. They therefore need only file a copy of their orders. But that they must do pronto.

Men with pensions or with retirement pay also must file Form 1950, etc., unless their application for rehabilitation has been approved by the VA previous to their enrollment.

In other words, they must enter school under the GI Bill of Rights. Otherwise they will not receive subsistence until they qualify under Law 16.

We could mention the names of about a dozen vets who, during the November semester, learned all this the hard way — to their chagrin, dudgeon, and financial loss but we won't print even their initials. Water under the bridge journalistic ethics or something.

Every column needs romance. Well, a mild epidemic of matrimony has broken out among the veteran element. And in spite of the housing shortage. Tsk, Tsk.

Details on brides and grooms and stuff next week.

Also among things to come: Questions with Answers.

If there's something you'd like to know, jot down the question, and let us have it. You'll get either an answer or a confession.

You're looking ahead to the future, and your choice of studies is determined by your ambitions.

We look ahead, too. It takes several years to design, build and install an electric generator. It takes forethought to plan an electric distribution system adequate to serve industry and homes as the community grows and spreads.

Because we did that in the past, all war demands were met. Because we still do that, electric service will continue to be economical and reliable.
