Students Mark Marian Year

Four Present Symposium Edgcliff students will honor Mary on March 8 by means of a Solemn High Mass and a symposium in connection with the celebration of Marian Year and the feast of the Theotokos. The program is entitled Students of Thomas Aquinas Render Tribute.

Rev. Martin Garrty, O.P., head of the ghilliopony department, will celebrate the Mass, assisted by two other Dominicans. Rev. L. A. Aronlin, O.P., professor of dogmatic theology at St. Mary's college. Notre Dame, Ind., will deliver the sermon.

Four in the symposium: Phyllis Cruice, L. A. Arnoult, Mother of Divine Grace, Mother of Wisdom and Mother of Mercy.

The girls participating in the symposium are: Phyllis Cruice, Alice Mas, Barbara Wengrump and Kay Wetzel.

Registration of the Sodaity, Elaine Charters, will act as chairman.

Scribes Submit Sketches In Short Story Contest

M. N. Thompson has announced the girls that will enter in the Keeneland annual short story contest. The girls will have their manuscripts in the mail by March 15.

Girls who have entered the contest: Kathleen Grae, Marnn Rasen, Mary Patricia Conners, Lyn Niehaus and Dolores McAlady.

First prize in the contest is fifty dollars and second prize is twenty-five dollars.

Future Freshmen Visit Campus For Annual Open House Event

Tuesday, March 2, will find the faculty and student body of Edgcliff playing host to high school seniors from all parts of the city. This annual Open House for seniors aimed at acquainting prospective students with the curriculum and activities here at Our Lady of Cincinnati, thus helping them in selecting the college they wish to attend.

The day's activities will begin at 1:30 p.m. with an address by Mary Dannenwol, Student Council president, and by Judith Thompson, president of the senior class. These talks will be followed by one of the scenes from Noel Coward's Bitter Sweet, the musical play recently presented by students from Edgcliff and Xavier university.

In this scene, Adele Gratsch will sing one of the hit songs of the show. The high school seniors will then be taken on a tour of the campus. This trip will include visits to the science and home economics departments where there will be special exhibits. The art department will have a display of Marian Art. One of the more delightful points on the tour will be a visit to the wall overlooking the big bend in the Ohio River, one of the most beautiful spots on the campus. Tea will be served at the conclusion.

Villa Madonna Academy Senior Wins Mother Hilda Scholarship

Grace Crary, senior at Villa Madonna academy, Covington, Ky., has been announced as the winner of the competitive Mother Hilda Alumnae scholarship examination held at Edgcliff Feb. 20, in which sixty-two students participated.

Grace, a member of the Glee club and "The Seed" staff at Villa Madonna, was president of her class in her junior year. She has also been a member of the Student Council.

An interest in dramatics has led her to active participation in the theater productions, Inc., a civic group of Campbell County, Ky. Grace has also written scripts for various assembly plays presented at Villa.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Crary of Ft. Thomas.

Liturgical Group Plans Local Tours

Plans have been made by the Liturgical Group for trips to C桂林ville, St. Clare convent, Hartwell, and several parish churches as a part of a series of Know Your Own Tours.

A completed tour through the Andrew Memmey company, Patterson street, was taken by the group on Feb. 22.

NFCCS Sponsors March Workshop

The NFCCS will hold a workshop at Nazareth college, Louisville, Ky., on Saturday, March 6, to be presented by Edgcliff. Helpful hints on what to eat and what not to eat to keep a slim figure will be featured, as prepared by Miss Catharina Koch, head of the home economics department and Mrs. Ruther Bostomley, instructor in textiles.

The scene will be a college assembly hall and will be presented by students from Edgcliff and Xavier university. The scene will be a college assembly hall and will be presented by students from Edgcliff and Xavier university.

The opening chorus and other numbers will be provided by radio station WLW-T, Saturday, March 6, to 11 a.m. Tea will be served at the conclusion.

The chorus will be selected by Miss Crary, who has written scripts for the group and is also a member of the art department.

NFCCS Sponsors March Workshop

NFCCS delegates Virginia Connolly, Mary Dannenwol, Dorothy Kram all and Margaret Sebastiani will officially represent Our Lady of Cincinnati at the workshop.

The event will be held at Xavier university on March 6, and will be featured by Ford Foods. Edgcliff students will be chartering a bus to attend the workshop.

The workshop will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

March Workshop will be held at Xavier university on March 6, and will be featured by Ford Foods. Edgcliff students will be chartering a bus to attend the workshop.

The workshop will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

The workshop will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.

A group of Campbell County, Ky., students will participate in the workshop, which will be held in the college auditorium, and will be open to the public.
License Or Guidance?

The United States Supreme Court has recently decided that film censorship properly falls within the jurisdiction of the Constitution, as detrimental to freedom of speech and expression.

This presents a ticklish situation for those of us, especially Catholic Law students, who believe that humane things should be restricted or at least warned is the choice of their movies. We realize that it is for our judgment and not as effects of original sin, and acknowledge the spiritual authority of the Church over our moral lives, just as we acknowledge the temporal authority of the administration of society and our physical lives.

We realize the dangers to our moral and intellectual principles which might result from viewing objectionable movies. Therefore we admit the wisdom of the Legion of Decency ratings for films and to that extent, would be the last to assert that such warnings be restricted. We are still as free as every other American to make our own choice. But we accept the Legion of Decency ratings as a sound guide for better judgment, for we sin in the evil around us, of which we ourselves might not be conscious.

Supporting, encouraging and endorsing the decisions of the members of the Legion of Decency and will not fail to make us free—by making easier for us the choice of the means to our Ultimate End.

Dignity Survives

Only a shell of St. Peter in Chains has survived the building crews now at work on it. Some have asked why it is being repaired at all. Others wonder why an entire new church has not been built.

The problem is similar to that concerning the White House. There is a certain unity of force contained in these aged structures which cannot be duplicated by a new and faithful reproduction of them.

St. Peter's was given to that vast void of the interior of St. Peter's that admits of the dignity that the Church still retains. The columns stand in lone splendor, reminiscent of the four columns which flanked the great entrance to the Roman Forum.

In that open field-like space, a deep reverence overcomes the viewer. A burning vigil light would not seem inappropriate. That, more than anything else, might allay the sense of noncompanionship and still ascending from within its bounds, even as they have done in the past.

Co-operation Or Indifference?

Throughout the world today there echoes the cry for co-operation—co-operation among men, co-operation among nations! People are anxious to see man willing to work with man, instead of working as it is within a small group, where all the members co-operate, that outstanding things are accomplished. That is the reason why this unending drive may spring the initiative for larger spheres of co-operation which may eventually lead to world-wide co-operation among nations and bring peace to the world.

While students are in college they have many opportunities to work in groups, with fellow students as well as with those of other colleges. However, in many instances the students fail to see the importance of the situation placed before them.

Today with the stress that has been placed upon television, each and every student at Edgcliff has an opportunity to develop and use his abilities. The facts of the situation point out the need for more co-operation, more unity, more work in groups, with fellow students as well as with those of other colleges. However, in many instances the students fail to see the importance of the situation placed before them.

Today, with the stress that has been placed upon television, each and every student at Edgcliff has an opportunity to develop and use his abilities. The facts of the situation point out the need for more co-operation, more unity, more work in groups, with fellow students as well as with those of other colleges.

The Book Beat

By Ellen Rafferty '54

This Lent for your special "pocket" pleasure, we believe Interest in Catholic reading is at an all time high after all. Here are two recent releases that women saints that you might enjoy.

This is both a study in comparison and contrast. Father Bouhour characterizes the "real" life of Mary Magdalene with that of Phryne, the Courtesan. He contrasts the role of the repentant sinner, Mary, with the role of the courtesan, Phryne, thus making the great drama of Simon's banquet. The author describes Mary's devotion to Christ through the eyes of her companions, kneeling before perfumes, but Judas considers this an extravagance.

Dramatic Power

With great dramatic power, Father Bouhour relates the development of Mary's brother, Lazarus, Christ's own brother and his sister, Martha, Mary's devotion during Christ's passion and the meeting of Jesus and Mary on Easter morning.

Mary Magdalene should be read carefully for the author has filled the book with inspiring thought, humor and wit. Illustrated with the paintings of Giotto, El Greco, Titian and many others, the book is one of the most beautiful.

(Continued on Page 3)

The Shifting Scene

By Mary Dineen '54

The world is a big place and the men who shape its destiny have a tendency to seem remote and far-removed from us. Nevertheless, the plans of these men are more closely affecting our day-to-day lives than we realize.

One begins to point out the public responsibility of every citizen who is not a saint himself well in.

First we must learn all that we can about the over-all plans being made for a world on the brink of war and secondly, we must reduce the one to the form in which they affect us as individuals.

Concerning the opinion earlier expressed in this column, Cincinnati is not entirely unaware of the dangers of an all-out war. As far as official organization concerned, much has been done.

Volunteers Needed

The ideal and necessary organizations which will need reinforcement are those set up to combat this problem. Many are being auxiliary forces to our Armed Services. It is the duty of every citizen to cooperate in whatever form in which they affect us as individuals.

The fellows are doing an excellent job and their presence adds much to the show. You really ought to make a special trip down to watch a rehearsal (even though you definitively are coming to the show) and you should appreciate the beauty of the final production ten times more. To see the grandeur in Xavier's football team, the basketball teams or the academic techniques to stage a dance routine; the president of Xavier's student council practicing arts other than drama between his three separate appearances on stage as a nobleman, a dancer and a piano player; and the president of the senior class practicing his sword duel with the leading man, while he in turn rehearses falling on the floor and dying, is worth much more than the price of a round trip ticket.

Elkinism for the production is running high through Edgcliff. Those concerned have been working many hours before and after classes to provide a delightful evening's entertainment for the crowd that is expected to pack the auditorium on February 28. So please make every effort to come and get here early!

The first signs of spring fever have reached the campus and the students are once again commenting on how beautiful a job and the River looks from the wall back of Emery. But other signs of spring not quite so though are also present. The seniors are con templating the fact that soon comprehensives must be studied.

(Continued on Page 4)

DEAN'S LIST

An honor point average of 2.5 or more is required for inclusion on the Dean's List. For the first semester, the names of the following have been released by the Dean's Office:

Freshman Class

O'Brien, Eileen
Phutsho, Mary Ellen
PⒷ, Mary K.
Sebastian, Margaret
Thompson, Judith

Sophomore Class

Donahue, Audrey
Gansche, Joan
Hovell, Elizabeth
Kember, Carolyn
Kempfer, Mary Caryl
Korshu, Irene

Junior Class

Mullan, Patricia
Mitzlaff, Joan
Glaser, Nancy
Korach, Alice

Senior Class

Charteras, Elaine
Crath, Phyllis
Dammarell, Mary
Demings, Joanne
Koehler, Rosemarie
Selbert, Ann
Thompson, Judith

The Book Beat

February 26, 1954

The EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

The EDGECLIFF is the official publication of Our Lady of Cincinnati College, Edgcliff, and is published by the Sisters of Mercy.

Member

Associated Collegiate Press
Ohio College Newspaper Association

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

The EDGECLIFF is the official publication of Our Lady of Cincinnati College, Edgcliff, and is published by the Sisters of Mercy. It appears monthly throughout the school year.

Member

Catholic School Press Association

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF

February 26, 1954

THE EDGECLIFF
Latest Additions To Faculty

By Kathleen Green, Mary Catherine Hughes And Kay Wetzel '56

A wide diversity of reaction and opinion was revealed through interviews with members of the lay faculty who have most recently joined the teaching staff at Edgecliff, one last year and two this year.

Each of the instructors of Our Lady of Cincinnati college. Some things about which Miss Munckner likes best at Edgecliff are its modern atmosphere, beautiful location and the friendly relations between the teachers and students. Miss Munckner stated, "I like the buildings. They are comfortable and luxurious. Then the atmosphere of friendship between the students and teachers which impressed Mr. Josephy Doran strongly at Edgecliff is the congenial friendliness of the faculty and the relationship between the teaching staff and the administrative officers of the college.

Reasons For Teaching

When asked why she became a teacher, Senorita Sanchez, who teaches English and Spanish, said, "It is not only natural that I became a teacher." In so doing she was following in the footsteps of her mother.

"The best thing I have ever done is to teach in a religious school. I think Our Lady of Cincimnati is the best place for any complete preparation for social life and a good foundation for future life as Catholic women," she said.

While the aforementioned instructors are from foreign countries, a member of the English-group, Mr. Doran, hails from a small town in Indiana. "I entered the teaching profession because of its broad scope of interest, although I prefer sociology to any other route," he said.

According to Mr. Doran, "the attitude of the girls at Edgecliff disapproves what many people say about the modern college girl. On the whole, they are interested in the work they do. They are not the type who are apt to exclude students because of their religious background." Educational System In Germany

Dr. Munckner, formerly a teacher at Regensburg, Bavaria, and never teacher of German at Edgecliff, feels that the German school system gives the student a "broader outlook and a tremendous amount of knowledge." In Germany the educational system demands no majors and minors; in fact the students have no choice.

(Continued on Page 4)

Two Professors Attend
Adult Education Confab

The place of television in education today was the topic of a workshop conducted by the Adult Education Council Feb. 5, at which Edgecliff was represented by two faculty members.

Dr. Delmar C. Powell and Mr. Joseph Doran attended the meeting held at the Holy Cross Plaza hotel. Among the issues discussed was the important role that TV can play in community education.

Students Acquire "New Look"

By Mary Catherine Hughes '56

Students are always on the look-out for new fashions. This year there will be new fashions for the Edgecliff girls. The boxes arrived and the contents of the boxes are surprising.

Orders for blazers will again be taken on Jean Briendel on March 1 and 2.

Fathers Invited To Inspect Campus

This year, in addition to the annual spring card party sponsored by the Mothers' club on the afternoon of Wednesday, April 28, there will be that same evening an affair to which the fathers are also invited. These parents who have not visited the campus before, will be permitted to inspect the college.

Mrs. Joseph Cloud has been anounced chairman of the event by Mrs. Richard Piflaun, president of the club. Co-chairman is Mrs. Howard V. Eberst.

Officers of the Mothers' club for this year are: Mrs. A. Gellenbeck, vice-president; Mrs. Edgar Phelps, recording secretary; Mrs. John Thompson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Guntry, treasurer; and Mrs. Joseph Cloud, auditor.

Edgecliffites Enter Debate Tournament

Edgecliff debaters will participate in the Ohio Valley Tournament, sponsored by and held at Xavier university, on Sunday, March 11.

The senior debaters entering this tournament, open to all colleges and universities in the Ohio Valley, are Mary Dammerr, Dolores Donovan, Jean Joyce and Mary Joy Ruther.

Miami university's debating teams traveled to Edgecliff's campus, Feb. 11 for a pair of debates. Our Lady of Cincinnati's affir-matives, represented by Mary Coughlin, ex- enkamp and Marilyn Turner won, while the negative team comprised of Dolores Donovan and Jeanine Gronn, lost.

Father Coughlin Explains Aspects Of A Vocation

"More Marthas and Marys" was the subject of a vocation talk given by Rev. John C. Coughlin, assistant at St. William's. Father Coughlin is a member of the Board of Vocations for the archdiocease.

Six Doctrines On Virgin

Exposed at High Mass

In accordance with the Pope's proclamation of this year as Marian Year, Our Lady of Cin-imnati and neighboring Marian Year observance with a Marian Mass on March 13 to honor the Mother of the Feast of the Purification, Feb. 2 in the college chapel, Father Sherman, O.P., head of the philosophy department, the dean of the seminary, which was sung by the members of the Choral club.

The Mass of the Marian Year was preached by Father Sherman, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Cincinnati. He began from the fundamental ideas of the church until this year and while it is unchangeable, it is ever vital, dynamic and progressive in its moral influence on the life of man. Father Sherman urged the members of the seminary to "translate these doctrines for their own lives from six basic teachings of the Church controlled in the life of the Church, namely her Immaculate Conception, her Immaculate Conception, her Divine Maternity, her Asumption, her Coronation in Heaven and her Personification as the Mediatrix of all graces.

After stiching the sign of the cross, Father Sherman said, "In their order, Father Sherman summed up the spirit of the Marian Year and of the Marian Mass, when he concluded in declaring, "fulfill these doctrines into living guides and patterns of life and in this way your own lives, our sweethe's and our hope.

Book Review

(Continued from Page 2) ful of all the biographies of Mary Magdalene. Second, "The Philomena: by Sister Marie Helen Mohr, S.C., Bruce Publishing company, Milwaukee, 1953.

Devotion to St. Philomena, the girl martyr, has grown increasably since the discovery of her bones in the Roman catacombs in May, 1867. Sister Marie Mohr has done much to inspire greater devotion to this girl martyr in America by this biography.

Revelations Of St. Philomena

The book contains the story of St. Philip na, the girl martyr, as it was revealed to three different persons, the Latin text, and an English translation. The book was published in 1869.

The same year of the revelation, the Pope's Publications for the Marian Year observance, the papal encyclicals and other materials were published.

ALUMNAE NOTE

In May, the first Alumnae Magazine will be published. In submission of the magazine, all alumnae will be included, listed according to graduation years. Ten percent of alumnae contributing to the fund raising campaign to aid the College of Saint Rose.
New Arches Give Support, Added Beauty To Library
By Betty Gelleneck '55
The new modern library building at Edgcliff is beginning to take shape. Its skeletal form composed of several large arches provides a modern touch to the library, which you will see if you glance which says about it.

The new structure reveals some interesting facts about it.

Developed During War
It was during the war that the country's steel capacity fell far short of demand and the engineers, faced with the huge plants for war industries, were gone. The engineers, faced with the huge plants for war industries, were gone.

The economy of the new building is now in evidence. In lumber for heavy construction.

Selective placing of the laminae adds many decided advantages. Laminae glued end to end and side by side in comparison with solid lumber, laminae have many decided advantages. laminate is stiffer and stronger than solid lumber of equal dimensions. Material for the laminate is more readily available, and can be made under smaller plants for some of which, log-trimming operations are entirely hand-operated.

Therapist Shows Special Techniques
Sociology students will be addressed by Miss Alice Ann Meagor, speech and hearing therapist of the Cincinnati public school system, at a meeting Thursday, March 5. The speaker will give a personal account of her work with children.

At the February meeting of the Sociology club, Miss Ruth Weller, a 1948 alumna of Edgcliff, told the members about the work in the Youth Aid bureau of the Police department. She emphasized the importance of home influence either as a cause or a prevention of delinquency.

Essay Contest Stresses Latin American Politics
"Political Trends in Latin America" is the subject of the fourth annual essay contest sponsored by the Latin American Studies group of Catholic University of America. Essays submitted should be less than 5,000 words. The deadline for the contest is May 5, 1954. A prize of $100 will be presented to the writer of the best paper.

On Stage
"Golden Helmet—French...Franz...Fritz..." and "Julius Caesar" were two plays which had an extreme popularity in the spring. The French Play was put on by Kappa Gamma Pi, honorary sorority, and the Latin Play by the Phi Kappa Gamma fraternity. Both Maureen and Dorothy chose Shakespeare as one of their fields of concentration in English.

Mr. Shea Speaks To Salesian Guild
Mr. James M. Shea, associate editor of the Catholic Telegraph-Register, speaker on "St. Francis of Assisi—Man of the World," was the guest at the Annual Communion—breakfast and meeting held recently in Cincinnati. Dorothy also majored in English, graduating summa cum laude from Miami University with a B.A. degree in Latin American Studies in 1950. The contest was sponsored by the Edgcliff Student Council.

Mr. Shea, in his speech, pointed out that the Catholic press should be a continuing or graduate course in our religion. Thus it gives us the "skeleton" of our faith and social studies.

The participation of the college and "another Korea." The participation of the college and the Department of Latin American Studies in the contest was a result of the effort of the group to encourage interest in the Latin American countries. The Catholic press, thus aiding its growth and power.

The greatest weakness in education in the United States is "lack of knowledge concerning the geography and history of other countries, particularly South America," stated Senator Barnard of Argentina.

On the other hand, Dr. Muncker, a native of Germany, believes that, "education ranks as the major weakness in the American schools." --

The contest is sponsored by the National Catholic Student Association.

No one can be a teacher of the language of the countries which the students are learning unless he has a genuine interest in them and their history. Dr. Muncker stated.

Mr. Shea, in his speech, pointed out that the Catholic press should be a continuing or graduate course in our religion. Thus it gives us the "skeleton" of our faith and social studies.

The participation of the college and "another Korea." The participation of the college and the Department of Latin American Studies in the contest was a result of the effort of the group to encourage interest in the Latin American countries. The Catholic press, thus aiding its growth and power.

The greatest weakness in education in the United States is "lack of knowledge concerning the geography and history of other countries, particularly South America," stated Senator Barnard of Argentina.

On the other hand, Dr. Muncker, a native of Germany, believes that, "education ranks as the major weakness in the American schools." --

The contest is sponsored by the National Catholic Student Association.

No one can be a teacher of the language of the countries which the students are learning unless he has a genuine interest in them and their history. Dr. Muncker stated.

Mr. Shea, in his speech, pointed out that the Catholic press should be a continuing or graduate course in our religion. Thus it gives us the "skeleton" of our faith and social studies.

The participation of the college and "another Korea." The participation of the college and the Department of Latin American Studies in the contest was a result of the effort of the group to encourage interest in the Latin American countries. The Catholic press, thus aiding its growth and power.

The greatest weakness in education in the United States is "lack of knowledge concerning the geography and history of other countries, particularly South America," stated Senator Barnard of Argentina.

On the other hand, Dr. Muncker, a native of Germany, believes that, "education ranks as the major weakness in the American schools." --

The contest is sponsored by the National Catholic Student Association.

No one can be a teacher of the language of the countries which the students are learning unless he has a genuine interest in them and their history. Dr. Muncker stated.