Course Description

The course surveys Japan’s modern transformation since the Meiji Restoration of 1868 to the present. The course examines how political, social, and economic modernizations were simultaneous projects while considering the impact on the lives of citizens at home and imperial subjects abroad. The course consists of lecturing, reporting, screening and discussion sessions on issues of modern Japanese history.

Course Goals

1. Through reading and discussing, students are expected to appreciate a non-Western culture.
2. To help students build a overall good understanding of Japan’s historical development in the modern period.
3. Through learning Japan’s unique historical experience in the modern period, students are encouraged to compare or contrast Japan with other nations in the world.

Course Requirements

Attendance is mandatory. Students are expected to do the readings and attend the in-class discussion. There will be 2 in-class quizzes (on Wk 4 and 12 respectively) The Midterm and Final Exams cover the lectures and the assigned readings. The format of the exams will be: identification and essay questions. Students should make an individual presentation by the end of the semester (dates to be announced). The presentation should be 15-20 minutes in length. Other students should comment and critique the report, and based on the critiques and comments, students revise the report and turn them in as the final paper. The paper should be 8-10 pages long.
Be sure to consult the topic of the report with the instructor no later than the Eleventh week. Final Paper is due on the final exam day.
