NEW BUILDING SKETCHED

First New Building Scheduled for O.L.C.; Work to Begin Soon on $150,000 Three-Story Brick Unit

Will Contain Eight Classrooms, Chapel, Foyer, Auditorium, Cafeteria, Sisters’ Quarters and Offices; To Face Edgecliff Road

Ground will be broken soon for the first new building on Our Lady of Cincinnati College campus. It is to be a three-story red brick and limestone structure costing about $150,000 and will contain a chapel, auditorium, cafeteria, science laboratories, administrative offices and sisters’ quarters.

Locate of the building will be in the rear of the library and its main entrance will be at the unique water towers in Eden Park. In front of it will be a broad campus of extension from the Residency Building to Frankline Lane.

Officials hope to have the building dedicated during Commencement ceremonies in June. Fr. Fink will probably be held in it beginning with the 1959-60 academic year.

When the new structure is completed, the college will have five buildings. Administrative offices, chapel, classrooms and libraries will be in the existing Administration Building.

The old building will be used for some classes including Home Economics.

From each side of the new building, wings will extend a wing. In one will be located sisters’ quarters and in the other the cafeteria and auditorium.

The chapel will seat 250 and the auditorium 150. The entire structure will be heated.

All Modern Equipment

Science laboratories and classrooms will be located on the top floor. The science mass machines will be modernized.

Modern equipment will be installed throughout. It is also planned to have faculty offices on the first floor. The foyer is to contain a statue of Our Lady of Cincinnati, a presentation of a prominent sculptor.

Indicative of the rapid growth of the college since its opening in the autumn of 1933 by the Religious Sisters of Mercy, the new structure will be surrounded by shrubbery and lawns leading to alumni courts. Other buildings on the campus are not the present administration building, the residence hall and the chapel.

Art Revival Aim of Sisters’ Convention

At the Organization Meeting of the Catholic College Art Association, held at Saint Mary-of-the-Woods, Indiana, October 14-15, Our Lady of Cincinnati College was represented by Sister M. Jerome, R.R.M. and Sister M. Michael, R.S.M.

The aims and purposes of this meeting were to establish ways and means whereby "Catholic Action" may formulate a Christian Art to replace the pagan philosophy so prevalent in present-day exhibitions.

The Association’s chief function is the promotion of self-expression with a fearless Christian viewpoint in mind.

Handsome plans for the proposed new building at Our Lady of Cincinnati College are discernible in the above architectural sketch. A colorful dedication service is scheduled for October 16-17. The dedication will be preceded by an entertainment in the auditorium of the new building.

Artists Officers Chosen

At the recent election held by the Dramatic Club, the following were chosen: Ruth Ramee, president; Rosemarie Valentinier, secretary; Betty Shipley, librarian. As its first production of the year, the club will present "Elizabeth of Hungary," a play based on the life of St. Elizabeth, in the near future.

Several members participated in the Book Week program. Those who had readings were: Rosemarie Mayer, Mary Adelaide Rivers and Bernard Simminger.

A choral group gave the selection "An Ode to St. Cecilia’s Day" at the program concluding last week. The recital concluded the feast of St. Cecilia, patroness of music.

Students Volunteer For Religious Teaching Unit

Instruction classes for Catholic students attending Public Schools and being conducted by the students of O.L.C. Classes are held at the Association School, Mrs. J. E. Garden and Mrs. Blanche Simminger are in charge.

Among the volunteers from O.L.C. are: Miss E. Boos, L. Dauphine, R. Craig, E. Emschwer, T. Tupper, R. Mayer, B. Hoffman, M. A. Riemann, and C. McKeen.

Bridge Tea Held for Benefit of Missions

Mission activities began with a bridge tea, sponsored by the Sr. Seniors. The proceeds from the bridge tea will be given to the Mission fund for the benefit of the needy and foreign lands. Miss Bernice Soens, chairman of the committee, announced that there has been a big response in having a bigger and better mission tea.

In charge of arrangements was Miss Rosemary Meyers, chairman. For assistance were Seniors' Contributors: M. Brin, B. Grass, Dorothy Cailin and Dorothy Saniter.
E N C O U R A G I N G signs of the times are evident in the efforts of Catholic educational institutions to modernize their curricula. The University of Notre Dame has just announced a new undergraduate degree in business administration. This is a significant step forward for a university that has long been known for its commitment to the liberal arts. By offering this degree, Notre Dame is acknowledging the importance of business skills in today's world.

CHARGE ACCOUNTS AND TIME-PAYMENT PLANS will be much more widely used in the future, according to a recent survey conducted by the American Bankers Association. This trend is being driven by the increasing popularity of credit cards and the convenience of online banking. The survey also found that consumers are becoming more sophisticated in managing their finances, which is leading to a greater demand for credit.

MASS PROTESTS are becoming more common as people express their opposition to various issues. In the past, protests were often characterized by noise and chaos, but in recent years, they have become more organized and focused. This is evident in the recent protests against the new immigration policy, which have been peaceful and well-attended.

S E N T E N C E: "I do not believe that the time is right for any new legislation to address the current immigration crisis. We need a comprehensive solution that addresses the root causes of immigration, including economic inequality and political instability."
SIXTH NOVEMBER.

No sandwiches aided Xavier University in staging a formal tea dance in the Administration building with Professorship of the Botany department.

The students gathered in the tea dance of the Junior class, Betty Hoffman, Lisette Weldy, and others.

The festivities were concluded with a march through the hall and a return to the tea tables for refreshments.

Members of the Junior class who participated in the festivities were:

Miss Alice Rose, Miss Margaret Hehman, Miss Rosemary Freyer, and Miss Mary Ethel Mitchell.

Graduating Students.

The yearbook, "The Edgecliff", was published.

The yearbook included a section on the historical development of Xavier University, a section on the present student body, and a section on the future plans of the university.

The yearbook was distributed to all members of the graduating class and to the faculty.

The book was well received, and the students were proud to have a permanent record of their four years at Xavier University.

The yearbook was a valuable resource for the students, and it continues to be a collectible item for alumni and former students of Xavier University.
"Isms" Scored In
Queen's Work Chart
By ROSEMARIE VALENTINE

Of all the "isms" existing in the world today Christianism is the only social system which can cure existing evils according to the Rev. Gerald Ellard, S.J., Ph.D., of Chicago.

"Christianism is the only system which regards man as the free, individual, property owner and human being, one of many who make up a collectivized race, fascists consider him a rational being existing only for the welfare of the state. These last systems take away man's rights as a human being, render him a slave of the government, deprive him of the freedom which is rightfully his."

In a chart drawn up in parallel columns to show the effects of each system Father Ellard pointed out that the family is regarded by Christianity as the natural, essential basis of society.

"Society is the harmonious functioning of free groups whose rights and duties counterbalance one another," he continued. "The government is carried on through the free consent of the governed.

"Under the rugged individualism of yesterday the family, society as a whole, justice, education, property are evolved. This government were subjected to the state. Man had no right to assert his view in regard to any of these matters even though the main claim was on communism.

"Communism holds the family to be the conventional basis for human reproduction, advocates class-war and the iron hand of supreme dictatorship in all things, aims to cultivate Marxian materialism which even goes so far as to deny the very existence of God.

"The fascist government demands blind obedience to a leader, dictation upon controlling the public lands, forms state policies according to the arbitrary will of the dictator in power, and commonly exercises dictatorial tyranny."
