Awards Recognize Students Whose Merits Are Outstanding

The Edgecliff College community elected students and faculty members in the various honor societies, to be formally announced on Monday, May 14.

KAPPA GAMMA PI
Charlotte Marie Boehman, Bonita Ann Burke, Mary Ann Casin, Patricia Devos, Catherine Oddly, Leslie Ruwe Hannan, Jeannie Iding, Karen Marie Krug, Barbara Lou Loth, Rose Marie Miller, Kathleen Maria Montag, and Margaret M. Staun.

PHI CHI
Susanne Rose Kunkel, Kathy Ann Lange, Stephanie Ann Taylor, and Wendaekinzelman.

PI DELTA EPSILON
Laura Carr and Margaret Wetzer.

Good Visits
French Alps
Mary Trechsel, a Junior Art major, will be spending a month near Grenoble, France, this summer. She will be living in the village of Villard de Lans, in the picturesque Alpine country, the scene of the Winter Olympics a few years ago.

Mary will be completing, in independent study, a drawing course for which she will get credit. Credit will be half the hours she devotes to her drawing.

Mary plans to devote most of her time during the week to drawing and spend the weekends touring.

The town where Mary will live is a typical southern French village. The village square is surrounded by small sidewalk cafés where the townspople gather every evening.

Villard de Lans is near enough to Rome, Paris and Switzerland for weekend excursions.

The people of the village like Mary and her fellow students and help students learn the language and history of their area.

They were the center of the Resistance during World War II and the inhabitants remember the days of terror during which they hid in mountain caves from the German troops.

Senior Comments
On Past and Plan for Future
As this year draws to an end, many seniors have recorded their feelings on questionnaires sent to them. The Encountery presents their thoughts and some of their future plans as they have revealed them.

Future Brides
Margie Staun to Bill Ernst, July 1973.
Cheryl Verkamp to Jim Eichmann, July 22.
Julie Nipper to Donald Kruze, no date has been set.
Mary Charlynn, Sister, to Michael Ferris, May 27.
S. M. E. to Michael Meadows, August 18.
Constance Brockert to Gary Tomman, no date has been set.
Lumi Nishio to Donald Fucha, June 10.

Travel
Several seniors will be traveling this summer near and far to visit or live in various parts of the world. Margie Staun plans to visit California or Michigan this summer and to spend her honeymoon touring Europe. Lumi Nishio wants to spend her honeymoon in Japan and a short trip to Hawaii. One adventure-some senior intends to take a trip to Europe this summer. Mary Ann Cassin is planning a trip to Colorado River in July and July the Shakespearean Festival held in Connecticut.

Rosanne Fels is looking forward to returning home to Montgomery to teach some seniors plan to visit the Bahamas, than Hawaii. Emily Rome and Mary Winter also plans to tour Europe from June 16-July 17.

Mary Skeel intends to study in England during the month of July, while Ly Ann Frolich tours several Asian countries. Leslie Hannan heads south to her husband stationed in the Panama Canal Zone.

Professions
For a number of seniors, the beginning step toward a future full of promise. Ly Ann Frolich will be entering the Ph.D. program in Oriental Philosophy at Harvard University in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Mary Casin plans to work at the University of Cincinnati's College of Community Sciences, and work for the Hamilton County Welfare Department. Both Susan Van Fleet and Peppie Rooks plans to teach English and inter-preter for Procter & Gamble in Cincinnati. Teaching or interpreting in the inner city schools is the goal of Gretz Zarata. Theresa Rohrs will tutor at the School of Nursing and possibly continue her education at either the University of Cincinnati or Xavier University. Leslie Hannan is looking forward to teaching on the military base in Panama.

Mary Winter plans to teach Home Economics on the Jr. or Sr. High School level, while Rosanne Fels plans to return to Camp Lejune, North Carolina, to teach.

Lumi Nishio looks forward to a career as a translator and interpreter for Procter & Gamble in Cincinnati. Teaching or interpreting in the inner city schools is the goal of Gretz Zarata. Theresa Rohrs will tutor at the School of Nursing and possibly continue her education at either the University of Cincinnati or Xavier University. Leslie Hannan is looking forward to teaching on the military base in Panama.

Mary Winter plans to teach Home Economics on the Jr. or Sr. High School level, while Rosanne Fels plans to return to Camp Lejune, North Carolina, to teach.

Kathleen Maria Montag
Among the graduating seniors, these two will receive highest honors: Kathleen Maria Montag (left), magna cum laude, and Rose Marie Miller (right), cumma cum laude.

Father Alfred Stritch
Two honorary degrees will be presented at the thirty-seventh annual commencement of Edgecliff College on Sunday, May 14. The two recipients are Dr. Mario Montessori and the Reverend Alfred G. Stritch.

The degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honorary, will be awarded to the Reverend Alfred G. Stritch, M.A., who is retiring this year as Chairman of the History department at Edgecliff.

Father Stritch has been teaching in the History department for the past thirty-seven years. His scholarly pursuits over the years have been broad and varied. During the past year, for example, he was instrumental in preparing a history of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati, to be published in the Catholic Telegraph.

He will receive his citation at 3:30 p.m. in the Garden Room. Bring your own bottle. Soft drinks and snacks will be provided. Families are invited. For more information contact Kay Brogie, 321-4460.

Dr. Warren G. Bennis President University of Cincinnati Dr. Warren Bennis will be delivering Edgecliff's commencement address on Sunday, May 14. Dr. Bennis became the fourteenth President of the University of Cincinnati on September 1, 1971. He is an internationally recognized scholar of organizational behavior and a leading educator, who has taught at several of the nation's leading universities. He has also published 14 books and over 200 articles. Dr. Bennis has served on President Nixon's White House Task Force on Science Policy and former President Johnson appointed him to the Advisory Committee of the Federal Execu- tive Institute and the Federal Judicial Center. Warren Bennis received his bachelor's degree in business at Antioch College, attended the London School of Eco- nomics for advanced graduate work in economic theory, and received his Ph.D. in social sci- ences and economics from M.I.T.
Dear Seniors:

We at THE EDGECLIFF, along with the faculty, students, and administration, wish to say 'good-bye' to you as you make your exit from Edgecliff. From your comments we find that the years you have spent here (whether one or twelve) have proved to be profitable in many ways. During your stay, Our Lady of Cincinnati has become Edgecliff and with this change came others which hopefully will continue to improve and expand the sights of the college. In this way we will insure the allure of Edgecliff . . . the Promise of a Future.

Our good wishes go with you on May 14, but we also think and hope that those who remain at Edgecliff will continue to advance with change and make each successive class of seniors another one to be proud of.

L. C. and M. W.

Get Well

Students and faculty at Edgecliff College wish to extend get well wishes to Rick Knapp and Joan Meister.

Theatre

Edgecliff Theatre Plans Annual Summer Festival

For a number of years, Edgecliff has been presenting a Summer Theatre Festival that brings quality music and drama to the summer theatre in Cincinnati. These shows for this season are Arsenic and Old Lace, by George Abbott; Puckeyst, and H. M. S. Pinafore. All promise to be as entertaining as previous productions. Arsenic and Old Lace, the murder comedy about two little old ladies who kill anyone they happen to open the season on June 14 and run until June 28 in the indoor, air-conditioned theatre. The Friday midnight shows will be repeated this year for Arsenic and Old Lace, as well as the other in show door, The Odd and the Puanyer. This is a comedy which will be performed from June 28 until July 9.

The Festival's outdoor show for this year is the well-known Gilbert and Sullivan operaetta, H. M. S. Pinafore. For a small fee a delicious dinner will be served to the audience in the open air at their stage-side tables, Beer and prestidigitation will be a part of the show. The operaetta will be presented from July 14 until July 28.

For ticket information or information concerning the Pumper Theatre Apprentices Program, call the Edgecliff Theatre Box Office, 961-4070.

CLASIC GUITAR

AT EDGECLIFF SUMMER SESSION

June 15 to July 28, 1972

This exciting six-week course will present the guitarist with an introduction to classic guitar. This is a one-credit course.

Prerequisite: At least a basic music reading knowledge on the first three chords presented in this course.

Time of class: To be arranged after all registrations have been received.

The student will be taught to play classic pieces of some of the recognized composers of the present day—Agarita, Canotil, Sor, Giuliani. The student will be presented to the student according to his own previous music knowledge.

For further information, please write to:

Music Department

Director of Music

Cincinnati State College

P.O. Box 4800

Cincinnati, Ohio 45209

or call Sister Mary Joelle, R.S.M. (961-3770)

Expense Tuition (non-refundable for audit or credit) $45.00, payable in full at time of registration.

Registration for Regular Summer Session: June 14, 8-12 noon.

Classes for Regular Summer Session begin June 19 and end July 28.

Sympathy

The Edgecliff College community extends its sympathy to Mary Margaret Rest on the recent death of her father.
Festival Will Feature The Edgedill Chorus

Edgedill’s own chorus will present the Phenomenal Cincinnati May Music Festival on May 20, 21, and 22 at Music Hall. On Friday and Saturday the program will consist of two major concerts, Julius Rudel, is conducting his Melody Lovers. The program features "The Bancroft of Notre Dame," a stock opera by Richard Darien. The Sunday afternoon concert will be a celebration of the Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music. This year’s chorus is composed of one thousand members. Other nationally acclaimed choirs will participate in the festival. Among the choirs participating are the Boston University Chorus, the University of Michigan Chorus, the University of Illinois Chorus, and the University of California Chorus. The festival will conclude on Sunday evening with a performance of "The Messiah" by Handel, conducted by Julius Rudel. The festival will conclude with a performance of "The Messiah" by Handel, conducted by Julius Rudel. The festival will conclude with a performance of "The Messiah" by Handel, conducted by Julius Rudel. The festival will conclude with a performance of "The Messiah" by Handel, conducted by Julius Rudel. The festival will conclude with a performance of "The Messiah" by Handel, conducted by Julius Rudel.
Executive Board Initiates Activities For 1972-73

On May 1, Peggy Gregiel, Sue Gourley, Kathy Doyle and Sue Campbell became the Executive Board of Student Government for the year 1972-73.

Plans for next year include a re-evaluation of the present system of Student Government. As the need arises, resources will be shifted to assure a more efficient and effective level of Student Government programs. Peggy stresses the need for using the potential of each individual member of the college.

In conjunction with this re-evaluation process, Sue Gourley will head an investigation into the effectiveness of the club and committee system. There is a possibility of revamping and/or combining committees to insure more effective operation. They will also discuss the possibilities of cooperative efforts by students and community groups, and work toward a Wattie line, prospective freshmen were contacted in their upperclassman states (including elected by each floor).

This spring meeting will feature evaluation of the present system, and Treasurer were elected.

Environmental issues were discussed, and the importance of every member of this membership that the effectiveness of the clubs and revamping and/or combining committees to insure more effective student-teacher relationships is to schedule periodic departmental meetings with faculty and students.

Sue Campbell and Kathy Doyle both stressed that their duties to Student Government are more than mechanical. Both plan to be active members of Student Government and take part in special projects, committee work, etc. Peggy added that Sue Campbell plays an important role in keeping the students informed about Student Government.

All of the newly-elected officers are looking forward to the unknown challenges of 1972-73 year school.

From Prom Draws Couple To Riverfront Inn

Holiday Inn, Riverfront, was the scene of Edgcliff's Prom on the night of April 20. From 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. the couples listened and danced to the beat of "The Wanderlust." Was it a success? Everyone present was a member of the Social Committee, the whole affair went over quite well. The "room was set at a reasonable price and the people there seemed to be quite pleasant to work with." Furthermore, this was the first year that there actually was some profit gained.

The direct coordinators of the prom were Linda Weller and Mary Jo Stegeman. Linda also thought that the dance went over favorably. She felt that the band was good and the room was nice, though somewhat stuffy. Eyed the futures, Linda believes that a change of attitude would draw even more Edgcliff students to this event if it were labeled a "spring formal." She reasons that too many people have one set idea of what the prom is and that the Edgcliff Prom is not like that. She feels that the prom should be a success and those involved hope that next year will be an even greater one.

Temple Honors College President With Award

Sister Jane Kirchnich, president of Edgcliff College; Father Paul O'Conner, president of Xavier University; and Dr. Walter A. Langsam, president emeritus of the University of Cincinnati, were honored Friday, May 12, at 8:15 p.m. at Plum Street Temple, Eighth and Plum Streets, at the annual Good Neighbor Award of Isaac M. Wise Temple.

The awards are made to those who have brought the college or university community and who have brought the community together.

These three presidents have served during difficult days of student unrest. Sister Albert Goodman explained.

Advisor Travels to Institute

Sister Patricia Contos, advisor to The Edgcliff and member of the English department, recently received a grant from The Newspaper Fund, Inc., to attend a summer institute on the teaching of journalism. This institute is one of four held annually in various parts of the country by the fund which is supported by The Wall Street Journal.

Sister Patricia will travel to Muncie, Indiana, to Ball State College, the site of the institute for this area. Some twenty college and high school teachers of journalism from this area will submit papers that will receive expert advice from the institute. This is an opportunity to ask questions about the elements of good student journalism.

Students Attend State Convention

The 5th Annual Convention of the Ohio Home Economics Association was held March 17 and 18 at Otterbein College. Approximately 400 professionals and students attended.

The students from Edgcliff were Cheryl Vanreep, Mary Kay Winters, Susan Walsh, Sister Donna Brown, Mary Jane Gabel, Melanie Ondash and Toatee Von Room and Linda Trapp.

During the two days, discussions were held. The Keynote Address was on "Women, Education, and the Future," given by Dr. Ashley Montagu.

Tourists Visit Distant Island

by Helen Free

Several students from Edgcliff College spent their Easter weekend at the University of Cincinnati. The trip was sponsored by the World Action Group of Xavier University. So many students enjoyed the trip last year that we decided to try it again this year. One hundred thirty-eight students went on the trip.

Transportation and to the Distant Island included accommodations, customs tax and international transportation tax totaled $140.00. The students spent about ten days in the Bahamas in one of the most exclusive hotels, the Ward Island.

Last year's trip was sponsored by the Student Action Club. Miss Miyar went as chaperone.

The experience was wonderful, especially the beautiful beaches, bargaining at shops, nightlife, and dining. Miss Miyar said, "We danced all night and lived on the beach all day."

The Internationalaussa was a big attraction with shops of different nationalities: French, German, Spanish.

"We really enjoyed meeting the natives," says Nancy. "They showed us all around the island and we bought lots of souvenirs."