1949-11-19

Edgecliff Student Newspaper

Edgecliff College - Cincinnati

Follow this and additional works at: http://www.exhibit.xavier.edu/edgecliff_newspaper

Recommended Citation

http://www.exhibit.xavier.edu/edgecliff_newspaper/70

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals, Publications, Conferences, and Proceedings at Exhibit. It has been accepted for inclusion in Edgecliff College Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Exhibit. For more information, please contact exhibit@xavier.edu.
Home Economics Students Hold Regional Convention Here; Six Ohio Colleges Participate In Discussions

Angela Castelluccio Welcomes Delegates

Opportunities for home economists were discussed at a series of meetings held here today by the Southern Ohio Region of the Home Economics Students Clubs. Active student participation was the plan for the day, the theme was "Careers for Home Economists in the World Today and Tomorrow."

Six Colleges Represented

Lorraine Gartner, University of Cincinnati, was the leader for the topic, "The Mrs. with the B. S. " "Textile Merchandising" was the subject of Peggy Fugate of Miami University. Jean Byerly, Mary Ann Voss, and Doris Konkler, of Miami, and Mary Rita Sahfeld, students of Mount St. Joseph, discussed "Social Welfare and Public Health."

Delegates Welcomed

Angela Castelluccio, president of the Home Economics club at Edgcliff, gave a welcoming address to the assembly and was the presiding chairman of the day. Working on the various preparation committees were Mary Schluerter, Rita Mueller, Jean Ann Voss, Our Lady of Cincinnati delegates, and Dorothy Coon.

Degrees Vital, Senior Says

"The value of a degree in Home Economics cannot be stressed too highly, for households will not accept household hints passed out freely by amateurs." Jo Ann Voss, senior, closed her talk on "Opportunities for Home Economists in Journalism" at the Home Economics convention.

The speaker emphasized, however, that one "should not expect to start out as an editor, sitting behind a desk, formulating policies and passing on stories." She pointed out that people armed with a Home Economics degree can find a variety of opportunities with a variety of employers.

Program

Southern Ohio Region
Home Economics Students Clubs

9:30—Registration

10:15—Welcome
Angela Castelluccio, President, Home Economics Club
Our Lady of Cincinnati College, presiding

DISCUSSIONS

Theme: "Careers for Home Economists in the World Today and Tomorrow."

10:30—"The Mrs. with the B. S."
University of Cincinnati Leader: Lorraine Gartner
Gladys, Rockey
Mary Aglaenius
Carol Brown

10:45—"Textile Merchandising"
Miami University
Peggy Fugate

11:00—"Social Welfare and Public Health."
College of Mt. St. Joseph
Jean Byerly
Kathleen Kiwell
Mary Ann Grishop
Mary Rita Sahfeld

11:15—"Home Economics in Business"
Wittenberg College
Doris Pfeiffer
Doris Konkler

11:30—"Commercial Food Service and Institutional Management"
University of Dayton
Jaye Nyhan

11:45—"Journalism—Radio and Television"
Our Lady of Cincinnati College
Doris Konkler
Jo Ann Voss

12:00—Business Meeting
Jo Ann Voss, President

1:00—Lunch
Afternoon Session—Auditorium, Administration Bldg.
Doris Pfeiffer, presiding
Speaker: "Art of the Modern Art: A Talk on Modern Art"

Ernest Bruce Haswell, Professor, College of Applied Arts, University of Cincinnati

The Edgecliff

Home Ec Club Is Best Fed

By Margaret Ryan

"The Home Economics club is the only club at Edgcliff which has direct national affiliations," recently stated Angela Castelluccio, president, and president of the club in an exclusive interview in the Senior Lounge. "The club is a member of the National Home Economics Association."

"Angel," as she is better known to her friends, revealed that the club on campus meets once a month and usually features guest speakers from the different fields of home economics, such as dietitians, interior decorators, etc., at their meetings. The club has a Christmas party each year and terminates the school year with a picnic. "Naturally, we always have the best-cooked food, too," commented Angela.

Course Has Many Feats

"Careers in Home Economics" is the theme for the group this year, and opportunities in the field are many and varied—teaching, dietetics, interior decoration, and household management, to mention a few. "Large companies like General Mills are always looking for home economists," said Angela. "The government also can use home economists in the textile industry to test the strength of textiles and materials."

Angela became interested in home economics when she wanted to learn how to sew and signed up for the course in "Clothing Construction," taught by Mrs. Esther Bottomley. "Mrs. Bottomley told us of the great need for home economics majors and since I liked this field better than French, I decided home economics would be my major." Angela now feels that her choice was a wise one because her old saying, "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach," has come true for her.

She is engaged to Peer Vitale and will make practical use of her knowledge of home economics soon after graduation.

"Not A Snap Course"

She decried the fact that so many people think that home economics is a "snap" major and that "we just learn to cook and (Continued from Page 4)

[Image of Angela Castelluccio welcoming delegates to the Home Economics convention.]

Making final plans for the Home Economics convention today are, left to right, Mrs. Esther Bottomley, clothing construction instructor; Jo Ann Voss, Home Economics club vice-president, and Angela Castelluccio, club president.
Curtain Calls

The failure to admit Spain into the United Nations has been one of the most long-enduring concerns of the Spanish people. Their story, as told by James Farley, former Postmaster General and an outstanding Catholic layman, and many others have realized this injustice and have tried to make the world conscious of it.

The Spanish people respect human rights mainly because of their rich and deep Catholic heritage which emphasizes at all times the rights of the individual and of the family. Much of the misunderstanding of Spain can be traced to a failure to appreciate this heritage.

A true understanding of the Spanish people and of the Spanish government is certainly in order if there is to be any kind of justice in the world. It is important to realize that because of prejudice this nation with its heritage of Catholicism and culture is excluded from the councils of other nations.

Mar - Gauche

The "Edgcliff" staff and student body extend heartfelt congratulations to Monsignor William Gauche, head of the college history department, on his appointment as rector of St. Gregory's seminary. This is the second promotion for Monsignor Gauche with whom I have had the privilege of working.

Our Puritan forefathers had quite a different feeling about Thanksgiving. They were devout Christians and felt they should thank God in some way for His kindnesses to them. Although they were relatively poor and had to teach the land, facing dangers from savage Indians, disease, and poor climate, they sat aside a whole day to give thanks to God.

What is our own attitude towards Thanksgiving? How many times do we ever stop to think of God? How many times have we thanked Him? What is our own attitude towards Thanksgiving? How many times do we ever stop to think of God? How many times have we thanked Him? What is our own attitude towards Thanksgiving? How many times do we ever stop to think of God? How many times have we thanked Him?

Don't forget your spiritual manners on Thanksgiving day. By being truly thankful and thankful, a most unusual theme.

Describes Outlaws

The author has brought to life a different type of drama. He describes outlaws, whose hair-raisings, by their family. His book is the mighty Ohio, a broad and sweeping river, with a dramatic history, a dramatic present, and an incredible future. I think the years, from its first description three centuries ago to the Ohio of today. What is the story of the yellow and turbulent Ohio in full flood in the spring, blue and serene under a cloudless August sky, hidden by fog, flaked by snow, of the Ohio River, a river of changing character.

The Ohio by R. E. Banta

This is the latest edition to the Rivers of America series. Banta presents in his book the mighty Ohio, a broad and sweeping river, with a dramatic history, a dramatic present, and an incredible future. I think the years, from its first description three centuries ago to the Ohio of today.

The author has brought to life a different type of drama. He describes outlaws, whose hair-raisings, by their family. His book is the mighty Ohio, a broad and sweeping river, with a dramatic history, a dramatic present, and an incredible future. I think the years, from its first description three centuries ago to the Ohio of today.

Cutting Pages

THE EDGECLIFF is the official publication of Our Lady of the Visitation School, sponsored by the Sisters of the Blessed Virgin Mary of Nazareth. It appears twice a month, except for the month of December.

Co-Editors: Margaret Ryan and Julann Kenneth
Business: Aubrea Miller and Patricia Wood; Circulation Manager: Ann Reiman

Columnists: Joan Bamberger, Rosemar Brockman, Margaret Lammers, Elaine Kuechenmeister, and Marjorie Mollhausen

Reporters: Mary Boyle, Judith Mayleben, Rosemary Lammers, Karen Lammers, Mary Manakian, Marilyn Wolfer, and Maureen Zwinak.

Author: Alice Fox

Thanksgiving day has degenerated into a free day from work or school, a time for gorging oneself with the traditional turkey, cranberry sauce, and all the trimmings.

Our Puritan forefathers had quite a different feeling about Thanksgiving. They were devout Christians and felt they should thank God in some way for His kindnesses to them. Although they were relatively poor and had to teach the land, facing dangers from savage Indians, disease, and poor climate, they sat aside a whole day to give thanks to God.

What is our own attitude towards Thanksgiving? How many times do we ever stop to think of God? How many times have we thanked Him? What is our own attitude towards Thanksgiving? How many times do we ever stop to think of God? How many times have we thanked Him? What is our own attitude towards Thanksgiving? How many times do we ever stop to think of God? How many times have we thanked Him?

Don't forget your spiritual manners on Thanksgiving day. By being truly thankful and thankful, a most unusual theme.

The author has brought to life a different type of drama. He describes outlaws, whose hair-raisings, by their family. His book is the mighty Ohio, a broad and sweeping river, with a dramatic history, a dramatic present, and an incredible future. I think the years, from its first description three centuries ago to the Ohio of today.

The author has brought to life a different type of drama. He describes outlaws, whose hair-raisings, by their family. His book is the mighty Ohio, a broad and sweeping river, with a dramatic history, a dramatic present, and an incredible future. I think the years, from its first description three centuries ago to the Ohio of today.

The Soap Box

The Soap Box was a popular feature of the Edgcliff for many years. It provided a platform for students to express their opinions and engage in dialogue on various topics. The Soap Box often featured discussions on current events, personal experiences, and perspectives on different aspects of life on campus. The format typically included a mix of essays, letters, and guest columns. The Soap Box was a forum for students to share their thoughts and ideas, fostering a sense of community and debate among the student body.
Variety Show To Go To XU

Several acts of Edgcliff's popular Variety Show will be featured in Xavier University's Variety Show early in January. From what we have seen in our two performances in the South Hall theater. Admission will be 85 cents per person. The proceeds will be sent to the Variety Show committee for relief, reconstruction, and displaced persons. Variety Show will be one of the principal projects for aiding the Student Relief Drive. Proceeds were made up in the affirmative team, $3.12.

Chairmen for the show are Jim Ryan from Xavier and Patricia Bemiller, senior, at this college. Alice Fox, junior, is in charge of this direction.

Next Debate To Be Nov. 28

In the second of the Xavier-Edgcliff debates, to be held on Nov. 28 at Xavier, the intercollegiate statesmen will discuss the epitome of Basic Industry”, which is to be debated at Xavier's negative team . The affirmative will be represented by Charles Radeska, 49, and James Hallahan, 49, both of Xavier's negative team.

Raparin Artists Getting in Trim

"Quatra, six-quatra, six, watch your wirls—practice your parry," get some speed or you'll be a dud. To the rhythm of these words, the members of Xavier's Raparin Artists are working on their 49th Fr Club evening at the Fenwick Club, they submit a personalized form of tostere under the tutelage of Dave Shiff of the Conservatory. Fencing is a rigorous and interesting sport, which supposedly improves one's posture and grace. It is definitely good exercise. After a lesson, one develops aches in the most peculiar places. Joan has been having lessons for more than a year. Barbara and Maureen are beginners and, needless to say, quite funny to watch.

If you want to be stiff for three days, just come to the Fenwick Club on a Friday evening. Mr. Walsh will take care of you.

CYO Ball Set For Nov. 26

The Senior Social Club of the CYO at Xavier will hold its Second Anniversary Ball on Saturday, Nov. 26, at the North College- Mullenasy and Xavier's swimming pool. The New Year Tour Being Arranged

A student European tour to take place in August and early September this year will be arranged by the Oversea Service Program of the NPCO. The Holy Father will receive the American Catholic students in the Vatican, and one-and-half feet tall and wears a red high socks over a tall mar- mantle. In her arms she carries the Infant and a white rosary head. She is said to have a very detailed in its open-work, is painted in gold and white, and has a blazon background for the statue.

Clare Reidel, '49, Teaching History at OLA High School

"I love teaching more each day," says Claire Reddel, '49, Catholic College graduate, who was asked about her new profession.

Father Martin T. Molloy, college chaplain, is shown in the Chapel blessing the new statue of Our Lady of Cincinnati.

Our Lady Comes Home

The first formal statue blessing ever to be performed at Edg cliff, according to Mr. Molloy, took place on July 1 when Father Martin T. Molloy, college chaplain, blessed a new statue of Our Lady of Cincinnati. The statue is a gift to the college from the Rev. Msgr. Frank Ni cholas, Archbishop of Cincinnati. Father Molloy was given special blessing faculties for this occasion.

Turkeys Lose Head To Losing Heads; Go On Hunger Strike

By Maureen Zwink

At an exclusive meeting conducted by Father Turkey, President of Local Gobblers Union No. 13, it was learned that all turkeys consider Thanksgiving a day of barbaric festivities.

Turkey said, "We turkeys shall strike for our rights. We shall refuse to eat, be fattened, or otherwise act like hens, should we continue to be treated so unkindly. We are fed enough to make us fat, and we are as fat as we will ever be. Hence we shall cease to eat, and shall strike for our rights."

"Furthermore," he continued, "turkeys shall unite into a strong, powerful army—a force whose want will not be denied."

We could not help but be struck by the brave spirit of these noble creatures.

The Holy Year Tour Being Arranged

A student European tour to take place in August and early September this year will be arranged by the Oversea Service Program of the NPCO. The Holy Father will receive the American Catholic students in the Vatican, and one-and-half feet tall and wears a red high socks over a tall mantel. In her arms she carries the Infant and a white rosary.
$500 To Be Prize In Poster Contest

All Edgedcliff students are eligible to enter a National Poster Contest in observance of the third annual Mission Commission of the NFCCS, under the patronage of the Jesuits Fathers of America. The prizes total $1,000, with $500 going to the winner. Other awards will be given for the next five selections. The winning art will become the official poster for the college observance of the Charismatic Movement, which will be held in January, 1990.

"Alice Sit-By-The-Fire 'To Be Players Next Dramatic Offering, Dec. 4, 6, 10"

"Alice Sit-By-The-Fire," a three-act comedy, will be presented on Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings beginning December 4, 6, and 10, by the Edgedcliff Players in the school auditorium. All Edgedcliff students are being encouraged to participate in the play's production, and all students attending the college will have the opportunity of converting all who are not Catholics.

Sodalists To Mark Mary's Feast Day

Sodality Day will be observed at Edgedcliff on Dec. 8, the feast of the Immaculate Conception. The day will begin with Mass and Communion attended by the entire student body. The members of the Freshman class will then be enrolled in the Sodality.

Novice Mistress To Give Address

Guest speaker for the December meeting of the Sodality club will be Sister Mary Rita, R.S.M., assistant novice mistress at the Novitiate of the Poor, on Nov. 13 is seen rehearsing before the program. They are a demonstration on the applica­tion of social work to this particular field. Panel discussions and individual speeches are being organized by club members for presentation before various women's organizations throughout the city. Those taking part in this activity include Marie Brown, Helen Cannon, Celi Dwyer, Anne Heineman, Pat Winter, and Mary Lee Bogen­schutz.

Several seniors have applied for admission to the civil serv­ice examination after hearing an address by Sister Mary Donatella at the monthly meeting. Miss Nuxhall discussed the type of work that college graduates could undertake after passing such an examination. Marie Brown and Pat Winter attended the Twenty-Seventh Annual Catholic Rural Life Con­vention in Columbus on Nov. 8, Father Joseph Urbain, former Edgedcliff instructor from Mill­ville, Ohio, and Mrs. Katherine Burger of Cincinnati, author of "Cooking for Christmas," were the principal speakers.

China Is Topic For IRC Meeting

A discussion on China will be the feature attraction at the Christmas meeting of the Inter­national Relations club. The speakers will be Marilyn Wolfe, whose topic is "The History of the Diplomatic Relations between the United States and China," and Mary Boyle, who will introduce the program with a talk on "The United Nations and China." Plans are also being made to form a Speakers Bureau whose members will give talks on international subjects at various organizations throughout this city.