1957-10-25

Edgecliff Student Newspaper

Edgecliff College - Cincinnati

Follow this and additional works at: http://www.exhibit.xavier.edu/edgecliff_newspaper

Recommended Citation

http://www.exhibit.xavier.edu/edgecliff_newspaper/126

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals, Publications, Conferences, and Proceedings at Exhibit. It has been accepted for inclusion in Edgecliff College Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Exhibit. For more information, please contact exhibit@xavier.edu.
Premiere Dedication Features Choral Club At Music Hall

Window Model, Marjorie Kaiser, senior member of the choral club, stands with Judy Monte, as she poses in Jones Florist window on McMillan avenue.

Junior Captures Title Role In Fall Production of 'Emma'

Three consecutive romances and their accompanying complications form the main conflict of Edgcliff's first fall production, "Emma", which will be presented Sunday evening, Nov. 17, at 8:15 p.m. in the college auditorium.

Emma Elton is the match-maker who tries to plan a suitable marriage for her protege, Harriet. Robert Martin, a farmer, is the first suitor; the second, Mr. Elton, is a highly respected minister and Mr. Knightley, another suitor, is Robert's landlord. Emma herself gets involved when one of the suitors misinterprets her actions. An unexpected twist climaxes the three-act play.

This adaptation of "Emma" was written by Dr. John Hallauer as part of his doctoral dissertation. The first results of his efforts were seen in a trial showing recently given at Bowling Green university.

"What, what shall I do?" pleads Emma, Theresa Stave, while many more students as they practice for the fall play.

Edgcliff's Choral Club has been given the honor of participating in two outstanding November events. The first is "The World Premiere of "Mass for the Popes" which will be presented in honor of the rededication of the cathedral, St. Peter in Chains. A predominate feature of the renovated cathedral is the bell tower, which holds the bells from the old St. Peter's plus twelve new ones from Holland, named in honor of the Agostini.

World Expert Guest Speaker At IRC Meeting

Professor Arthur Newell, senior lecturer of the British American Associates, and holder of the John Winant Lecture-Fellowship in British-American Understanding and Cooperation, will be guest speaker at the International Relations club supper meeting, Nov. 9.

The British-American Associates is an organization founded to foster British-American understanding and cooperation.

Professor Newell is noted for his ability to present objectively a balanced view of the many and complicated world problems which perplex thinking people on both sides of the Atlantic. Educated at Brown university and Harvard graduate school, he is well-known in Britain, not only as senior lecturer of the Associates, but also for his work during World War II as founder and president of the American Outpost in Great Britain and joint chairman of the London International Assembly. Before going to England in 1931, he was for some years professor of international relations and history at Robert College, Istanbul, Turkey.

Through all Professor Newell's talks run the thread of the American relations as a unique factor in the critical post-war situation.
Driving Ahead On The School Road

THE EDGECLIFF
October 25, 1957

Educate The Public

Where will your child go to school? Why, in 1955, will so many students be turned away from our schools and colleges? And, most importantly, why is so little being done to remedy the situation?

The solution to our educational problem is an expression of an unfortunate attitude in America today. This is the satisfaction with the mediocre. There are not adequate facilities in the way of classrooms and lab equipment to train the youth of the country. Good teachers are becoming increasingly scarce because the pay of teachers is too low to support a family. But the root of these problems is the result of the mental attitude of Americans.

Older generations are not confronted daily with these overcrowded conditions and thus do not fully realize the situation. The student, who should be the real crusader, is satisfied to sit complacently by and contemplate how lucky he is to be graduating soon and—why bother with others? This indifference is a direct result of the willingness to take what is given us with no thought of, and consequently no end to, returning these advantages to others. We could and should bring to others the realization of the meaning of an adequate education. Before we can expect better results, before we can point with pride to American schools, before any of this, we—the students of today—must bring to the public an understanding of our educational needs.

Plunge Now To Seek Truth

Who is the Enthusiastic Scholar?

The last year or two have seen an amazing volume of The Edgecliff pursue a traditional editorial. The editorialist must ring of

"why out of our conventional routine to another. Under the banner of Catholic youth they believe group of students in college gently pursuing knowledge.

The Editors, out of our dateline haze, and make an attempt to realize what our words could possibly mean to a

Will we Fill Our Roles?

The students have apparently set a unique stage on campus. They have done this by creating a continual scene of and the scholarship we should build with Him?

Catholic activity in their class acts from one yearly location

Collegians that we are here to pursue knowledge and truth?

we going to choose to express our ideas about the Divine

"Why

"shall never achieve the true dramatic form unless we strike

out of our dateline haze, and make an attempt to realize what our words could possibly mean to a

Will we Fill Our Roles?

The students have apparently set a unique stage on campus. They have done this by creating a continual scene of

Catholic activity in their class acts from one yearly location

Collegians that we are here to pursue knowledge and truth?

we going to choose to express our ideas about the Divine

"Why

"shall never achieve the true dramatic form unless we strike

out of our dateline haze, and make an attempt to realize what our words could possibly mean to a

Will we Fill Our Roles?

The students have apparently set a unique stage on campus. They have done this by creating a continual scene of

Catholic activity in their class acts from one yearly location

Collegians that we are here to pursue knowledge and truth?

we going to choose to express our ideas about the Divine

"Why

"shall never achieve the true dramatic form unless we strike

out of our dateline haze, and make an attempt to realize what our words could possibly mean to a from the more than 50 colleges and universities here in Ohio is being held and exchanged.

According to a six-member Commission on Domestic Policies in Athens, Ohio, future students bodies will face the present over-all situation which is the historic inaging of the colleges and universities in the state. The five record-breaking enrollments from creating a more serious problem, expansion programs are getting under way on many college campuses.

Ohio University in Athens will soon be boasting a new fine house and an engineering annex. A special feature of the field house is its ability to be converted into a skating rink for the students. The member from Groundwork has also been laid for a student center in the campus—the new Life Science Building which will house the biology, botany, zoology and bacteriology departments.

The parking problem seems to be invading other college campuses too. Not only are more students being provided, but university police forces are being trained for more efficient patrolling of parking areas. A 46-car park lot is being opened at the University of Cincinnati at a cost of $50,000. Parking around John Carroll's campus may become a pay-by-day arrangement in the near future because of the lack of space. (Edgecliff daily drivers, please note.)

The largest foreign enrollment from the more than 50 colleges and universities here in Ohio is being held and exchanged.

According to a six-member Commission on Domestic Policies in Athens, Ohio, future students bodies will face the present over-all situation which is the historic inaging of the colleges and universities in the state. The five record-breaking enrollments from creating a more serious problem, expansion programs are getting under way on many college campuses.

Ohio University in Athens will soon be boasting a new fine house and an engineering annex. A special feature of the field house is its ability to be converted into a skating rink for the students. The member from Groundwork has also been laid for a student center in the campus—the new Life Science Building which will house the biology, botany, zoology and bacteriology departments.

The parking problem seems to be invading other college campuses too. Not only are more students being provided, but university police forces are being trained for more efficient patrolling of parking areas. A 46-car park lot is being opened at the University of Cincinnati at a cost of $50,000. Parking around John Carroll's campus may become a pay-by-day arrangement in the near future because of the lack of space. (Edgecliff daily drivers, please note.)

The largest foreign enrollment from the more than 50 colleges and universities here in Ohio is being held and exchanged.

According to a six-member Commission on Domestic Policies in Athens, Ohio, future students bodies will face the present over-all situation which is the historic inaging of the colleges and universities in the state. The five record-breaking enrollments from creating a more serious problem, expansion programs are getting under way on many college campuses.

Ohio University in Athens will soon be boasting a new fine house and an engineering annex. A special feature of the field house is its ability to be converted into a skating rink for the students. The member from Groundwork has also been laid for a student center in the campus—the new Life Science Building which will house the biology, botany, zoology and bacteriology departments.

The parking problem seems to be invading other college campuses too. Not only are more students being provided, but university police forces are being trained for more efficient patrolling of parking areas. A 46-car park lot is being opened at the University of Cincinnati at a cost of $50,000. Parking around John Carroll's campus may become a pay-by-day arrangement in the near future because of the lack of space. (Edgecliff daily drivers, please note.)

The largest foreign enrollment from the more than 50 colleges and universities here in Ohio is being held and exchanged.

According to a six-member Commission on Domestic Policies in Athens, Ohio, future students bodies will face the present over-all situation which is the historic inaging of the colleges and universities in the state. The five record-breaking enrollments from creating a more serious problem, expansion programs are getting under way on many college campuses.

Ohio University in Athens will soon be boasting a new fine house and an engineering annex. A special feature of the field house is its ability to be converted into a skating rink for the students. The member from Groundwork has also been laid for a student center in the campus—the new Life Science Building which will house the biology, botany, zoology and bacteriology departments.

The parking problem seems to be invading other college campuses too. Not only are more students being provided, but university police forces are being trained for more efficient patrolling of parking areas. A 46-car park lot is being opened at the University of Cincinnati at a cost of $50,000. Parking around John Carroll's campus may become a pay-by-day arrangement in the near future because of the lack of space. (Edgecliff daily drivers, please note.)

The largest foreign enrollment from the more than 50 colleges and universities here in Ohio is being held and exchanged.

According to a six-member Commission on Domestic Policies in Athens, Ohio, future students bodies will face the present over-all situation which is the historic inaging of the colleges and universities in the state. The five record-breaking enrollments from creating a more serious problem, expansion programs are getting under way on many college campuses.

Ohio University in Athens will soon be boasting a new fine house and an engineering annex. A special feature of the field house is its ability to be converted into a skating rink for the students. The member from Groundwork has also been laid for a student center in the campus—the new Life Science Building which will house the biology, botany, zoology and bacteriology departments.

The parking problem seems to be invading other college campuses too. Not only are more students being provided, but university police forces are being trained for more efficient patrolling of parking areas. A 46-car park lot is being opened at the University of Cincinnati at a cost of $50,000. Parking around John Carroll's campus may become a pay-by-day arrangement in the near future because of the lack of space. (Edgecliff daily drivers, please note.)

The largest foreign enrollment from the more than 50 colleges and universities here in Ohio is being held and exchanged.

According to a six-member Commission on Domestic Policies in Athens, Ohio, future students bodies will face the present over-all situation which is the historic inaging of the colleges and universities in the state. The five record-breaking enrollments from creating a more serious problem, expansion programs are getting under way on many college campuses.

Ohio University in Athens will soon be boasting a new fine house and an engineering annex. A special feature of the field house is its ability to be converted into a skating rink for the students. The member from Groundwork has also been laid for a student center in the campus—the new Life Science Building which will house the biology, botany, zoology and bacteriology departments.

The parking problem seems to be invading other college campuses too. Not only are more students being provided, but university police forces are being trained for more efficient patrolling of parking areas. A 46-car park lot is being opened at the University of Cincinnati at a cost of $50,000. Parking around John Carroll's campus may become a pay-by-day arrangement in the near future because of the lack of space. (Edgecliff daily drivers, please note.)

The largest foreign enrollment from the more than 50 colleges and universities here in Ohio is being held and exchanged.
No Double Trouble for these happy dads although each has two daughters in the Edgecliff student body. They are Mr. John Thorpe with daughters, Helen and Joanne; Mr. William J. Dammarell with daughters, Jane and Sue; and Mr. Benjamin Kipp with daughters, Charlotte and Mary Judith.

No Double Trouble

Fathers View Environment Of Daughters’ Student Life

The Arts and Us

The Theater Season for 1957-58 promises to be bright and exciting. Current Broadway hits, old favorites and pre-New York productions dot the calendar at the Shubert. Although more productions than I have listed will be presented, the following cross section of Theater Guild efforts is eagerly awaited. Also included are ratings from The Sign.

The Happiest Millionaire is a farce exuding rambunctious com- and exciting. Current Broadway hits, old favorites and pre-New York productions dot the calendar at the Shubert. Although more productions than I have listed will be presented, the following cross section of Theater Guild efforts is eagerly awaited. Also included are ratings from The Sign.

The Happiest Millionaire is a farce exuding rambunctious com- and exciting. Current Broadway hits, old favorites and pre-New York productions dot the calendar at the Shubert. Although more productions than I have listed will be presented, the following cross section of Theater Guild efforts is eagerly awaited. Also included are ratings from The Sign.

The Happiest Millionaire is a farce exuding rambunctious com- and exciting. Current Broadway hits, old favorites and pre-New York productions dot the calendar at the Shubert. Although more productions than I have listed will be presented, the following cross section of Theater Guild efforts is eagerly awaited. Also included are ratings from The Sign.

The Happiest Millionaire is a farce exuding rambunctious com- and exciting. Current Broadway hits, old favorites and pre-New York productions dot the calendar at the Shubert. Although more productions than I have listed will be presented, the following cross section of Theater Guild efforts is eagerly awaited. Also included are ratings from The Sign.

The Happiest Millionaire is a farce exuding rambunctious com- and exciting. Current Broadway hits, old favorites and pre-New York productions dot the calendar at the Shubert. Although more productions than I have listed will be presented, the following cross section of Theater Guild efforts is eagerly awaited. Also included are ratings from The Sign.