1947-02-26

Edgecliff Student Newspaper

Edgecliff College - Cincinnati

Follow this and additional works at: http://www.exhibit.xavier.edu/edgecliff_newspaper

Recommended Citation

http://www.exhibit.xavier.edu/edgecliff_newspaper/54

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals, Publications, Conferences, and Proceedings at Exhibit. It has been accepted for inclusion in Edgecliff College Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Exhibit. For more information, please contact exhibit@xavier.edu.
Edgchine Greet T. Chang,
New Student From China

By Mary Ellen O'Connor

"Oh, I have a Chinese dress," was the first thing Theresa Chang, our new fellow-student told three of the girls who met her at the Edgecliff dormitory on Jan. 25. But Miss Chang soon learned that the American's like her attire and like even more the beautiful materials of which her new dresses and robes are made.

Miss Chang left Peiping, China, on Dec. 23 and was very sick for 14 days of her 33-day trip, she said.

She has a master's degree in science from the University of Peiping, but science is not to be taught in service of Our Lady of Cincinnati college is to learn English. But since she speaks and understands English very well already, it would be more correct to say that she hopes to acquire a better command of the language.

Miss Chang doesn't ask many questions about our American

Joseph V. Laderoute To Sing
At Choral Spring Concert Here

The Choral group of Our Lady of Cincinnati college will have the distinguished Canadian-American tenor Joseph V. Laderoute, as guest soloist for its annual spring concert Sunday, April 26.

Mr. Laderoute, 1945 award winner of the Metropolitan Ope- rasure auditions of the air, has been soloist also with the NBC Symphony orchestra under the direction of Arturo Toscanini, the New York City Center symphony, directed by Leopold Stokowski, and the Toronto Symphony orchestra under the baton of Eugene Ormandy. Mr. Laderoute has sung for a number of years with the New York City Opera Company, and has made numerous radio and television appearances on CNS, NBC, and ABC mutual networks.

Mr. Laderoute's accompanist for the concert will be Mr. John Quincy Bland, pianist with the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra.

B. Greet Players
To Give 'Macbeth'

The Ben Greet Players, Henry Joyner and Daisy Vivian, will give scenes from "Macbeth" and a college assembly, Wednesday, April 21. By a new and authoritative method of production, Mr. Joyner and Miss Vivian will present the Shakespearean frame without the aid of a supporting cast. As a narrative, all of it, is told over a loud speaker, will carry the continuity of the story, while the scenes which constitute the essence of the play will be acted by the two players.

Henry Joyner and Daisy Vivian are the last remaining of the famous English group to carry on in the Ben Greet tradition.

Post Reporter
Is Staff Guest

A member of the staff of the Cincinnati Post, Betty Donovan, was guest speaker at a supper meeting given by the Edgecliff staff Feb. 11. Miss Donovan discussed "The Place of Women in Newspaper Work."
The Real Reason

From the files of literary and political activities, Clare Booth Luce, whose highly significant article "The Real Reason" in the current issue of McCull Magazine, has climbed into the secure arms of the Catholic Faith. Her interest in the Faith has been focused by her examination of a number of texts. In the midst of this reading came the unusual experience of her being asked by her husband, the gallant knight, the grail of Love men seek.

Lent

Lent was true Catholic should look upon the season of Lent as a time of spiritual recuperation. Under the re-vitalizing influence of suitable exercises, the spirit quickly heals from the scars of a sin-infested world. The ascetic days of Lent are considered a great emphasis is placed upon the practice of penance, a virtue so necessary for salvation. The master of the penitential ash, by the Divine Master, should be done in the spirit of inward joy and enthusiasm, for this is man's way of sharing in the tremendous work of the Passion. The human debt contracted by the sinner is liquidated, he is cleansed, he is transformed, he is set free from the condemnation of Sin.

Christian Leaders Locking

"Can Christ Cardin, founder of the Young Christian Workers' movement in Belgium, recently said: "People do not become Communists be- cause they are against the Church and religion, but because they see them as salvation. For them, the answer is not found in the Christian workers, Christian youths the leaders they need.""}

On the Aisle

With the best of the current theatrical fare, the Reading Lamp would reverse our usual policy and turn to movies and radio- television to viewing to preview.

We could not miss mentioning the merits of "O'Kla-ho-ma," "Apple of His Eye," or "Pygmalion" which could say nothing which you have not heard before, so let's look elsewhere.

On the screen. In three recent pictures that seem to have saved the best until last. Beginning with "Pygmalion," excepting the inevitable Blackstone, there has been, and promises to be, a succession of fine films presented by your New York cast. The "Magnificent Yanks" which opens at the Cox tomorrow night, Feb. 27, through March 1, is a sequel of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. A Theatre Guild attraction, the play stars Louis Calhern as Oliver Wendell Holmes. Maurice Evans appears as Bertrand Russell, and through it in "Hamlet," "The Fabulous." The Hollywood, production of "Song of Scheherazade" does not equal either of these productions, but at least proves worth while.

"Henry V" is an attraction of the Theatre Guild and will appear for two weeks at Taft aud.

The换届beginning Feb. 28. There are few movies being shown in the United States, and Cub- bing, and radio- television are showing. New York critics praised it highly when it was shown in the States in the United States. Lawrence Olivier has the title role and Renee Asherson appears as Queen Katherine, daughter of the King of France.

The movie is said to adhere remarkably well to Shakespeare's original play, thus giving the American public what it has attempted. Even the death of Falstaff, which is nothing more than a brief gag in the play, is shown in I Henry I, parts one and two, where Falstaff is a central character, is given the same importance Shakes- speare gave it, and is considered an essential part of the play, along with the battle of Agincourt and the love scene between Harry and Katherine herself.

The fine musical background is no doubt provided to lend the atmos- phere of medieval England and France to the movie.

Vindicated

"The Story of the little life of the world's greatest violinist, Nicolo Paganini, by Elwood Corbett, with Yehudi Menu- hin actually playing the music of Beethoven and Paganini. This motion picture confirms the popular attraction to classical music which movies like "The Seventh Veil" and "The Fabulous." The Hollywood does not equal either of these productions, but at least proves worth while in America since the end of the war.

"Song of Scheherazade," a Hol- lywood production of "Song of Scheherazade," does not equal either of these productions, but at least proves worth while in America since the end of the war.

"Henry V" is an attraction of the Theatre Guild and will appear for two weeks at Taft aud.

Election

By Mary Overbeck

Mr. Dan Cupid is stealing the headlines of this edition. He figures prominently in every news item in this column. It has to repeat this story, but does not see the subject's particular re- lation to other news.

Thus the true value of education lies more in intangible things than in actual dollars and cents. The student who is learning intellectually will seem dull and tedious, almost hopeless. Yet, be it science, or art, or literature, or the Greek grammar, each student has its own special niche in the great panorama of things. Each student must be studied, therefore, on its own merits, but more especially to further the greater understanding of the doctrine of the Church which it reflects.—Ruth Adele Gratsch

Sonnet To Another Man's Love

Why must your love cast to annamry? When my tongue grows mute and dumb and dweet— You're a joy that cannot be— You'd beet your Love's words and know well they contain.

Cupid I, you, and my heart so bold, I'd sing my song of Love before your throne— Only you can make me glad— Forever worshipping you for my own.

Sonnet To Another Man's Love

Why must your love cast to annamry? When my tongue grows mute and dumb and dweet— You're a joy that cannot be— You'd beet your Love's words and know well they contain.

Cupid I, you, and my heart so bold, I'd sing my song of Love before your throne— Only you can make me glad— Forever worshipping you for my own.

Election

By Mary Overbeck

Mr. Dan Cupid is stealing the headlines of this edition. He figures prominently in every news item in this column. It has to repeat this story, but does not see the subject's particular relation to other news.

Thus the true value of education lies more in intangible things than in actual dollars and cents. The student who is learning intellectually will seem dull and tedious, almost hopeless. Yet, be it science, or art, or literature, or the Greek grammar, each student has its own special niche in the great panorama of things. Each student must be studied, therefore, on its own merits, but more especially to further the greater understanding of the doctrine of the Church which it reflects.—Ruth Adele Gratsch

Christian Leaders Locking

"Can Christ Cardin, founder of the Young Christian Workers' movement in Belgium, recently said: "People do not become Communists be- cause they are against the Church and religion, but because they see them as salvation. For them, the answer is not found in the Christian workers, Christian youths the leaders they need.""
Boston-Irish Retreat Master Prefers Retreats To Other Work

From the Tides

(Continued from Page 1) students really appreciate what it is, how to play it, and how to get the kind of music one wants out of it. For instance, how many times a day do they think of the beauty of the music? Is it something larger than just the music? Is it something different? Even the definition of music is in question when we see what is being done upon you that you have been wishing for is a hobby.

Pick a Hobby

There are hobbies and hobbies. Make your own list. But why not try to create a cultural hobby, especially one that is potentially more soul-satisfying than what you wish to name it is music. Not jive, swing, bon-nie, any of the fancy names we are given to the accompaniment of this life. It's the only thing that you are familiar with when you want to be with a soul in your own way, you will do, indeed, be with the soul of the world.

Local Journalist Meet At Edgingill

Plans were made at this meeting to form a group. Mr. Robert O. Ford began the general meeting, and he was chosen chairman of a committee chosen to outline the purpose of organization and program of activity for the new group.

By Jane Edgar

The chemistry of the war that revolutionized the political world has a revolutionized the world of fashion as well. Out of war materials, their textures, weight, textures, and price, have been drastically changed and greatly improved. A few of the many things that have been produced are:

Fabrics of spotless, shrink-less, fade-less, crush-able materials are no longer a hope but a realization. Clothing will beiger, paler, lighter in color and soft, same nylon will go into the making up of your wardrobe.

Fashion has entered a new phase of its development. We see that the stylish Creation has been replaced by "naturalness." Who is the better designer that Mother Nature? Be yourself and make the most of it. Clothes of the future will be made of "natural" materials. Skirts will have long skirts with long, flowing, natural" naturalness of the natural line. The girls will be told that they are to follow the fashions of their fathers, and drapes have not been made yet.

Rills Jean Gellagher will find it hard to make a choice of spring clothing for the new season, because she is in a very difficult position. She comes in contact weekly with the fashion creations that will fill store windows at her favorite department store. The suit of the season, Rills predicts, will be the casual suit that will be made of "natural" materials. The suit will have a "natural" color and blue and brown and black, and the jacket will be "monogrammed to match the skirt. For a more sophisticated look, the maker will make a dress suit cut with a cut-away front, reminiscent of the romantic eighteenth-con an open-knit front coat, will be quite popular. The suit is to be made of "natural" fabrics. The new tube silhouette design in the ice-cream colors and the true spring shades of navy and red. While I'm on the subject of this, a girl is not only to be worn, it is to talk about, too. Especially the new tube silhouette design in the ice-cream colors and the true spring shades of navy and red. While I'm on the subject of this, a girl is not only to be worn, it is to talk about, too. Especially the new tube silhouette design in the ice-cream colors and the true spring shades of navy and red.

On the Ashes (Continued from Page 2) contains some of the finest music that the world has produced. It is a combination of the Bachian and the Schubertian, and especially to a certain Cincinnati, although Mr. Ford is a native of Edgingill, because it gives to Charles Kilman, a favorite with Cincinnati conductors and a Metropolitan tenor, his first major movie role.

There was a touch of priestly reservedness, a sense of solemnity, that British now find herself, the atmosphere of the modern civilization, yet considerably reduced in postwar international prestige and importance. It is not possible to compare her to the United States and the Soviet Union.

The author terms this situation "the British dilemma." In the balance of the book deal with the British stand on world organization, the relationship between Britain and Russia, the United States in relation to her, and her relationship to the British Commonwealth, United Kingdom, and finally, atomic weapons and the British-American partnership.

There is little, if any, trace of prejudice in our correspondent's book. In fact, the author has been commended for his unbiased and concise interpretation of the situation. Yet considerably reduced in postwar international prestige and importance, it is not possible to compare her to the United States and the Soviet Union.

The author terms this situation "the British dilemma." In the balance of the book deal with the British stand on world organization, the relationship between Britain and Russia, the United States in relation to her, and her relationship to the British Commonwealth, United Kingdom, and finally, atomic weapons and the British-American partnership.

There is little, if any, trace of prejudice in our correspondent's book. In fact, the author has been commended for his unbiased and concise interpretation of the situation. Yet considerably reduced in postwar international prestige and importance, it is not possible to compare her to the United States and the Soviet Union.

The author terms this situation "the British dilemma." In the balance of the book deal with the British stand on world organization, the relationship between Britain and Russia, the United States in relation to her, and her relationship to the British Commonwealth, United Kingdom, and finally, atomic weapons and the British-American partnership.

There is little, if any, trace of prejudice in our correspondent's book. In fact, the author has been commended for his unbiased and concise interpretation of the situation. Yet considerably reduced in postwar international prestige and importance, it is not possible to compare her to the United States and the Soviet Union.

The author terms this situation "the British dilemma." In the balance of the book deal with the British stand on world organization, the relationship between Britain and Russia, the United States in relation to her, and her relationship to the British Commonwealth, United Kingdom, and finally, atomic weapons and the British-American partnership.

There is little, if any, trace of prejudice in our correspondent's book. In fact, the author has been commended for his unbiased and concise interpretation of the situation. Yet considerably reduced in postwar international prestige and importance, it is not possible to compare her to the United States and the Soviet Union.

The author terms this situation "the British dilemma." In the balance of the book deal with the British stand on world organization, the relationship between Britain and Russia, the United States in relation to her, and her relationship to the British Commonwealth, United Kingdom, and finally, atomic weapons and the British-American partnership.

There is little, if any, trace of prejudice in our correspondent's book. In fact, the author has been commended for his unbiased and concise interpretation of the situation. Yet considerably reduced in postwar international prestige and importance, it is not possible to compare her to the United States and the Soviet Union.

The author terms this situation "the British dilemma." In the balance of the book deal with the British stand on world organization, the relationship between Britain and Russia, the United States in relation to her, and her relationship to the British Commonwealth, United Kingdom, and finally, atomic weapons and the British-American partnership.
Supper Honors Members Of Cast

A buffet supper was given in Emery hall, Feb 28 for the members of the cast, stage crew, and make-up committee for the Edgecliff production, "Arsenic and Old Lace.">

The cast presented a set of recordings from "Lost Horizon" to the Rev. Alfred Stritch, a group of records a week from "Macbeth" to Sister Mary Hilgarters, and a carton of cigarets to Dr. Daniel Steible in appreciation of their time and effort spent in staging three performances of the play.

Home Economist To Speak Here

A home economist from the P r i n t z Biederman company, Cleveland, 0., will be the guest of Our Lady of Cincinnati college Monday, March 31. She will address the college in Clothing.

Miss Mock attended the Madison Wolfe School of Costume design in Lincoln and graduated from Ohio State university in Consumers Service in Clothing.

Fresher Pianist Is Guest Soloist

A fresher of Our Lady of Cincinnati college, Mary Feldmann, was guest pianist at a recent meeting of the Young Friends of Summer Opera. Miss Feldmann played Liszt's "Sixth Hungarian Rhapsody and "Falling Waters" in the Water" by DeBussy. She is the pupil of Miss Frances Lethus, a faculty member of the music department of the college.

A. Ludden Speaks At Edgecliff

The personal representative of Maurice Evans, Mr. Allen Ludden, addressed the college assembly on Feb. 15. Mr. Ludden discussed the Maurice Evans' production of "Hamlit," to be given at the Chicago Auditorium on March 19.

Sports Of Varied Sorts From Campus To Campus In Cincy

Supper Meeting in Emery Hall

The German club held a supper meeting in Emery hall on Feb. 11, which was followed by the announcement of the new officers for the coming activities.

The Dramatic club will hold a business meeting on Feb. 21. The German club will have a tea party on Feb. 21. The club plans to present a guest or­ganizer following the tea.

In keeping with their W.S.C. annual spring series of activities, the girls of the German club will hold a tea on Feb. 21, where they may make acquaintance with some of the more modern and distant lands.

DRESSING UP

(Continued From Page 3)

no longer have to worry about getting dressed. You can now dress up on short notice. The dormitory girls are always ready to dress up in something attractive.

When a watch repairman opens a watch, he does it with great care and attention. He ensures that the watch is in good working order.

Women's Purses Hand On Watches

According to the nation's watch repairmen, the curse of an all-seeing eye is a woman's purse. They find that women tend to overpay for watches, as the actual price of the watch is often very much lower.

First Aid Kit Is Easy To Make

A homemade first aid kit containing the essential medications and drugs may serve just as well as the more costly prepared kits. A tightly sealed, preferably of metal and similar to the Madec foot, the most talked-of team in the field.

A. Ludden, who is the head of the Music department, will speak at Edgecliff on Feb. 15. He will discuss the Maurice Evans' production of "Hamlet," to be given at the Chicago Auditorium on March 19.

In Memoriam

The members of the faculty and student body of Our Lady of Cincinnati college expressed their deepest sympathy to Patricia Cox on the death of her step-father, Mr. Burch Vance.

CLUB HIGHLIGHTS

By Mary Ellen O'Connor

The Home Ec club sponsored a dance at Mild's restaurant, Feb. 15. The supper meeting, which was held at Mild's restaurant, was attended by Mary Schmitt, the president, and Mary Boller, the treasurer.

Club representatives will attend the Providence Workshop at Butler university, Indianapolis, Ind.

The International relations club held a special meeting in Emery hall on Feb. 13. The club's general meeting was Miss Wilmidt, president, director of foods in Mills and Cowdrew.

The Sweetheart club held a special meeting in Emery hall on Feb. 13. The club's general meeting was Miss Wilmidt, president, director of foods in Mills and Cowdrew.

The Sweetheart club held a special meeting in Emery hall on Feb. 13. The club's general meeting was Miss Wilmidt, president, director of foods in Mills and Cowdrew.

The University of Cincinnati Women's Athletic association is planning its annual play day for Saturday, March 20. College girls from Ohio, Kentucky, and Indiana have been invited to participate in the day's events. The activities for the day's program are competitive basketball, volleyball, badminton, and swimming.

The reason why women have at least twice as much trouble with their watches as men, according to a survey by the Jewelry Industry council, is that men tend to leave their watches at home more often than women. Of course, it isn't the purse itself, its what's inside that is important.

When a watch repairman opens a watch, he does it with great care and attention. He ensures that the watch is in good working order.

Women's Purses Hand On Watches

According to the nation's watch repairmen, the curse of an all-seeing eye is a woman's purse. They find that women tend to overpay for watches, as the actual price of the watch is often very much lower.

First Aid Kit Is Easy To Make

A homemade first aid kit containing the essential medications and drugs may serve just as well as the more costly prepared kits. A tightly sealed, preferably of metal and similar to the Madec foot, the most talked-of team in the field.

A. Ludden, who is the head of the Music department, will speak at Edgecliff on Feb. 15. He will discuss the Maurice Evans' production of "Hamlet," to be given at the Chicago Auditorium on March 19.

In Memoriam

The members of the faculty and student body of Our Lady of Cincinnati college expressed their deepest sympathy to Patricia Cox on the death of her step-father, Mr. Burch Vance.

CLUB HIGHLIGHTS

By Mary Ellen O'Connor

The Home Ec club sponsored a dance at Mild's restaurant, Feb. 15. The supper meeting, which was held at Mild's restaurant, was attended by Mary Schmitt, the president, and Mary Boller, the treasurer.

Club representatives will attend the Providence Workshop at Butler university, Indianapolis, Ind.

The International relations club held a special meeting in Emery hall on Feb. 13. The club's general meeting was Miss Wilmidt, president, director of foods in Mills and Cowdrew.

The Sweetheart club held a special meeting in Emery hall on Feb. 13. The club's general meeting was Miss Wilmidt, president, director of foods in Mills and Cowdrew.

The University of Cincinnati Women's Athletic association is planning its annual play day for Saturday, March 20. College girls from Ohio, Kentucky, and Indiana have been invited to participate in the day's events. The activities for the day's program are competitive basketball, volleyball, badminton, and swimming.

The reason why women have at least twice as much trouble with their watches as men, according to a survey by the Jewelry Industry council, is that men tend to leave their watches at home more often than women. Of course, it isn't the purse itself, its what's inside that is important.

When a watch repairman opens a watch, he does it with great care and attention. He ensures that the watch is in good working order.

Women's Purses Hand On Watches

According to the nation's watch repairmen, the curse of an all-seeing eye is a woman's purse. They find that women tend to overpay for watches, as the actual price of the watch is often very much lower.

First Aid Kit Is Easy To Make

A homemade first aid kit containing the essential medications and drugs may serve just as well as the more costly prepared kits. A tightly sealed, preferably of metal and similar to the Madec foot, the most talked-of team in the field.

A. Ludden, who is the head of the Music department, will speak at Edgecliff on Feb. 15. He will discuss the Maurice Evans' production of "Hamlet," to be given at the Chicago Auditorium on March 19.

In Memoriam

The members of the faculty and student body of Our Lady of Cincinnati college expressed their deepest sympathy to Patricia Cox on the death of her step-father, Mr. Burch Vance.